

More Bond Shows Set By Theaters

Eugene theaters will continue their drive to help Lane county make its quota in the fifth war bond drive by sponsoring, next week, more shows for which tickets will be given with purchase of war bonds. The events will include premiere of a new Hollywood film at the State theater, and a double bill for youngsters at the McDonald.

Wednesday night at 8:30 the State theater will present a premiere of "The Eve of St. Mark," the new 20th Century-Fox success based on Maxwell Anderson's play. The production stars Anne Baxter and William Eythe, features Vincent Price and a large cast. Tickets went on the counter today at bond booths at the State theater, the two banks, and Pacific First Federal.

The McDonald's "kiddie show," for Friday morning, July 7, at 10:30, will be open to all young people up to high school age. They or their parents must have bought a bond (not stamps) and obtained a ticket in advance at one of the Eugene issuing agencies.

Films set for the "kiddie show" are Jimmy Lydon in "Henry Aldrich for President," William Lloyd as Hopalong Cassidy in "Forty Thieves," and two Bugs Bunny cartoons.

REPAIRS IN JUNGLE—As soon as the immediate area was fairly safe from retreating Japs, work started in this ordnance repair shop, erected in Wakde Island jungle.

School Election Held at Halsey

HALSEY — A few voters of union high school district No. 8 elected Mrs. Adah Taylor as the new member of the board to serve for a term of five years at the annual school election held Monday afternoon at the schoolhouse.

At the meeting of the board following the election B. M. Bond was again appointed clerk of the district, a position he has held for the last 31 years. The board also interviewed several applicants for the superintendent position which has been made vacant by the resignation of Robert L. Houck, who resigned to accept another position. Esra B. Jensen was selected. At present he is attending summer school at Eugene, but was principal at Lexington. He is married and has a son and a daughter of school age. He hopes to find a house soon and move to Halsey immediately after summer session.

Mrs. Ellsworth Gardner and small son of Los Angeles are expected to arrive here Sunday for a visit with Mr. Gardner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Gardner and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Gardner, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Bond are the parents of a baby daughter born at the Lebanon hospital June 17. She has been named Barbara Ann. Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Bond are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Philpot are the maternal grandparents. She is the first grandchild of the Bond family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Brock have sold 104 acres of their home farm, which includes the buildings, to a sister of Mrs. Osburne. They have not announced their future plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have purchased the Strickly residence on the Pacific highway in southern part of Halsey, better known as the Koontz house, and have moved in. Mr. Johnson represents the Rawleigh products and also handles real estate.

LANE DAHLIAS SEEM TO THRIVE ON COMPETITION
The "battle" of the dahlias goes on and on — but the more intense it becomes the larger and the more beautiful are the dahlias. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Abbott, Walton, displayed a dahlia bloom at the Register-Guard, Thursday, measuring 8 1/2 inches in diameter. This one is orange-red in the center part, bordered by yellow petals. Mrs. Abbott says they have seven or eight colors blooming and that they have been in blossom for two weeks.

Says Abbott: "Oh, yes, believe it or not we do live on Route F. We still have a few wonders over there, what with Christmas cactus blooming profusely at Easter time and now dahlias not being able to wait until autumn." Scarcely was the dahlia properly displayed for all the ohs and ahs, than came the report of snapdragons grown by M. J. Wearin, Deerhorn community on the McKenzie, measuring 60 inches in height — five feet.

Hold everything — it won't be long until the "tallest and largest gladioluses" will be with us, unless, of course, chrysanthemums beat them.

Refusal of Willkie Telegram Explained
CHICAGO STADIUM — (AP) — E. R. Shute, vice-president of the Western Union Telegraph company, explained here that a telegram from Chairman Joseph W. Martin of the republican national convention to Thomas E. Dewey was transmitted by the company "because it was a message of notification, not congratulation."

His explanation was given after Western Union refused to accept a congratulatory telegram which Wendell Willkie sought to send to Dewey. The refusal was on the ground that congratulatory telegrams are barred under wartime regulations of the board of war communications.
