WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two years of intensive crimes—kidnapings and bank robbery—appear to be disappearing from the American scene.

Underworld apparently has such ventures unwholesome. Jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation by the act of 1932 and Federal bank robbery act of 1932.

Two of the 256 kidnapings investigated by the FBI in 1932 remain unsolved. In these—the kidnaping of Fletcher Mattson on Dec. 27, 1936, at Tacoma,

Final Judgment Awaited by the AP

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Associated Press board of directors has issued this statement:

"At its meeting on October 19 the board gave extended consideration to the decision of the statutory court in the government's case against the Associated Press. The court has directed that the submit a proposed form of judgment to the Associated Press. The Associated Press then has 30 days thereafter in which to submit counter-proposals. Only after this will be the final form of the judgment be known and will it be possible to determine future procedure.

In view of the fact that the opinion of the court includes a stay until 60 days after the judgment has been entered, the board has been advised by counsel that no rights are prejudiced by this course of action."

In a two to one decision here on October 6, a special three-judge federal court upheld the right of the Associated Press to pass upon the admission of applicants, but ruled that "in their present form" the news-gathering cooperative's by-laws relative to admissions violated the anti-trust laws.

The suit was filed by the government 14 months previously in an effort to compel the Associated Press to open its membership rolls

Today on the Home Front

by James Marlow and George Ziehe

SALEM, Oct. 21—(AP)—Two proposed reclamation projects to raise food for war use—the east Long Tom project in Lane county and the Crooked river project in Deschutes county—have been rejected by the federal bureau of reclamation, Sen. Rufus C. Holman (R-Ore.) advised the state post-war commission.

The bureau of reclamation rejected the east Long Tom project on grounds that 80 per cent of the residents of the vicinity of the project oppose it. The project would have reclaimed 4000 acres and would have been completed in 1945.

The Crooked river project was rejected because it would involve expenditure of critical materials, particularly irrigation pumps and electrical equipment. This project, which would be completed in three years, would irrigate 22,700 acres.

John W. Kelly, post-war commission secretary, said that two other war food projects would be constructed. They are the Bully creek project, near Vale, which would irrigate 5000 acres and cost $1,650,000, and the extensions to the Deschutes project.

What To Do When Finding Ration Book

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The office of price administration announced that finders of a lost ration book may simply drop it in the mail without postage or envelope.

It said the postoffice department has agreed to deliver books to the owner on payment of five cents postage due. They will be forwarded to the nearest war price and rationing board when owners cannot be located.

Other war food projects would be constructed. They are the Bully creek project, near Vale, which would irrigate 5000 acres and cost $1,650,000, and the extensions to the Deschutes project.

Julia says—Let the Children Cook

LAST MONTH, in one of these columns, I talked about the way youngsters like to put up their own school lunches. And, to tell the truth, I was amazed at the number of readers—both young and old—who wrote me afterward. Almost everyone was quick to point out that the younger generation not only likes to pack lunches, but also gets real satisfaction from various kinds of practical cooking.

More than one reader added this very timely thought: nowadays, when so many mothers are busy with war work, it's a real family help when the children take an active part in making the kitchen run smoothly. It gives them the feeling of "doing something" important, too.

I've found through my own experience that youngsters make creditable cooks provided they're not hurried and provided they start out on things they really like. For example, boys can handle this one enthusiastically and skillfully, right off the bat:

WAFFLES AND PANCAKES 2 cups enriched flour 1/2 cup milk 2 tps. baking powder 2 eggs 1 1/2 cups milk 4 tbsps. melted shortening 2 tbsps. sugar

Sift flour, measure; sift again with baking powder, sugar and salt. Beat eggs in large bowl with rotary beater; add milk and shortening; beat until well mixed. Add flour mixture and beat with rotary beater until smooth.

For Waffles: Bake in hot waffle iron about five minutes or until no more "steam" escapes and waffles are a golden brown. Do not "peek" while baking. Makes six 6-inch waffles.

For Pancakes: Drop batter by tablespoonfuls on hot, slightly greased griddles. Turn cakes when bubbles break. Bake until golden brown. Makes 10 to 12 medium-sized pancakes (4 inches in diameter).

(NOTE: For the pancake recipe, eggs may be reduced to one and shortening to two tablespoonfuls.) And these are a "natural" for girls to start out on:

BONNIE DEE COOKIES 2 cups enriched flour 1 cup seedless raisins 1/2 cup soda 1 cup coarsely chopped nuts 1 tsp. baking powder 3/4 cup shortening 1/2 cup brown sugar 2 eggs 2 cups quick oats 1/2 cup milk

Sift flour, measure and sift with dry ingredients; add oats, raisins and nuts. Cream shortening with sugar; add well-beaten eggs and milk; combine with flour mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 12 to 15 min. Makes 6 dozen.

MYSTERY OF THE MISSING SOMETHING

THIS LOOKS LIKE COFFEE—IT SMELLS LIKE COFFEE—IT TASTES LIKE COFFEE. BUT SOMETHING SEEMS TO BE MISSING. HOW COME?

I DON'T KNOW, DEAR. JUST BOUGHT IT YESTERDAY, AND A GOOD DEAL FOR IT.

IT'S THE FUNNIEST THING, JOAN. YESTERDAY I PAID A LOT OF MONEY FOR A POUND OF COFFEE, BUT THIS MORNING MARTIN SIPPED IT AND SAID "SOMETHING SEEMS TO BE MISSING" AND HE DIDN'T MEAN GREEN AND SUGAR, EITHER, BECAUSE HE ALWAYS TAKES HIS COFFEE "STRAIGHT" TO GET THE FULL FLAVOR.

WOULD YOU GO FOR YOUR COFFEE IF YOU BOUGHT IT IN THE WHOLE-BEAN AND HAD IT GROUND EXACTLY RIGHT FOR YOUR COFFEE MAKER. IN MY EXPERIENCE, THAT'S THE WAY TO GET REAL FLAVOR!

THAT SOUNDS LIKE AN IDEA!

HAHA—THIS IS SOMETHING LIKE IT. REAL COFFEE AGAIN—EVEN THOUGH IT COST PLENTY OF MONEY—IT'S WORTH IT.

BUT THIS COFFEE ISN'T EXPENSIVE. I JUST DISCOVERED THAT IN COFFEE, IT IS FRESHNESS THAT COUNTS. SO I BOUGHT WHOLE-BEAN COFFEE. HAD IT GROUND WHILE I WAITED... SAY THIS IS GOOD COFFEE!
