K. P. Delegates to Grand Lodge Named

Helmet Lodge, No. 33, Knights of Pythias, elected delegates Monday which will be held in Portland, day night, to the grand lodge Oct. 9 and 10. A. F. Bremer is the holdover delegate, with Fred Ludford as alternate; Dr. Virgil L. Brooks was named as delegate for two years, with Clarence M. Miller as alternate.

The meeting followed a stag dinner held at the lodge hall at 6:30 p. m., which was well attended. After the meeting, moving pictures were shown by George Zebley, of fighting in France, fighting in Tarawa, and the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius in Italy.

Vancouver Shipyards To Build Transports

VANCOUVER, Wash. — (P) — Award of a contract for 20 C-4 transports—the largest ships to be built for the maritime commission in the Pacific northwest—was announced by Kaiser shipyard here.

Kaiser officials said work would begin within a month, and the first ship would slide off the ways toward the end of this year.

state department of education.

In this capacity he has written several health bulletins now in general use in Oregon schools and a high school health guide which has been used in all Oregon high schools for several years. He is also the author of a dozen articles on health education and swimming, published in Intercollegiate Guide and The Journal of Health and Physical Education magazines.

Hoyman was graduated from Ohio State University in 1931, doing four years' work in three, and then went to Columbia University where he obtained his master's degree in physical education work. He is now at work on his doctor's degree, from Columbia, on school health education.

In addition to his work as assistant and associate professor at Oregon, he has done special work toward his doctor's degree in the graduate schools at Stanford University, Ohio State and the Michigan School of Public Health.

'Poor' Veteran Leaves $20,000

OMAHA, Neb. — (P) — A 78-year-old Spanish war veteran who died last October was believed by friends to be penniless and without kin.

Douglas County Court records now show that the veteran, Tom Lamb, a former county employee, left an estate totaling about $20,000 which was inherited by a 53-year-old son in England who never knew his father.

Because of his accepted poverty, Lamb was buried for $135. For several years before his death, the Omaha Shrine carried his membership without requiring payment of dues, although Lamb had not asked for that consideration.

Among his possessions was found a key to a bank safety deposit box which contained $15,000 in cash. In the same bank was a checking account for $2,605.04. Other property brought the value of the estate to $19,223.04.

Letters from a nephew in Canada written to Lamb were found which led to the search for the son in England. Through a British lawyer, Isabella Stanley, 82, filed an affidavit stating that she was present at the wedding of her sister, Agnes Jane Salmon, and Tom Lamb in 1890. She said they had one son.

Mrs. Stanley said that Lamb was a draper before he went to America and became a stock farmer. He returned to marry her sister. He sailed for America again when their son was six months old and did not see his family again. Mrs. Lamb died in 1921.

A brother of Mrs. Lamb, Alan Backhouse Salmon, 84, of England, confirmed Mrs. Stanley's affidavit.

Finally, an affidavit was filed in England by Charles Arnold Royston Lamb, a postman, who stated he was Tom Lamb's son. Charles Lamb produced his parents' marriage certificate and his own birth certificate.

Tom Lamb never told friends about his family. After claims and taxes have been paid, nearly $17,000 will go to the son he never knew.
