

Rate Circus Tickets Arranged

It is to be the inalienable right of every boy and girl to see a circus at least once a year, the Register-Guard has arranged a special circus matinee for Eugene boys and girls, Clyde Beatty and the famous Russell Bros. circus comes to Eugene for the big show, the largest animal circus in the whole world. It will be in Eugene at the Regard Friday and Saturday, June 23rd and 24th.

Arrangements have been made for the circus for the Register-Guard to sell tickets to boys and girls up to sixteen years of age, for thirty-five cents. Just half the regular admission. The regular admission includes all state and federal tax, and the tickets will be sold only at the Register-Guard office.

A group of performers will be shown both Friday and Saturday morning, at the Register-Guard office, from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m. All the tickets.

There are no strings attached to offer. All you have to do is get to the Register-Guard office, either Friday or Saturday morning, and down thirty-five cents and the ticket is yours. The same ticket at the circus grounds would cost boys and girls under twelve years of age, 60c and those boys and girls over 12, $1.20.

The Register-Guard special tickets are for boys and girls up to sixteen years of age.

Forms For Letters To Prisoners Available

Blank forms for letters to war prisoners may now be obtained at the general delivery window in the postoffice, according to Frank Armitage, postmaster.

These forms, somewhat similar to V-mail blanks, are free. However, the postoffice has not received a full shipment and cannot give them out in large quantities yet, Armitage stated.

Airmail stamps are used with the form. The rank and name of the prisoner, his prisoner of war number, his subsidiary camp number, and the country in which he is held prisoner must be indicated plainly when using the form.

Requests for Student Labor Urged Now

Lane county bean growers who plan to use supervised platoons of children and youths for picking this season are being requested by Harry Bower, farm labor assistant, to place their requests now or as soon as possible so that there will be plenty of time to organize the group. Bean picking starts in about August 1.

These platoons are supervised by an adult leader, who directs the work of the young people in the fields. The farmer pays for the services of the supervisor as well as paying the children for picking. Every farmer who used these supervised platoons last year has requested them again for the harvesting this year, Bower said.

Looking toward the invasion, the American Red Cross shipped 6000 Red Cross capture parcels for distribution to American prisoners of war in Dulags, or transit camps, in Italy and Germany.

4-H Club Members Register for Camp

The names of 4-H club members from the Maple, London and Vaughn schools who have registered for the club camp on Fall creek, June 24-July 2 were inadvertently omitted from the list printed Tuesday. They are as follows:

Maple—Florence Giedd, Barbara Godfrey, Lavelle Halderson, Mary Halderson, Wilma Henderson.

London—Mary Ann Banton, Barbara Banton, Lucille Blackman, Gloria Clark, Emily Gilham, Ronnie L. Hunt, Bruce Pooler.

Vaughn—Carolyn Beatty, Dale Dial, Doris Dial, Beulah Marshall, Doris Anne Morningstar, Eleanor Morningstar.

Non-Coms Working Out Own Field Problems
CAMP ADAIR — Non-coms of the 278th regiment, 70th (Trailblazer) division, are thoroughly trained as instructor-tacticians. They are—in accordance with a new policy inaugurated by the "bloody axe" staff—now writing their own field problems. These problems, covering situations likely to be encountered in combat, are run by the various units involved—from squads to companies. Even enemy details are used, providing an added stimulus of realism.

Results have been encouraging. Observing officers have noted interest and enthusiasm on the part of the author-supervisors. They realize that there are numerous solutions in the missions created. An opportunity is provided to watch others lead, and often maneuver quicker and better than the writer of the problem would have himself. Especially of merit is the tactical thinking in the situations of those who have less than a year's service in the army.

The War Department has asked the American Red Cross for 100,000,000 surgical dressings a month! To meet this tremendous demand, volunteers in Eugene make 105,000 to 127,000 dressings a month.

High School Summer Session Is Cancelled

The summer session for high school students, planned by the Eugene public school system, has been canceled because of lack of interest and support on the part of the public, Dr. J. F. Cramer said Wednesday.

Only about 24 inquiries on the session were received, and an enrollment of at least 50 would have been necessary to support these special courses, the school superintendent said.

Classes would have been held at Eugene vocational school. Cancellation of the session will cause no change in the regular EVS program.
