

District Kiwanis Officer Speaks

Discussion of the purposes and principles of Kiwanis International by Del Carr, Roseburg, lieutenant governor for the organization, featured the Eugene club's observance of the 29th anniversary of founding of the international group at the Monday noon meeting.

The new organization was the topic of Carr's talk. He compared the organization to a skyscraper building. To appreciate the strength of a large building, you have to stand at a distance and look at it and realize the powerful foundation it has, the speaker said. In the "Kiwanis Building" the center is represented by the vast program of youth work—including kindred fields, such as work for the underprivileged, health, etc.

"The strong addition," Carr said is the program of war work and activities. Beneath all these achievements one sees the foundation, he added.

"While there are many activities and programs of work carried on, the real foundation in Kiwanis is the stress on the spiritual and human values over the material, the office stated. He then went on to read the statement of purpose of the organization, stressing practice of the golden rule; the furtherance of high social, business and professional standards; citizenship, fellowship, building communities, support of sound public opinion, and ideals.

If a member lives up to these principles, he will not "just wear Kiwanis" at the meetings—he will know his organization, he will realize his responsibility in keeping up its reputation and activities, striving to make them ever better, and he will use his ability, energy, and the will to activate such principles into operation, "put Kiwanis into operation," he concluded.

Invents New Cheap Oil Burner

For Cook Stoves and Ranges

South Dakota man has invented a new cheap oil burner that slips into cook stoves and ranges and will cook your meals and heat one or two rooms. With its new-type fuelizer starter vaporizing system it turns cheap 130 flash turbine oil, distillate, diesel, range, kerosene and like oils into oil-gas heat without digging up—no more shoveling coal and no better heating cooking and baking. Every burner has a Life-Time guarantee against defects. New safety plan is a money-maker and you can get yours free for introducing. They are so much sold on their Quik Heat Oil Burner that they will offer you $1.00 bonus for testing and will let you try it in your own cooking stove or range for one month. Be First. McDonald Sells Theater Shares

Sale of his interest in the McDonald-Schaefer block, including eight store buildings, and in the McDonald theater to Spencer R. Collins of Eugene is announced by Donald F. McDonald. The deal was completed this month.

McDonald reports the change did not affect the Rex theater, which he owns.

The McDonald family has had an interest in the McDonald-Schaefer block since it was first constructed and the McDonald theater was named after the late A. H. McDonald, father of Donald McDonald.

the board. The following were approved:

University of Oregon—Appointment of Rosamond Wentworth as assistant professor of physical education replacing Miss Florence Alden, retired; promotion of Dr. P. A. Kilgallon from associate professor to professor of education; leave of absence for Dr. Homer G. Barnett, assistant professor of anthropology for work in Smithsonian institution, and appointment of Alfred Frank Whiting as assistant professor and acting curator to succeed him; appointment of Margery Phillips as graduate assistant in chemistry.

UNION VOTE ORDERED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(AP)—The national labor relations board today ordered a collective bargaining election within 30 days for employees of the Mohawk Lumber company, Marcola, Ore. The election will determine whether the workers wish to be represented by the International Woodworkers of America (CIO), which lost a similar election last August but subsequently filed a second petition with the board.

ceived this week by Mrs. J. M. Harder of the death of Mrs. Sarah Carver in Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 18.

Mrs. Carver was the sister of Mrs. Frances Saltman and Mrs. Harder. Mrs. Saltman had gone east about two months ago to make her home with Mrs. Carver.

Members of the Dakota club will meet Friday evening instead of Wednesday as previously announced. The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Martinson, 1126 N. 10th street.

The rich oil field of east Texas once was given up by geologists because it had none of the surface features common to other fields.

Freight Service Cut

SALEM, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Consolidated Freightways, Inc., advised Public Utilities Commissioner George H. Flagg today that the manpower shortage has forced it to discontinue daily service to more than 50 towns on the Pacific, Pacific highway east, and the Columbia river highways.

