

Browns Increase Lead Over Yanks As Homers Give Them 7-3 Victory Gotham Castoffs Provide Margin

By CARL LUNDQUIST
NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—The capricious "trade winds" of baseball blew back into the faces of the New York Yankees today, with home runs by two players they once cast adrift giving the St. Louis Browns a 7 to 3 victory and a 2-1 edge in their fight for the American league lead.

The Yankees had no place for George McQuinn in 1937 when he was a promising young first-baseman with their Newark farm club. Neither were they able to use Mike Chartak, who was released in 1942 when the Bombers had such outfield stars as Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller and Tommy Henrich.

Last night McQuinn brought a mate home ahead of him with a seventh inning homer. His blow followed a three-run blast by pinch hitter Chartak to give the Browns a five-run inning that clinched victory.

Browns Lead Bigger

The victory put the Browns three full games ahead again. Dennis Galehouse, the Browns' war plant pitcher, who has been commuting from Akron, O., for Sunday games, had a "swing shift" holiday, and utilized it to win the game. Starting pitcher Nels Potter was ejected by umpire Cal Hubbard in the fifth inning for "spit-ball" pitching—wetting his fingers before each pitch. The fans showered the field with pop bottles as the Browns protested Hubbard's action.

Detroit capitalized on timely hitting by Rudy York to offset shoddy fielding in a 7 to 6 victory over Washington. The Tigers made four errors but York drove in four runs with three hits.

Indians Win

Cleveland kept pace with the Tigers in a fourth place tie by beating the Philadelphia Athletics 2 to 1, coming from behind to score both runs in the seventh. Steve Gromek, yielding only five hits, won his third game.

The Boston Red Sox won their 12th game in 13 starts over Chicago, 11 to 7, getting seven runs in the first three innings. Both sides used three pitchers with Boston getting 14 hits and the White Sox 16.

St. Louis increased its National league lead to 13 games by beating the New York Giants twice, 10 to 2 and 6 to 2, being extended to 11 innings in the second game, before winning with a four-run rally. Mort Cooper won his 11th game in the opener while Rookie Ted Wilks took his seventh in the second.

Braves Step Up

Boston moved into a sixth place tie with Brooklyn, trouncing the Chicago Cubs twice by scores of 5 to 4. The opener went 14 innings with Pitches Jim Tobin being extended the extra distance by errors which enabled the Cubs to score four unearned runs. Connie Ryan doubled home the second game winner.

Pittsburgh and Philadelphia split, the Pirates winning a morning game 4 to 1 and the Phillies taking the second one in 11 innings, 3 to 2. Ray Starr scattered 10 hits to win the opener, while rookie Charley Schanz relieved Dick (Kewpie) Barrett to gain the Phil's victory.

Harry Gumbert won his third game since going to the Cincinnati Reds, shutting out the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 0.

Dutch Soccer Star Dies In Amsterdam

LONDON, July 21.—(AP)—Wim Andriessen, international Dutch soccer player has died in Amsterdam, the Anela Netherlands news agency reported today.

Andriessen played in more than 25 international matches, many of them in Olympic games competition as center-half on the Amsterdam-Ajax team.

Outfielder's Triple Play Honored At Wrigley Field

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(AP)—Sports record books immortalize names of a few baseball infielders who have carried out triple plays unassisted.

But there's only one outfielder who has ever turned such a trick—Walter Carlisle, centerfielder for the old Vernon Tigers of the Pacific Coast league back on the memorable day of July 19, 1911.

Wednesday at Wrigley field a ceremony marked the 33rd anniversary of his famous play and honored both Carlisle, now an oil company employee, and Harry A. Williams, one-time Los Angeles Times sports editor whose description of the maneuver took five full columns of space the following day.

The other two columns of the Times' seven-column sports page back in those days were devoted to advertising. No other sports story deserved to be published that day.

The fact that Carlisle's brilliant catch helped the Tigers to defeat the Los Angeles Angels, 5 to 4, was only incidental.

It was the sixth inning of the Angelo-Tigers game, with the

The battered belt signifying the Pacific coast lightweight championship will be on the block Saturday night at the Pearl street arena when Paavo Katonen, the reigning titleholder, meets Herb Parks, Canadian champion and the most potent challenger for Katonen's crown in a one-hour, two-out-of-three-fall title match.

