Determined to make it anybody's fight for the privilege of meeting the Giustina Reds, first-half Cascade league champions, for a championship series, at the close of the second half schedule, Frank Fassett's Snellstrom Braves behind the air-tight hurling of Joe Kralovich, climbed within a half a game of the leading Miller Lumbermen by dumping them none too gracefully 5-1 at the Civic stadium, Sunday afternoon. Hills Creek finally broke into the win column by decisioning the Springfield Cardinals 7-3, in the nightcap of the twin bill.

Wednesday night at the Civic stadium the first-half champion Giustina Reds will tangle with the last-place Springfield Cards. Manager Ed Brauner has reinforced his team with Bob Cavineas, ex-University of Oregon boy whom he has brought back from the Birmingham, Ala. Braves, who may see action on the mound. The Cards, in their turn, will be out to win their first of the second half.

The Snellstrom victory was practically won single handed for them by Kralovich, who gave up but three widely scattered hits, during the course of the game, and when off the mound would put the finishing touches on his efforts by hitting safely two times in three trips, including a very timely double that batted in two runs.

Five Whiffed

Kralovich struck out five, and the two scant times that he was in trouble, the Snellstrom infield pulled him out of the muck with double plays.

On the other hand Bud Brewer gave a good performance in losing, but the six hits that he gave up were bunched and occurred in conjunction with several Miller misplays. Other than the hits, Brewer's mound record was an exact duplicate of Kralovich's, both fanning five, and issuing two bases on balls.

"Frankie's boys" opened right up in the first, Fasset walked and stole second, but was out on third on a throw from Moran to Bill Moye. George Fischer was safe on an error, but out at second when outfielder Bud Nurre threw to the keystone sack, after he had dropped the fly ball that allowed Bob Weil to reach first. Weil stole second, and Norv Libby walked. Ranny Smith singled to send home Weil and Libby pulled up at third. Harvey Humphrey then drove a high one far out into right field that Cliff Baxter muffed and allowed Libby and Smith to score handily.

Moore Singles

The other two Brave runs came in the fourth, Humphrey walked, and went to third on Jack Moore's single. Kralovich then laced out his second hit to score the two boys, and virtually sew up the ball game.

The lone Miller run came in the sixth. Elbert Dixon walked, and was sent to third by Moye's long single. Jack Walton flied out to score Dixon, and the Miller team then went down 1-2-3.

The fact that the Lumbermen had played four games during the past week had a decided notice on their performance, but they still looked at times like champions.

Old Bud Mauney was really throwing that ball in there as he had the game under his flap at all times, and except for a brief span in the seventh there wasn't an incident that should have given manager Grov Kelsay a gray hair. Mauney practically set 'em down 1-2-3, but in the seventh shortstop A. Mann took a tryout on the hillock, and the Cardinal bats started to boom. Dale Warberg fanned for the first out in the seventh, but the next man up, Bill Fulps was hit by a pitched ball. Ernie Cornett then singled to right field, but the fielder juggled the agate for a while and that allowed Fulps to score, and Cornett went to third. Pinch hitter Joe Gerber grounded out, and Cornett came home on the play, before Mauney again took over on the hill, and the last out was made.

Mack Predicts Night Games For Majors

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—(U.P.)—Connie Mack, veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, predicted today that when major league club owners confer before the all-star game at Pittsburgh next Tuesday they will agree on an unlimited number of night games for the rest of the season.

Mack said he felt that most clubs would increase their number of arclight contests and that the Athletics probably would change four or five dates.

Golf Play Won By Loss, Tie

MINNEAPOLIS, July 10—(U.P.)—Solemn-visaged Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia and his rosy-cheeked associate in the business of par wrecking, Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., today held the championship of the Golden Valley invitation best ball tournament, acquired by the strange procedure of tying and losing their two last matches yesterday.

The title was awarded on the basis of the cumulative score for the seven rounds, and the margin which the two biggest money winners in golf this year had attained in earlier contests stood up to give them a winning plus 13.

In second place at the finish, after threatening all the way, was the team of Bill Kaiser, Louisville, Ky., and Bob Hamilton, Evansville, Ind., a pair which produced a positive score of 10 points.

