

GOP-Democrat Platforms Are Compared

By RAYMOND LAHR
CONVENTION HEADQUARTERS, Chicago, July 21—(U.P.)—The democratic party hopes to win the 1944 campaign on its record of 12 years in power during war and peace and on a terse platform of 1,200 words set against a 4,000-word republican declaration.

Here is a comparison of some of

Race Problems

Democratic—"We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and share the rights that are guaranteed by our constitution. Congress should exercise its full constitutional powers to protect those rights."

Republican—"Endorsed a permanent fair employment practices committee, anti-poll tax and anti-lynching legislation and an inquiry into discrimination in the armed forces."

Agriculture

Both parties endorsed support prices and crop insurance. The democrats promised "to foster the success of the small independent farmer" and "to aid the home ownership of the family-sized farm." The republicans endorsed measures "to make life more attractive" on the family farm. The republicans condemned the Roosevelt administration for "confused, unreliable, impractical price and production" policy during the war and implicitly accused it of rigging farmers.

The democratic platform contained no specific plank on labor out promised adequate compensation to demobilized war workers and enactment of additional legislation or the amendment or repeal of existing laws as experience indicated the need.

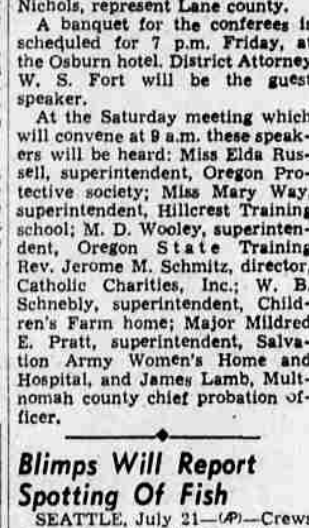

Both parties pledged to support submission of a constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights for women; equal pay to women for equal work; free access to world news; encouragement for risk capital; liberal benefits for war veterans; reductions in wartime taxes as soon as possible; encouragement for little business; expansion of foreign trade through reciprocal agreements (with the republicans adding a proviso requiring approval by congress); development of self-government in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, and the opening of Palestine to unrestricted Jewish immigration.

prohibition, either local or national, until they get back."

"Too bad there isn't a law or something to be sure their wishes are carried out, Judge."

"There is in one state I know of, Steve. Just recently it passed a law prohibiting the calling of any prohibition election until a year after the peace is declared."

"That really makes sense to me, Judge."

900 Cases of Eggs Spoil in Portland

PORTLAND — (U.P.) — Approximately 900 cases of government-held eggs were either destroyed or converted into stock feed in Portland during the past six weeks.

The eggs had become unfit for human consumption from spoilage in storage and transit, said Claude L. Resier, associate marketing specialist for the dairy and poultry branch of the food distribution administration.

The eggs were part of supplies purchased by the government in the midwest under a price-supporting program that guaranteed the producer 27 cents a dozen. Because large supplies were received than expected, storage facilities were overtaxed. Inadequate cases were used in packing and many were loaded into cars by inexperienced persons, resulting in cracked eggs. The liquid egg ran into other cases, spoiling many of them.

Blimps Will Report Spotting Of Fish

SEATTLE, July 21—(U.P.)—Crews of coastal patrol blimps will report by radio the sighting of schools of fish along the Washington and Oregon coasts.

Fred J. Foster, director of the state department of fisheries, announced yesterday the plan was worked out with the commanding officer of the blimp squadron at Tillamook, Ore.
