

Local Democrats Meet Tuesday; GOP's Eye State Event, Aug. 19

By MARIAN LOWRY
Democrats of the county start things stirring locally in the way of political meetings the coming week, while the Lane republicans all have their eyes focused on the organizational session for the state republican central committee in Portland next Saturday.

Bourbons Meeting
The democratic central committee, through its chairman, Lee C. Stuart, has called a meeting in the county courtroom at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Henry C. Aiken, newly named state democratic central committee chairman, is to be here to meet with the group. Invitation is extended to all democrats of the county to attend.

Also arranged for democratic women, next Thursday, is a get-acquainted meeting at 2 p.m., Osburn hotel, all democratic women being invited. Mrs. Esther Dunlap, vice-chairman of the county central committee, is arranging the meeting.

For GOP Groups
Big event for republicans preliminary to launching the fall campaign is the meeting of the state central committee next Saturday in Portland, the gathering to be a combination one for all republican groups, climaxing with a big rally Saturday evening, when Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, congressman from Illinois, will address the group.

The Portland session has all the earmarks of a lively one for the state party organization.

Election of officers, the campaign finance set-up, and launching of the Dewey-Bricker organization throughout Oregon are up for action at this gathering.

While there has been some stir noticeable in all sections of the state the past two months regarding a change of officers for the state central committee, it seems generally agreed in advance that Niel R. Allen of Grants Pass will be re-elected as chairman, the only excitement due in the election being an expected change in the state vice-chairmanship, the office now held by Mrs. John Y. Richardson of Portland. Although the "executive set-up" has been featured much in the conversations here and there, it is taken for granted there will be no change there, since Allen is due to be re-elected, and that means Carl Moses will continue as executive secretary.

Nielsen Stated
Interesting Lane county republicans is the fact that Kenneth Nielsen, state committeeman from the local county central organization, is slated to be re-named as secretary of the state committee.

The program is crowded for the Saturday sessions, but apparently the effort has been made to leave out no one. The state central committee assemblies at the Portland hotel at 10 a.m. Saturday, concluding its session in the afternoon with elections.

Oregon Republican clubs will sponsor a no-host luncheon at the Benson hotel at 12 noon, Saturday. During the morning, Saturday, this GOP group is having an executive session at the Portland hotel.

During the afternoon, Saturday, 3 until 6 o'clock, Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, Oregon's republican national committeewoman, will entertain at her home with a tea for all republicans.

Congressional committees of the state central committee are holding their respective sessions Saturday, each group meeting with its representative in congress, these meetings to be at the Portland hotel. Congressmen James W. Mott, first district; Lowell Stockman, second; Homer Angell, third; and Harris Ellsworth, fourth, all have been invited, as have Senator Guy Cordon and Wayne L. Morse, republican nominee for the long term in the senate.

The rally with Congressman Dirksen as speaker comes at 8 p.m. Saturday, sunken ballroom of Portland Masonic temple.

As usual, much of the planning and talk get under way Friday evening, most delegations moving in early to be there for the night-before doings. Also, a reception from 8 to 10 p.m. Friday is slated at republican state headquarters, Morgan building.

Going from Here
Quite a delegation is heading to the Portland session from Lane county republican ranks, including Kenneth Nielsen and Patricia Sylvers, the two voting members from here, being state committeeman and state committeewoman, respectively; James A. Rodman, Sr., chairman of the Lane county central committee; Mrs. W. R. Curry, vice-chairman of the Lane committee; Robert M. Fischer, Jr., secretary of the Lane county committee and member of the state executive board of the Oregon Republican clubs; Ben F. Dorris and Ed G. Boehnke, among the executive board members for the county organization; State Senator Angus Gibson; State Representatives Earl Hill and John R. Snellstrom; County Commissioner Allen P. Wheeler; Elmer Maxey of Springfield, president of the Lane county chapter of the Oregon Republican clubs; L. Clifton Culp, president of the local chapter of the State Federation of Young Republicans.

Considerable work on starting out the state-wide Dewey-Bricker organization will come forth at the Portland gathering. Ralph H.

ent loan funds, ranging in amounts from $1,000 to $3,000. These funds are available for two types of loans; namely, regular loans for a period of six months to two years running from $100 to $300 and emergency loans of small amounts for a period of 60 days or less. The university makes a 50-cent service charge on emergency loans and a going interest rate on regular loans.

To be eligible to borrow from the loan fund, the student must have attended the university at least one term and have made a grade-point average of C or better, that is, the average required for graduation. The regular loan funds require that the student secure the signature of two property holders to his note, and the gancy loan funds are made without any additional security. "While the university is glad to receive gifts for the fund, right now the real need is for help in the form of outright scholarships," Dean Earl, director of the fund, or to Mrs. Hazel P. King, dean of women.

Grange Asks Enforce Or Drop Thistle Law

A resolution has been sent by Lorane Grange to the county court asking that the thistle eradication law either be enforced or suspended for the duration.

The resolution asks that either the thistles be cut on all lands, according to the law, or that the law be waived for the year because farmers are being penalized for not cutting the thistles, while the thistles are allowed to grow on logged off lands owned by lumbermen and the government.

U.O. Student Loan Funds $136,869

Student loan funds at the university total $136,869.71, of which the largest is the general loan fund of $40,000, representing donations and gifts from various people who contribute to the loan fund and do not wish to set up any special fund, according to Virgil D. Earl, dean of men, chairman of the scholarship loan fund.

Second largest is the Rose M. Hollenbeck loan fund of $28,000, established in 1943; and third is the Alice W. Wrisley and Adelaid Wrisley church endowment loan fund of $21,000, established in 1924. In all there are 41 differ-