The company, however, will serve the communities on a weekly basis, and will maintain special service on shipments of 10,000 pounds or more.

Flagg said the shipping needs of the towns are amply taken care of by other trucking companies. Towns affected include Goshen, Junction City, Yoncalla, Biggs, Boardman, Huntington, Chemult, and Sisters.

Consultant Hired—

The hiring of Fred Scheffel, former city superintendent at Medford, as a field consultant for the League of Oregon Cities to aid cities in drawing up post-war public works plans and financing programs to go on the ballot in the May primary elections, was announced Tuesday by Herman Kehrl, Eugene, executive secretary of the league.

Scheffel, who has been with the U. S. army engineers at Camp White and who has been working on the extension of the Medford airport, will be on call to consult with any city wishing his help, Kehrl stated. He will be with the league for at least three months.

Kehrl also announced that at the league's executive committee meeting held at Portland Monday, the University of Oregon's bureau of municipal research consented to make a survey of airports throughout the state now being used by the army and navy with the view of putting them back on a self-supporting basis after they are turned back to cities.

Some discussion was given a retirement system for public employees at Monday's Portland meeting, Kehrl also disclosed. Unless social security could be expanded to care for the employees of the city, county and state, it was the feeling of those at the meeting that some state legislation should be enacted into which public employees might come. It was pointed out at the meeting, Kehrl said, that it is impractical for small units of government such as towns, and counties to set up a pension system of their own.

At the same meeting, over which Mrs. Herbert Buserud, Marshfield, president of the Oregon Mothers, presided, Mother's Day was definitely set for May 6. This action places Mother's Day, as usual, on the Saturday of junior

GOP Committee Not 'Selecting' Runners

Work of the advisory republican party council will be concerned in assisting to "elect," not to "select" the candidates, declares Kenneth Nielsen, Eugene, secretary of the state republican central committee, in correcting a statement appearing in a news dispatch out of Portland, Monday.

This party council, as organized by state republican leaders, will be to assist on methods of raising and spending funds, and to help elect candidates, Nielsen explains.

"Select" the candidates! Just consider what would happen were all the county central committees and the state central committee told whom to run for office. Wheel No, our job is merely to help elect them, once they are candidates," Nielsen says.

Commenting on another item in the same paper regarding soldier vote, Nielsen says the main reason why no action was taken regarding the primary election is the statement of party required in the primaries. He likewise reported there would be difficulty in getting the lists of candidates to soldiers all over the world before the primaries. The situation is taken care of for the general election in November, the last session of the legislature setting up a law for that, and there being time enough to get the program organized before the election.

Oregon Mothers to Continue Funds

Oregon Mothers' executive board, at a meeting held on the university campus last week-end, voted to continue the $500 in scholarships offered for several years. The Petronella G. Peets scholarship of $200 will be awarded again for next year, together with two others for $150 each.

These scholarships will be open to graduates of Oregon high schools, who may apply during their senior year or the year following their graduation. Applications are to be made to Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration, not later than April 1.

At the same meeting, over which Mrs. Herbert Buserud, Marshfield, president of the Oregon Mothers, presided, Mother's Day was definitely set for May 6. This action places Mother's Day, as usual, on the Saturday of junior week-end, which has been set for May 5, 6, 7.

Three vacancies on the state executive board were filled by the selection of Mrs. Robert Dixon, Marshfield, Mrs. Arthur Beattie, Milwaukie, and Mrs. Nettie Spaulding, Salem.

so you could shoot 'em all of with one shot."

Judge Hurd Opposed
Said Clinton Hurd, county judge: "The outside contractors don't give a hoot for Eugene. They just want to make a little money. I'm not for it."

James A. Rodman, realtor, declared that the council had approved sales of the lots "in good faith. But we're not going to get rid of bureaucracy as long as we keep acquiescing!" He asked for a complaint to the government against the move, and that the city "howl to high heaven" against such Washingtonian presumption.

Councilman A. L. Hawn said that Eugene consensus is one of objection to the move, declared the council should do all possible to prevent further bureaucratic inroads into local affairs. Councilman A. C. Farrington called the government project "another tentacle."