Bartzen, Behrens Win Tennis Crowns

RIVER FOREST, Ill., July 21.—(AP)—Bernie Bartzen today held the junior championship of the River Forest open tennis tournament and Herb "Buddy" Behrens held the under 16 honors in both singles and doubles, following their victories in closing sessions of the tournament yesterday.

Bartzen, national and state prep king from San Angelo, Tex., defeated Glen Bassett, Santa Monica, Cal., 6-2, 6-1, in the finals, then teamed with Bassett to win the junior doubles with a 6-3, 6-2 victory over the Texas state doubles kings, Ed Chew, Jr., and Bobby Goldfarb of El Paso.

Behrens, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., holder of the southern and Cotton States title, clinched his third tournament victory by beating Chew 6-1, 6-3.

War Bond Fight Set Between Top Boxers

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—It will cost $75,000 for a front-row seat at the fourth fight between Beau Jack and Bob Montgomery in a little over a year.

The war loan sports committee, sponsoring the bout in Madison Square Garden, next month, has established a price scale ranging from a $25 war bond, selling for $18.75, for the gallery and other low-priced seats up to a $100,000 bond, which actually costs $75,000, for the 80 seats in the first row at the ringside. It is hoped to realize $50,000,000 in bond sales from the bout.

Chase Beats Lewis In Bruising Bout

OAKLAND, Calif., July 21.—(AP)—Jack Chase, former California state middleweight champion, scored 10 round decision over Paul Lewis in a bruising match at Oakland auditorium Wednesday night.

Chase, weighing 160, had a clear edge, battering Lewis around the ring but being forced to extend himself constantly. Lewis went down only in the sixth when he took a nine count but was groggy and almost out on his feet in the ninth and 10th. He weighed in at 155½. It was Lewis' second straight loss to Chase, who took decision a month ago only by a narrow margin.

Metal Bats In Store

SPOKANE, July 21.—(AP)—Baseball bats of magnesium may soon take their place along with airplane metal spurs and other sportsmen's items developed by modern science.

Such bats already are being turned out at the light metals laboratory at Washington state college, retiring Dean A. E. Drucker of the school of mines, told an engineering group yesterday. The new bats will be on the market in the fall.

George Metzger, the Next Batter, Walked, Then Roy Aiken Socked a Fly to Center. The Three Angel Runners Sped Around the Bases.

Impossible Catch Made
Like Man-O'-War on the stretch, Carlisle sprinted in to make a thrilling onehanded catch that bowled him head over heels with his momentum.

Landing on his feet, Carlisle raced to second base, touching the sack as Moore was rounding third and Metzger was midway between second and third.

That was a triple play, Carlisle thought, but Umpire George Hildebrand ruled he must touch first base to make it official. He raced to first inches ahead of Metzger.

Carlisle later played as an outfielder for the Boston Red Sox and retired to enter the oil business in 1923.

Williams, who perpetuated Carlisle's fame, went on to become president and later secretary of the Coast league.

which to think, and he has the staying power to keep up these rushing tactics for the full hour. Consequently, the match will certainly lack none of the speed and color generally seen only when two villains get together.

There will be villains on the card also. One of them will be Pat O'Dowdy, rough and tough Oklahoma wrestler, who will tangle with Tex Hager, Crawwell exponent of science and skill, in the semiwindup. O'Dowdy is the former Oklahoma amateur king, while Hager has maintained a long and brilliant record of victories here and in other arenas throughout the northwest. A real battle of skill vs. gashouse tactics is likely to be in store for the customers Saturday night.

Another meanie on the card will be Bulldog Jackson, who is also the "clown prince" of the grappling realm. He will tangle with Milt Olsen, popular Minnesotan, in the 30-minute opener. Jackson's specialty is the hammerlock, while Olsen is noted for his all-round speed and science.

The opener will commence promptly at 8:30. Reserve seat tickets are going fast at the Club cigar store, and general admission seats are expected to be the only ones available Saturday night.

