next decade or two, a change that America does not want and does not approve.

The parents are at the heart of this problem, he continued. It is the influence of the press that can arouse parents, make them realize the pressure and crusade going on, make them realize they have a part, the very vital part, in solving this problem, Longren stated.

Juvenile Problem Vital

Through indifference parents are really contributing to delinquency, he commented.

The churches, the schools, civic groups, P-TA organizations, loyal fraternal orders, and others are doing a valiant work in meeting the juvenile problem and here again the press can do much in cooperating with these groups and get their message and the aim of their activities over to the public, the speaker added.

Men in the armed services are becoming alarmed over the report of juvenile delinquency, Longren said, pointing out he had read many letters from men overseas. They are concerned because many of them have small children, or younger brothers and sisters, and they are concerned over whether those on the home front are doing their fullest duty in meeting the problem.

Lane County Featured

"The Newspaper's Part in Post-war Planning" was the topic for the morning's first program, a talk by William M. Tugman, Register-Guard managing editor.

(his talk is written up in another article in today's paper), Hoyt, in introducing the speaker, commenting that Lane county's post-war planning and the assistance given that project by the Eugene newspaper have brought national and world-wide attention. Tugman displayed charts and information for the publishers to look over and study the plan which Lane county is working on "to care for its own" in the post-war period.

Circulation problems were discussed through the morning program, too, Arne Strommer, Eugene Register-Guard, Hunt Clark of the Salem Statesman, and Jack B. Bladine of the McMinnville Telephone-Register staging the panel.

Highlight of the Friday evening program will be the address by Walter Wanger, president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Science, scheduled as the main speaker for the banquet. "Post-War Is Now" is his topic. Wanger was to arrive here by plane during Friday afternoon. Word came late Thursday that he had just been elected president of the Dartmouth Alumni association.

Mechanical discussions, the dollars and cents value in good topography, and pointers on engraving were to feature the late afternoon program.

Saturday Program

Highlights of Saturday's program will include election of officers in the morning; a luncheon meeting with William Wilson, United Press war correspondent, as speaker; and the annual banquet Saturday evening when Ohio's Senator Harold H. Burton will be the speaker.

Concluding the banquet will be presentation of the Amos E. Voorhies award to the editor or publisher deemed doing the greatest community service this year. The formal program for Saturday sessions follows:

10 a.m.—General session, Eugene hotel dining room; talk by Fred M. Shideler, farm labor and war food administration, Oregon

Springfield

PRINCIPAL DAVIS RESIGNS

SPRINGFIELD.—Resignations of Cecil Davis, principal of Springfield high school for the past five years, and of Mel Johnson, coach and athletic director, were submitted to and accepted by the school board this week.

Davis, appointed Red Cross disaster representative for the north-west security district comprising Oregon, Washington and Idaho, will make his headquarters in Eugene after visiting the regional headquarters in San Francisco. Although elected for another term as principal, he felt that he could not decline the opportunity offered in the new position.

Coach Johnson also felt that greater opportunities were present in the position offered him by the Grants Pass high school, a larger school than Springfield. He leaves a record of coaching championship football, basketball and track teams in his last year.

QUOTA YET UNASSIGNED

SPRINGFIELD.—Invasion bonds purchased by Thursday at the Springfield postoffice now total $997.50 and bonds amounting to $10,110.75 have been sold through the Bank of Oregon. These figures were released by bond headquarters in Eugene, but no quota has been assigned Springfield, today reported John Boeshans, chairman.

Additional workers in soliciting bond sales include Mrs. Edna Blackburn, chairman for the Glenwood residential drive, and Walter Yost, chairman at the Springfield plywood corporation, who will be assisted by George Hedlund, Preston Leach, Vern Handsaker, Garnet Rowland, Edward Garr and Rolly Pitkins.

CHAMBER HEADS NAMED

SPRINGFIELD.—Names of committee chairmen were announced Thursday night at the regular Springfield chamber of commerce meeting. Possibility of a western airline establishing an express pickup service in Springfield was discussed, but no definite action was taken. Chairmen of the committees are as follows: Membership and finance, L. G. Raish; roads, highways and flood control, Elmer Maxey; public affairs and good will, S. W. Alexander; legislature, civic post-war planning and recreation, W. S. Fort; industrial, W. K. Barnell; agriculture, B. T. Larson; retail affairs and better business, Claude Gerlach, and publicity, Frank Bouck.

SHOP OPENS SATURDAY

SPRINGFIELD.—Opening Saturday is the Paramount Variety shop, the new addition to the Paramount market on East Main street. Under the management of Mr. and Mrs. George Friesen, the shop will offer a wider service in varieties, notions, cosmetics and children's supplies.

F. L. TO ELECT JULY 6

SPRINGFIELD.—F. L. club members decided at their regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Cecil Mathes to hold second nominations and election of officers at the next meeting, July 6. This will be at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Gladys Myers on Hayden road.

U-15 BOARD TO MEET

SPRINGFIELD.—District U-15 school board will meet Monday evening at 8 in the high school.

State college extension service, "The Press and Oregon's War-time Food Production"; talk by McDannell Brown, district OPA, "The OPA, the Press, and the Public."

11 a.m.—Annual meeting of the association, reports of committees and officers, election of new officers, nominations for Amos E. Voorhies award.

12:30 p.m.—Luncheon, Eugene hotel dining room, Tom Purcell of Gresham Outlook in charge, William Wilson from UP as speaker.