Kaiser and Hamilton, five points back of the leaders going into the last day of play, held McSpaden and Nelson to a draw in the morning round yesterday, then squeezed out a one-up decision over Lt. Ben Hogan, Fort Worth, Tex., and Tony Penna, Dayton, O., in their curtain performance.

McSpaden and Nelson lost in the afternoon match, to Harry Cooper, professional for the host club, and Ellsworth Vines, Denver, Colo., one up. It was the titlists' only defeat of the tournament, in which Vines' long putt at the 18th for a birdie was the deciding blow. An eagle three by Nelson on the sixth was the standout feat for their side.

Each of the 16 players competing received $250 expense money. With the $800 in war bonds each member of the championship pair received, the gross earnings for the year by McSpaden and Nelson, respectively, were extended to $19,150 and $16,641. The runnerup team received $850 each in cash and bonds.

Beavers Beaten In Double Bill

By United Press

The San Francisco Seals once more regained possession of the capricious Pacific coast league lead today while their erstwhile rivals, the Oakland Acorns, with whom the Seals battled all last week for the first spot, slipped to third place 1½ games behind.

The Seals and the Oaks split a twin bill yesterday, the Seals grabbing the opener 10-6 in a game which saw both teams score 29 hits, while the Oaks edged through the nightcap 2-1.

In a second-place tie were the Seattle Rainiers, who scored 6-1, 5-0 wins over the Portland Beavers in Sunday's twin bill, and the Los Angeles Angels who took both games from the Hollywood Stars, 3-2 and 7-5.

The Sacramento Solons, who appeared last week to be making haste slowly out of the miasmic regions of the cellar, slipped back by losing a doubleheader to the San Diego Padres, 10-7 and 5-3.

Beavers, Seals Meet

This week's games send San Francisco to Portland, San Diego to Oakland, Hollywood to Seattle and Sacramento to Los Angeles.

In yesterday's opener, Acorn pitchers Jack Lotz and Al Raimondi, staked to a three-run lead in early innings, fell apart in the nightcap, the Oaks scored one run in four innings. Joe Sprinz led the Seal attack with a triple, double and two singles. In the nigtcap, the Oaks scored one run on two base knocks and added another in the seventh. The Seals failed to tie it up in a belated 7th inning rally. The series ended in a four-all tie.

Brillheart Wins

Despite a double victory by the Padres, the Solons won their eight-game series 5-3. Veteran left-hander Jim Brillheart hurled the San Diego club to victory in the final seven inning game while Guy Fletcher was the loser. Bud Beasley took over for the Sacs after the San Diego sluggers collected their five runs. Marv Gudat collected four hits in four times at bat for San Diego.

Three home runs helped the Angels score a double win over the Stars and clinch the series six games to two. In the opener, the Stars picked up a tally in the seventh on Frank Kelleher's home run and another on singles by Richardson and Olsen. The Angels came back in their half of the inning to score the winning run on a single by Bill Sarni and a triple by Cece Garriott.

Homers Hit

With the Stars ahead, 4 to 2, at the start of the third inning of the nightcap, Rip Russell started the Angel rally with the day's first homer. John Ostrowski and Ed Sauer banged out four-baggers in succession for the Angels to tie in the fifth. The Angels scored twice more in the seventh to clinch the game.

Seattle started its double win in the opener with a run in the first, another in the fourth, two in the eighth and two in the ninth. In the seventh inning of the nightcap, Lloyd Christopher and Paul Carpenter hit successive home runs to left field stands for the Rainiers. The Beavers yielded 10 hits. The Suds won the series five games to two.

Bums Bounced 13th Straight

By JOE REICHLER

Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers seems to be on the spot again. His position, shaky, the past few years, has been made more precarious than ever by the current losing streak of the Dodgers, which reached 13 officially yesterday.

Few managers have survived for long such a losing streak, especially in Flatbush where they take their baseball seriously. A nine-game losing streak, which was prolonged to 13, but the skids under Jimmy Wilson of the Chicago Cubs at the start of the season.

Brooklyn's 13th successive loss, which matched the season's low set by the Cubs, was handed to them by the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-1 in the opener of a double header. They almost tied the longest losing streak in the history of the club when they trailed 9-7 in the nightcap, called at the end of eight innings by Pennsylvania's 6:50 curfew law. The game will be completed later.