Portland Pro Grid Club Hires Trainer And Equipment Man

PORTLAND, Ore., July 21.—(AP)—Appointment of Lou Cummins, Vancouver, Wash., as trainer and equipment manager for Portland's new professional football club was announced here Thursday.

Cummins, who is also a general manager, emerged from a flurry of interviews with prospects to promise a list of "about 20" signed players by Saturday. Mathews stated his first informal drill for Sunday afternoon.

Rowe said players would be paid a flat guarantee per game, the amount differing with experience and fame.

Onetime Grid Star Charged With Death

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(AP)—John M. Maloney, 27-year-old chief petty officer and former Notre Dame football player, today awaited trial on charges of murdering Mrs. Mary Walker, wife of a navy cook. Municipal Judge Leroy Dawson yesterday denied Maloney's plea to reduce the charge to manslaughter and ordered him held without bail.

Mrs. Walker's nude body was found in her bedroom on July 9, the morning after she and Maloney had made a round of bars.

Two Holes-In-One Scored At Same Time

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—(AP)—The record book saw double Wednesday at the California country golf club when acres were scored at the same moment on two different holes of the course.

B. J. Bridgeford aced the 155-yard third hole as Chet Meaney aced at the same time was connecting for a "one" on the 115-yard 16th.

Andersson, Haegg In Crucial Meeting

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Arne Andersson and Gunder Haegg, the slim Swedes with the fleet feet, go at it again in Stockholm today and indications are that it's now or never as far as the mythical four-minute mile is concerned.

Unless the Swedish tracks are built down-hill, or there are 11 inches to the Swedish foot, these two foot racers deluxe are the hottest human boys in history. Both have reached their peak physically and currently are hotter than a two dollar pistol, as they proved Tuesday when Andersson whipped the distance in a record 4:01.6 and Haegg bested the old record by staggering home in 4:02.

Old Marks Smashed

For two years they have been making a mockery of the mile mark ever since Haegg did 4:06.2 to smash Sid Wooderson's five-year-old record of 4:04.4. Haegg then cut it to 4:04.5. Andersson hammered it down to 4:02.6 last year, and then took a full second off on Tuesday.

From their more recent performances it would seem that Andersson would be the lad to run the four-minute mile—if it is to be done. But Dan Ferris, the distinguished secretary of the AAU, believes that either man can accomplish the feat.

"There isn't much to choose between them," he explained. "And it depends on the type of race they run which man will turn the trick. Haegg runs more like Gil Dodds, setting a killing pace all the way, because he doesn't have a kick at the end. Andersson, on the other hand, has proved that he can stand a rough pace and still have a kick or sprint left at the end."

Both Capable
"I really believe that either of

Beavers Pounded For 8-0 Loss By Hollywood Stars

By United Press
The last place Sacramento Solons came back from their no-hit, no-run drubbing to defeat the league leading Oakland A's 6-5 in 10 innings last night, but the Oaks maintained their half-game Pacific Coast league advantage when Los Angeles absorbed a 14-3 beating from San Diego.

Seattle moved into a third place tie with San Francisco, edging out the Seals 6-5, while Hollywood blanked Portland 8-0.

Al McCreath's third double of the evening, followed by Jack Anger's infield hit and Forrest Rogers' long fly, scored the winning run for Sacramento in the 10th. Herman Pillette, 45 year old relief pitcher, got credit for the win, while Al Raimondi was the loser among four Oakland twirlers.

Rex Cecil Maintains Coast Hurling Lead

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(AP)—San Diego's Rex Cecil is leading Pacific coast pitchers for the sixth consecutive week after 17 victories and six defeats for a .739 mark.

The Padres right hander, today's erases showed, has struck out 154 batters and his teammate, Fireball Frankie Dasso, the leader in that department much of the time, is now second. Dasso has won 10 and lost 10.

Marino Pieretti, Portland southpaw, forged into second place with 15 wins and 7 losses, one victory ahead of Clem Dreisewer, Sacramento lefty, for whom a major league club is reported to have bid $37,500. The veteran Tom Seals of San Francisco remains in fourth place with 24 wins and 8 losses.