3 p.m.—Annual golf tournament, Eugene Country club.

6 p.m.—Annual banquet, Osburn hotel dining room, Palmer Hoyt as toastmaster, Senator Burton of Ohio as speaker on "America's Opportunity"; presentation of Amos E. Voorhies award; presentation of golf trophies, Dick Strite of Register-Guard.

FINES ASSESSED

SPRINGFIELD.—Two fines assessed Thursday in the city recorder's court were both for speeding 35 miles in a 25-mile zone and were against Leo Pachekl, Marcola, and William McGilvry, 1143 Seventh St., Springfield, each fined $10. W. G. Nichol, Blue River, was fined $1 Friday for having no car taillight.

Souveau road junction. Another column within six miles of the west Peninsula rail town of La Haye-du-Puits was reported by Berlin to have taken Pretot, only seven miles from the west coast port of Lessay. Nearer Cherbourg, other Americans took Quineville and advanced a mile to the Senoape river, 14 miles from the port. The Germans still held near Montebourg.

The great tank battle with four German panzer divisions on the allied left 23 miles inside Normandy abated slightly with the allies holding firm against half the German armored might in western Europe.

Allied planes in giant waves supported the invasion. At dusk, British heavy bombers dumped a profusion of six-ton factory busters on Boulogne naval installations while British battleships pumped 16-inch shells into Le Havre.

Allen Leslie Yost

Allen Leslie Yost, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yost of Springfield, died in Eugene, Thursday. Besides his parents the infant is survived by two brothers, Darrell and Douglas, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Yost and Mr. and Mrs. Stiner Amundson all of Portland.

Graveside services were held at the Laurel Hill cemetery Friday, at 10:30 a.m. Rev. Claude O'Brien officiating.

Margie Robinson Hurt in Portland

Margie Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry R. Roskamp of Eugene, and honored graduate of the university this year, was injured June 11 in a taxi-auto crash while vacationing in Portland. It has been learned here.

She suffered a broken collar bone after the taxi in which she was riding with her friend, Miss Carol Greening, Saratoga, Calif., collided with a private car. A woman in the other car was also injured. Miss Greening was not hurt.

Miss Robinson is at the Coffee memorial hospital in Portland, room 37. She had been spending a week with Miss Penny Nichols in Vernonia, and had just arrived in Portland on her return trip, when the accident occurred.

Dow-Jones Averages

Preliminary closing Dow-Jones averages: industrial 149.96, up 1.10; rail 49.32, up 0.50; utility 22.33, up 0.04; and 65 stocks 52.29, up 0.43. Sales rose to 2,517,340 shares, the most since May 4, 1943 and compared with 1,850,614 yesterday. Curb turnover was 444,875 shares against 348,960 yesterday.

Mexican Acquitted

Jesus Pacheco, Mexican railroad laborer, was acquitted by a jury in circuit court Thursday afternoon of the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Francisco Palma Rosales, a fellow employe. Self-defense was claimed, it being alleged that Rosales attacked Pacheco with a large rock.

The case of Herman A. Left against James M. Veden, a suit to collect $937 alleged due for the sale and delivery of logs, came up next and the jury was out a greater part of Friday forenoon. The personnel of this jury follows: Beulah Souls, E. W. Walker, Eugene L. Parker, Emma Adams, Oscar A. Adams, Alice V. Morgensen, Phil Nordling, Margaret Allen, Anna N. Tuck, Eva Tobias, Lillian Cashman and Myrtle Cadman.

On trial Friday was Robert Hugo Price, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. It is alleged that Price struck Lloyd Goddell of Springfield with a glass bottle March 25. The jury in this case had not been completed up to noon.

This is the way "The Oregonian" is telling America about the Columbia ...

says PALMER HOYT, Publisher of The Great Newspaper of the West

The Great River of the West...

The Columbia River
It beats an accelerating pace for the westward march of industry

This second largest river in the United States (1210 miles long) is America's greatest source of hydroelectric power. It pumps low-cost energy into an empire of 257,000 sq. miles unmatched in raw material richness: over half the nation's standing timber; millions of acres that grow every fruit and field crop native to the temperate zone; and vast deposits of mineral wealth. These perpetual resources are connected by river boat and barge to 190 miles of deep-sea channel to the Pacific... and the world! Food, wood, chemical and electro-metallurgical industries are finding new vigor in this realm of plenty. We suggest you consider the advantages to operating your industry in the Columbia Empire.

An Indian woman—Secajawa—helped Lewis and Clark find the Columbia River in 1805. But today, over a century later, it is being truly discovered: it is the focal point in the westward march of Lewis and Clark. Only 45 years after Lewis and Clark, The Oregonian started serving the interests of this community, and it has grown with the region into an inseparable part of the life of the people.

The Oregonian

The Great Newspaper of the West
PORTLAND, OREGON
REPRESENTED NATIONALLY BY PAUL BLOCK & ASSOCIATES

THIS ADVERTISEMENT is the first in a new series running in national magazines to tell American business that our Columbia River, with its five main tributaries, is the nerve center for an area of more natural advantages—geographic and economic—than any other comparable area in the United States.

The Oregonian is proud to sponsor this educational campaign and it is our hope that the development of this advertising theme will create a better understanding of our inherent opportunities, not only by the business men of the nation, but by our own people who live and prosper around this "Great River of the West".