Yankees Win

After losing seven out of nine to Detroit, the New York Yankees made an about face and swept a war relief double header from the Tigers, 4-3 and 8-2 before $3,482, who paid $38,102.50. The double victory moved the Yankees to within a game of the second place Boston Red Sox.

The league leading St. Louis Browns and the Washington Senators exchanged shutouts. The Browns, behind Newman Shirley's two-hit pitching won the first, 10-0, and the Senators, with Dutch Leonard pitching five-hit ball, took the second, 5-0.

The Red Sox and Cleveland split their double header, the Indians winning the opener, 8-2 and the Red Sox the second, 4-2. Bobby Doerr of the Red Sox became the first American league batter to make 100 hits. Pat Seerey of the Indians and Bob Johnson of the Sox each hit his eighth homer of the year.

Sox, A's Split

Frank Hayes banged his 10th homer as the Chicago White Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics divided their twin-bill, the White Sox taking the opener, 4-3, for Bill Dietrich's 10th victory, and the A's, annexing the finale, 8-2.

The St. Louis Cardinals handed the Boston Braves a double blanking, with Mort Cooper winning his 10th game in the opener, 1-0, as Stan Musial and brother Walker Cooper combined to score the lone run off Jim Tobin. Harry Brecheen gained his seventh win in the nightcap, 9-0.

The Chicago Cubs climbed out of the cellar as they defeated the New York Giants twice, 6-2 and 1-0. Claude Passeau shaded Bill Voiselle in the second game as Andy Pafko singled with the bases loaded in the sixth inning.

The Cincinnati Reds moved to within five percentage points of second place with a double victory over Philadelphia 9-5 and 7-5. Woody Williams made six hits for the Reds.

Parks Decisions George Wagner

By DON MOTTER

George Wagner and Herb Parks were the main attraction at the Pearl Street arena, Saturday night. Both men tried desperately to win the bount, as the winner will get a crack at Paavo Katonen and the belt in the very near future.

Wagner started off with a bang by pulling hair, kicking and knocking Parks into the ropes. Referee Elton Owen had a terrific workout trying to keep the match on the up and up. But Wagner working faster than Elton Owen's eye gave Herb Parks a bad time of it and took the first fall in 13 minutes with a body slam. Parks, incidentally was the boy who received the cheers after the first fall.

Apparently this had an effect on the former Canadian champ, because he came back for the second fall and in a matter of 6 minutes had Wagner yelling for help with a leg stomper.

Parks Takes Fall

The score now stood one fall apiece and anything could happen. It did! Parks determined to take the winning fall with another leg stomper and George determined to take the winning fall by any means. But Parks came through with flying colors, taking the last and winning fall in 9 minutes with another leg stomper. Referee Elton Owen gladly raised Park's hand as the winner and for some "strange" reason Wagner went wild and tore into Parks, knocking him over the ropes and into the aisle.

And then Wagner took a flying leap at Referee Elton Owen and [illegible] that's not included in the books. But Billy McEuin reappeared and separated Wagner and Elton Owen. Owen openly challenged Wagner to fight like a man, but Wagner left the ring with the "help" of some of the crowd and once again order was more or less restored to the arena.

Jackson Clowns

The semi-final featured Bulldog "Yukon Jake" Jackson and that tough fellow, Billy McEuin. This bout was great fun for the wrestling fans, as Jackson is the Clown Prince of the wrestlers and he certainly lived up to that reputation Saturday night. In general Billy McEuin had a bad time of it and took a beating. Bulldog Jackson took the first fall in 27 minutes with a leg stomper. And as there were no falls taken in the remaining three minutes, Bulldog Jackson was judged the winner.

Tony Morelli and Bill Konke vied for honors in the opening bout. And as an extra attraction, the referee proved to be none other than Jack Lipscomb. Well, Jack apparently was blind as a bat, because he allowed Morelli to pull some very fast things; despite this, Bill Konke took the first fall in seven minutes. Morelli came back and immediately got a strangle hold on Konke and held it for at least four minutes. The crowd went wild yelling to Referee Lipscomb to break up the affair.