In response to complaints that the structures would be eyesores in the area, Campbell replied that "on High street, south of Fifteenth, there's nothing that can make that district good but a good fire." Jack Hatton countered that houses of this type are "just square buildings, so crowded you can hardly turn around." Councilman Baker offered the motion for rescinding the option, which was turned down on the grounds that the council could not go back on its agreement.

Beware Neighbors
Citizens attending indicated that, whoever lived in the buildings, they would not find the established neighbors friendly.

In response to request that the council take action to prevent odors emanating from the city dump towards College Hill, the mayor pointed out that the council intends to correct the situation as soon as possible. Health chairman Baker reported that an adequate incinerator for Eugene, such as is planned after the war, would cost $80,000 now.

The council authorized the mayor to buy war bonds (1/2 per cent certificates of indebtedness) with working funds available, believed in the neighborhood of $120,000.

The Welfare League reported completion of its project to raise $1,100 to supplement the city's $2,000 for a six months' program for rat control.

The council agreed to ask for deferments of only key men in the police department. Officer Delmar Cash was granted $400 expenses for a four months' course under a traffic scholarship, which he has won at Northwestern university. Evanston, Ill., also his leave with pay and other service privileges. The police association will pay the additional $150 he will need.

For the second successive year, citizens were given permission to plant victory gardens on city lots. Should the city desire to sell the property, however, the gardener will be required to discontinue his garden.

Hardware Men Elect

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 25.—(AP)—E. R. Whitmore, Buckley, Wash., was elected president of the North Coast Retail Hardware association at the close of a one-day annual meeting last night.

Roscoe Hazer, North Bend, Ore., and L. E. Gruver, Sedro-Woolley, Wash., were elected vice-presidents. Ruel D. West, Portland; Frank Taylor, Reedsport, Ore.; Clarence Whiteside, Corvallis, Ore.; Harold Enger, Tacoma; Fred H. De Vore, Ferndale, Wash., and A. W. Weber, Seattle, are new directors named to two-year terms. D. D. Stewart, Seattle, was reappointed secretary-treasurer.

AFL Rejects Parley

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 25.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor rejected today an invitation to attend a conference of the labor unions of 37 nations in London on June 5.

The AFL executive council said the conference is untimely, embraced too many discordant elements, and lacked the sponsorship of the international federation of trade unions.

The council said it favored a world conference of labor "under proper auspices and at an appropriate time."

PRODUCTION RESUMED

HOQUIAM, Jan. 25.—(AP)—The Grays harbor plant of Rayonier Inc., operating on a partial basis despite CIO picket lines, yesterday resumed manufacture of paper for the first time since a strike started December 4. The management said it would be difficult to determine what percentage of production has been resumed.

If you like Youngsters

to help them

Nobody seems to know why, but infantile paralysis strikes hardest at children.

Youngsters who should be running, jumping and playing are twisted on beds of pain, confined to wheel chairs, hobbling on crutches, victims of infantile paralysis.

These youngsters are in desperate need of immediate expert attention. This past year Eugene... Oregon... all of America experienced the worst epidemic of infantile paralysis in many years. The need for proper care is more urgent now than ever before. You can help by donating now to the Infantile Paralysis Campaign.

Fifty cents of every dollar you give stays right here in Lane County, the other fifty cents goes to the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis for further research into the causes and, for perfecting the treatment of Infantile Paralysis.

Let's not let these kids down—let's show them that we have faith in the future of our country by helping them get ready to meet it.

This year let's give MORE... because they need MORE! Fill out the coupon at the right and mail it at once with your generous contribution.

The First National Bank of Eugene Infantile Paralysis Fund

Realizing that "save for the grace of God" there goes my little boy or girl, I am happy to enclose my check. I've made it larger because I realize there's a bigger job to do. I wouldn't feel right unless I giving to my limit, especially since I know half of what I'm helping is being used here in Lane County.
