WM. D. UPSHAW

Wm. D. Upshaw of Atlanta, Ga., will speak at the First Baptist church Thursday at 8 p. m. on the theme: "Who Will Rule the World—God and the Right, or Hitler, the Japs and the Devil?" For seven years, it is said, Upshaw was a cripple, confined to his bed. At the age of 31 he made his way through college to national prominence, holding a seat in congress for eight years. He has served as vice president of the Southern Baptist convention.
Preceding the address by Upshaw in the auditorium of the church there will be a quarterly business meeting of the church in the chapel at 7:30. Officers will be elected to fill vacancies and other business will be transacted. The monthly meeting of the board of deacons and deaconesses will be held at 9:15 in the parlor.

Teen Dance Switched

Teen-age dancers are having their weekly recreation "wherever repairs are not being made."
When the series of youth dances opened late in June, the Eugene recreation commission planned to alternate the dances between the two junior high schools, Wilson and Roosevelt. But they forgot to make allowances for the war-time repairman.
Until this week, every Saturday night dance has been held at Wilson, while repairs were being made at Roosevelt. Starting this Saturday night from 8:30 to 11:30, the dances go to Roosevelt, while a bit of surgery is performed on the Wilson auditorium.
Perhaps, eventually, a regular schedule will be possible, it is hoped.