Konke Cold

But he just stood with his hands on his hips, unconcerned about the whole thing. At long last he did "pull" Morelli off and Bill Konke was unable to move. In fact he was out! Morelli then held Konke's shoulders down and took the second fall in 5 minutes. Such yelling as Lipscomb left the ring has seldom been heard in the arena. At least three-fourths of the fans followed him out and it looked like he was going to be torn to ribbons. However, Referee Elton Owen quieted them down with the announcement that he would referee the last fall. Bill Konke, still very dizzy from that strangle hold Morelli had on him, was an easy prey, and Morelli took the wining fall in 6 minutes with a half Boston crab.

SEATTLE, July 10.—(AP)—Circle V stable's Dear Judy $13.40, won the Bremerton handicap at Longacres Sunday by a head over J. B. Burnstein's Gol' Mike.

Clubs Set For All-Star Tilt

By JACK HAND

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—(AP)—Bucky Walters of Cincinnati looms as the probable national league starting pitcher in the 12th annual all-star game tomorrow night at Forbes field with Marse Joe McCarthy of the American leaguers expected to choose between Hank Borowy of the New York Yankees and Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox.

Pending definite announcement from skipper Billy Southworth of the Nationals and McCarthy, baseball men figured today the two pilots would lead with the ace righthanders. Walters has a 14-3 win record for the Reds, Borowy has won 11 and dropped 4 and Hughson boasts a fancy 13-3 mark.

Lanier On Sidelines

With lefty Max Lanier of the Cards out of action for 10 days due to an arm injury, Southworth is expected to follow Walters with Rip Sewell of the host Pittsburgh club and Nate Andrews of the Braves in an attempt to smash the junior circuits 6-year win streak.

Bob Muncrief of the Browns and Hal Newhouser of the Tigers are available for late duty with the McCarthy clan and Bobo Newsom of the A's may get a chance to strut his stuff before a sell-out crowd that will approach 40,000 and dump $100,000 into the bat and ball fund for servicemen.

Three American league hurlers, Paul (Dizzy) Trout of the Tigers, Dutch Leonard of the Senators and Orval Grove of the White Sox, and two National chuckers, Jim Tobin and Al Javery of the Braves, were practically eliminated from consideration by working Sunday games. It is not likely that any of the quintet will be used with only one day's rest in relief emergency.

Harridge Lineup

Unless Southworth calls in the Phils' Ken Raffensberger the Americans will see all right-handed hurling. With that in mind, McCarthy's lineup may read like this: Lefty McQuinn, Browns, first base; Bobby Doerr, Red Sox, second base; Vern Stephens, Browns, short-stop; Ken Keltner, Indians, third base and Thurman Tucker, White Sox, Stan Spence, Senators, and Bob Johnson, Red outfield; with either Frankie Hayes, Athletics, or Rick Ferrell, Senators, catching.

Braves Place Man

Southworth can use Phil Cavaretta of the Cubs at first base when McCarthy is using a righthander or Frank McCormick of the Reds if a southpaw is on the hill. Connie Ryan of the Braves is the likely second baseman with Martin Marion of the Cards and Eddie Miller of the Reds sharing shortstop.

Bob Elliott's recent surge may get the Pirate third sacker the call but Whitey Kurowski of the Cards is a better bet for the hot corner. Walker Cooper of the Cards and Mickey Owen of the Dodgers are due for catching duty while the outfield probably will include Stan Musial of the Cards, Mel Ott of the Giants and either Dixie Walker of the Dodgers or Bill Nicholson of the Cubs.

Segura Beats Talbert In Close Net Tilt; Pauline Betz Victor

NEENAH, W[illegible], July 10.—(U.P.)—Francisco "Pancho" Segura, the Ecuadorian tennis flash, and Pauline Betz, of Los Angeles, reigned as king and queen in the singles division of the western tennis tournament today, but it took an overtime match to decide the latter test between Bill Talbert, Indianapolis, and Segura.

Segura, Miami university [illegible] won the match 3-6, 6-1, 4-6, and 11-9 after both players suffered leg injuries and had to take time out for repairs.

Segura tore a ligament in his left ankle while leaping for one of Talbert's lob shots in the match and he had to take time to have a physician tape it.

Shortly afterward, Talbert troubled by a tightening of muscles in his right leg and had to take 10 minutes in the last set to have it massaged.

After splitting even in the four matches, Segura and Talbert reached match point twice in the final set before the Ecuadorian forged ahead to win two games in succession and take the crown.

Miss Betz won her crown by defeating her Santa Monica rival, Dorothy Mae Bundy, 6-1 and 6-4.