Horseshoe Title Won

PORTLAND, Ore., July 21.—(AP)—G. G. Clark, 47-year-old Battle-ground, Wash., man, held the Oregon horseshoe pitching title today. Flinging a ringer percentage running up to 74 per cent, Clark defeated a talented field which included two ex-state champions and one northwest champion.

Florida Army Men Claim Ring Crown Of Armed Forces

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 21.—(AP)—The service boxing championship of the United States is being claimed by the team from the Jacksonville naval air technical training center following a series of victories over top-ranking army, marine and coast guard outfits.

The Natick boxers took the southeastern ring title away from the Charleston coast guardsmen last May, successfully defended the championship twice against the Camp Stewart, Ga., team and last week trounced the Parris Island marines, rated by some as the nation's leading service team.

"The victory over Parris Island makes us the champs, according to the way I look at it," declared Lt. Roy Womach of Grandview, Wash., mentor of the Natick team. "When you whip the kingpin, you take his place—and that is just what our boys did."

Cascade Rivals To Clash Friday

The old Cascade pennant race is all knotted up again and how! The rampaging Snelstrom Braves, by virtue of their 9-3 victory over the Hills Creek Hillbillies, have swept into a tie for first place with the high-flying Miller Lumbermen, each having four games won to a single defeated challenger against them.

The Braves, who have likewise been strengthened by the return of Bob Gibson and by the possibility of Earl Torgeson remaining to play for some time longer, meet the last-place Springfield Cards in the seven-inning nightcap Sunday. The Cards have been rather easy meat during the second half, but are just about due for a win, and the Braves may well find themselves knocked right out of the race if they are not careful.

The Cards have shown considerable improvement in batting punch recently, although their pitching has been definitely that of a tail-end club, and the loss of Walt Pearson, who quit in a huff last week, does not help matters any.

Seldom does it occur in a league race that fans get a chance to see three pennant contenders in action in one afternoon. The first game of this red-hot program will commence at 1:15, and the second at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

Potent Softballers Finally Beaten 10-5

The Junior Chamber of Commerce softball team whacked the hitherto undefeated Baptists 10-5 in a city league game Thursday night. Carmichael held the hard-hitting Baptists to five bingles while his mates were garnering six off Wilkinson and Davis and turning them into 10 runs with the help of four Baptist errors.

The strong 1540th Engineers laced out a 25-3 win over the Knights of Columbus squad, with Neidel leading the batting attack with two home runs, while Robinson and Spector hit for the circuit once apiece. Pipkin garnered a triple and a double, while

Williams Wins in Dragg Garden Bout

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Probably the worst main event in Madison Square Garden's history was inflicted upon a very small portion of the public last night when young Ike Williams shadow-boxed to a 10-round decision over July "the Clutch" Kogon before 6,543 fans.

Williams, 20-year-old Negro lightweight of Trenton, N. J., came into effective contact only once with his fleeing, clutching opponent from New Haven, Conn. That was in the 10th round when he floored Kogon for the first time in more than 9 professional bouts.

But as clutching July went down, like a distraught football tackle, he pulled down Williams with him; and they fell half through the ropes out onto the ring apron. They returned to the ring at the count of seven.

Williams, winning his 43rd bout in his last 44, scaled 134½ pounds, three pounds more than Kogon.

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(AP)—Dominic Jebbia, former banana peddler who bought the exclusive but debt-ridden Midwick country club at a public auction for $178,000 three years ago, today sold the golf layout for an undisclosed sum.

Jebbia, who purchased the club because he "wanted to own the nicer things in life," made the sale to Charles M. Cooper, vice-president, treasurer and general manager of the Cooper lumber company.

Fox Hit For Loss By Nashville Club

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 21.—(AP)—It just wasn't Howard Fox's night yesterday evening as he lost his fourth game of the season against 15 wins, 6-1, with Nashville administering the shellacking. Fox allowed 13 hits and seven runs in seven innings before being retired. He struck out three men, gave up six walks, and hit one batter.

Afield he was credited with a single putout. He scored no hits or runs in two trips to the plate.

ARITHMETIC—POOR

An error was made in totaling the batting average of Bill Shear, outfielder for the Snelstrom Braves of the Cascade league. His average was published at .311 when it should have been .400.
