

Heilig Picture
Bogart

Coming in ahead of the film "Sahara," the picture, which is a momentous few days in the Libyan campaign, gives a performance that carries on the sense of the achievement he achieved in "Casablanca."

"Sahara," now being shown at the Heilig theater, plays the role of a two-top sergeant, who is commander of a tank and leader of a group of Allied fighters struggling through the treacherous wastes of the desert, to catch up with the Army at El Alamein.

The picture, which is said to be an exposition of the life and death struggle of sturdy men to survive under torturous conditions, sounds like meaty fare for Bogart, one of the greatest screen personalities of the day.

Heilig Schedules
O'Connor

Adding a lineup of extraordinary youthful talent, Universal comedy musical, "Misbehaving Men," comes Thursday to the Heilig.

Pat O'Connor, one of Hollywood's most remarkable juvenile performers, is starred. Along with him are Gloria and Peggy Ryan.

BILLED as one of the year's best war melodramas, "Sahara" brings Humphrey Bogart to the Heilig theater starting today.

GENE KELLY, Kathryn Grayson, Jose Iturbi, Mary Astor, and John Boles are a few of the stars in "Thousands Cheer." The M-G-M Technicolor musical comes Sunday, January 23, to the McDonald.

PAT O'BRIEN is seen with Ruth Warrick, who plays his wife in the story of Frank Cavanaugh, "The Iron Major." The biographical gridiron picture is due next Sunday at the Heilig.

'Iron Major'
Set By Heilig

Giving the versatile Pat O'Brien one of his finest roles, "The Iron Major" stars the Irish screen favorite in the life of the late Major Frank Cavanaugh, one of the nation's foremost gridiron mentors.

The film comes soon to the Heilig theater.

Transcription
Queen Titled

Add one more to the myriad of "pin-up" titles the boys in the service have been handing out with grateful and lavish hands.

This one is "Transcription Queen," and it's been bestowed on lovely Alice Faye, who is starred in 20th Century-Fox's gay Technicolor hit, "The Gang's All Here."

Alice has been doing yeoman duty, broadcasting to the service men in the front lines and recording transcriptions for delivery to the combat areas where entertainers and morale-builders are unable to penetrate personally.

Biggest demand is for "Alexander's Ragtime Band," indicating that Alice is not only a top-heavy favorite but that this song, which was a heavy favorite among soldiers of World War I, is repeating its popularity in this war.

In response to requests, Miss Faye has recorded virtually all the hit numbers which she has sung on the screen from "Alexander's Ragtime Band" to "Hello, Frisco, Hello."

Alice is now at work recording all seven of the scintillating song hits by Leo Robin and Harry Warren, which are highlighted in "The Gang's All Here," now at the McDonald theater.

'Lucky Fellow'
Coming Thursday

Romantic entertainment with music and action is promised by Universal in "You're a Lucky Fellow, Mr. Smith," coming Thursday to the Heilig theater.

An emergency wedding and its amusingly surprising consequences motivates the plot of the zesty drama-comedy. Allan Jones and Evelyn Ankers are co-starred.

Prominent screen players in the supporting cast include Billie Burke, David Bruce, Patsy O'Connor, Luis Alberni, Stanley Clements and The Kings Men.

Miss Ankers appears as the prospective heiress and the young gentleman of her choice is portrayed by David Bruce, whom she plans to marry. Difficulties arise, however, in that he is in Chicago while she resides in New York.

Among the eight numbers featured in the film are "On the Crest of a Rainbow," "Swing-A-Bye My Baby," "When You're Smiling," and "You're a Lucky Fellow, Mr. Smith," sung by Allan Jones and The Kings Men.

Jones also renders "Your Eyes Have Told Me So" and Cole Porter's "What Is This Thing Called Love" as solo selections.

PRODUCTION NOTES

HOLLYWOOD—"Janie" will be Mike Curtis' 55th chore as a director of motion pictures—he had "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "Casablanca," "Mission to Moscow," and Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army" on the nation's screens during the past year . . . Paramount has bought Richard Henry Dana's "Two Years Before the Mast" for Alan Ladd.

Errol Flynn Due
On Wednesday

"Northern Pursuit," a dramatic war-time adventure of the Royal Canadian mounted police, the men who patrol the vast stretches of the Canadian northwest, starring Errol Flynn, will be the new film fare presented at the McDonald theater Wednesday.

The Warner Bros. picture was directed by Raoul Walsh, who was also teamed with Flynn in "They Died With Their Boots On," "Gentleman Jim" and "Desperate Journey."

With Julie Bishop, who appeared opposite Humphrey Bogart in "Action in the North Atlantic" as leading lady, the film's supporting cast includes Helmut Dantine, who came on to fame with his portrayals of Nazi roles, notably in "Edge of Darkness," John Ridgely who last appeared in "Air Force" and Gene Lockhart, well-known character actor.

"Northern Pursuit" has Errol Flynn in the role of a Mountie who is thrown head-on into the enemy's machinations when he encounters Colonel Hugo von Keller, head of a Nazi saboteur ring landed by submarine on the coast of Hudson Bay.

Partly to a ruse concocted by the Canadian Mounted police, Flynn pretends to be in discredit with the force in order to round up the ring of saboteurs. Together with the Nazi contact man, he goes to Keller who has managed to elude the police.

FURS AND SNOW offset Julie Bishop and Errol Flynn in "Northern Pursuit," adventure romance due Wednesday at the McDonald.
