New Italy Landing Without Opposition; Soldiers Surprised

By DON WHITEHEAD Associated Press Correspondent WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Jan. 22—(AP)—We walked in behind the German lines with hardly a shot being fired in a most sensational amphibious operation.

It was so easy and simply done and caught the Germans so completely by surprise that as I write this dispatch six hours after the landing American troops are literally standing with their mouths open and shaking their heads in utter amazement.

"Maybe," said Lt. Col. Edgar C. Doleman, "the war is over and we don't know it."

"I still don't believe it," said a fifth army infantryman who had made other amphibious landings. "The doughboys swarmed ashore at 2 a. m. expecting to have to fight their way in over the beach through barbed wire and mine fields. I landed with the second wave at 2:10 a. m. Then we began walking, expecting each moment that the enemy would open fire with a blinding flash of fire. But we just walked. Nothing happened in my sector. There were only a few scattered shots fired and most of them came from our own tense troops."

To our north there was a sound of gunfire but it was very light and at this early stage there was every indication that Lt. Gen. Mark Clark's fifth army had pulled off a brilliant maneuver to hit the enemy from the side and open the road to Rome.

The next few hours will decide that when the expected German counterattack develops.

Civilians Warned To Go Easy on Milk

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The civilian population has been warned by the OWI today to take it easy on milk drinking if it wants to have butter and if it wants the army and the allies to have enough milk products.

Use of milk and cream, an OWI report on the milk supply said, must not be allowed to increase if adequate supplies of manufactured milk products (butter, cheese, powdered and evaporated milk) for the military, civilians, and lend-lease are to be insured.

The OWI report, based on information from the agriculture department, the war food administration, and the office of price administration, disclosed that milk production in 1944 will reach an all-time high of 122,000,000 pounds, if present WFA plans for production are met.

But if the present trend continues, production this year will approximate only 116,000,000 pounds, or 1,800,000,000 pounds under 1943.

Stalin Aide Describes Red Plan For Drive On Berlin

MOSCOW, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Triumphant Russian columns are pouring through great gaps in the shredded German defense line below Leningrad, front dispatches reported today coincident with an official hint that the red army is bound for Berlin.

Speaking in the presence of Premier Josef Stalin at a Kremlin meeting, Alexander Sherbakov, member of the soviet politbureau, declared:

"Our army and our people are confident that the Hitlerites will shorten their lines until the shortest line on the German front will run along the River Spree, on which Berlin is situated."

Military dispatches revealed that the Russians had driven the Germans from a second railway between Moscow and Leningrad and were pressing on in pursuit of Nazi units fleeing in disorder from the fortifications comprising the vaunted "impregnable line" below the old capital.

Mga Captured. The capture of Mga, five-way rail junction 29 miles southeast of Leningrad, opened new channels for supplying the red armies of the northern front rounding out a week of victorious fighting.

Sherbakov spoke at a Lenin memorial meeting of high soviet government officials last night. Referring ironically to the Nazi propaganda method of backing into admissions of German reverses, he said:

"The Germans shortened their front in the winter of 1941, the winter of 1942 and the summer of 1943. They are doing the same thing now in the winter of 1944. But as the popular saying goes: What you shorten cannot be lengthened. Let the Germans shorten their lines."

Spree Mentioned. Then came his reference to the River Spree and Berlin, after which Sherbakov declared:

"Hitlerite hopes of splitting the democratic countries have collapsed. Unity and mutual trust among the countries of the anti-Hitlerite coalition have been strengthened. This was evidenced by the decisions of the Moscow and Tehran conferences."

The soviet high command said the remnants of German divisions which besieged Leningrad for more than two years were abandoning one stronghold after another and casting aside their arms in a panicky attempt to escape a soviet trap that threatened to annihilate 300,000 of them.

Enemy forces immediately south of Leningrad were squeezed into a 35-mile wide corridor that was disintegrating rapidly under soviet pressure from three sides. Numerous prisoners were being rounded up, the soviet high command said.

South America Nazi Agents Get Orders

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay.—(AP)—A purported photograph of a letter signed by Ruppert Weillhermer, secretary of the political bureau of the German embassy at Buenos Aires, instructing all Nazi agents in South America to do their utmost this year to break up the pan-American bloc, has been published by the newspaper La Razon.

The letter, quoting instructions from Erich Otto Meynen, German charge d'affaires in Argentina, said its inspiration came from Adolf Hitler, and iron crosses were promised faithful workers in the German political cause in South America.

La Razon declared the letter definitely proved a connection between German agents and the Argentine revolution of last June as well as a link with the Bolivian coup of last month.

Redmond Woman Joins WACs as Son Missing

PENDLETON—(AP)—The ambition of Mrs. E. M. Sprague of Redmond to take the place of her missing son in helping end the war will be realized.

Word that she had been accepted for enlistment in the WACs has been received at the local recruiting office.

Mrs. Sprague, 45, who operates a small ranch near Redmond, was here recently for a Pendleton field ceremony at which she was presented the air medal awarded her son, T. Sgt. Charles M. Sprague, missing after five bomber combat missions over enemy-occupied Europe.

She applied for enlistment in the WACs while here.

Marion County Men Will Serve in 1945 State Legislature

SALEM, Jan. 21.—(AP)—State senators pro tem John H. Carson and Frederick S. Lamport both of Marion county, may serve in the 1945 legislature. Attorney General George Neuner ruled here in holding that the two offices are not vacant and thus that they shall not be contested in this year's elections.

Neuner denied the contention of the state democratic central committee that the voters of Marion county should choose two new senators this year. The opinion was for Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell Jr.

Under a law passed by the 1941 legislature, Sen. Douglas McKay and Allan G. Carson were given leaves of absence when they entered the army. The Marion county voters chose John H. Carson to succeed McKay, and Lamport to succeed McKay, both to serve through the 1945 legislature, or until the two incumbents return from service, whichever occurs first.

Both of the pro tem senators served in the 1943 legislature, but the democratic state central committee contends that the two incumbents vacated their offices, and that the two pro tem successors should face reelection this year.

But Neuner insisted that the senate did not declare a vacancy exists, and that, therefore, no vacancy exists. (A report of the senate credentials committee on January 11, 1943 was adopted declaring seats held by Sens. Douglas McKay and Allan G. Carson vacant because they held "jurative positions in the armed services of the United States government." The same report held that Carson and Lamport are entitled to "sit in this body until November, 1944."

The case of state Sen. Jack Lynch, Portland, was not involved, as he was appointed to a term which expires this year. He was named to succeed Sen. Chester E. McCarty, also in the army.

Another question which must be settled is whether state Sen. Merle E. Chessman, Astoria, who is a member of the state highway commission, is entitled to hold both positions. The democratic central committee claims he can't because of a constitutional provision preventing any person from holding two lucrative offices.

Myer Moving More Japs to Tule Lake. SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Plans for closing one of nine centers holding Japanese-Americans and for moving 1900 Japanese-educated inhabitants of the Manzanar, Cal., camp to Tule Lake, were announced at a press conference here by national war relocation Director Dillon S. Myer.

"The situation at Tule is gradually returning to normal. There is more activity there now than ever. The white guard staff has increased from six to 12.
