

Republican Precinct Women Will Gather

An organizational meeting for all republican precinct committeewomen is being arranged for the coming Saturday, 2:30 p. m., Eugene hotel, by the Lane county chapter of Pro America. Invitation is extended to all republican women to attend as well as precinct workers.

Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, republican national committeewoman from Oregon, and Mrs. John Y. Richardson, state committee vice-chairman, both of Portland, will be here for the meeting, to be presided over by Mrs. Henry A. Tromp, local Pro America chairman.

Mrs. W. R. Curry, Lane county republican central committee vice-chairman, will meet the group and will introduce Mrs. Richardson, who is to discuss organization. Mrs. Tromp will present Mrs. Gerlinger, who is to discuss the candidates as personalities and highlights on the national ticket outlook.

Tea will be served following the meeting. Mrs. Wayne L. Morse, wife of the republican nominee for the U. S. senate, long term, and Mrs. Harris Ellsworth, wife of Oregon's fourth district congressman, are to pour.

Congress Declares Recess To Nov. 14

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Congress voted to recess today to Tuesday, Nov. 14—a week after the national elections.

Many members began leaving the capital, homeward-bound to put a whirlwind finish on their political campaigns, soon after the house concurred in the senate's adjournment resolution.

Under the resolution's terms, congress could be called back for any legislative emergency by its presiding officers, or upon a joint written request of the majority or minority leaders of the two houses.

Civic Music Group Sets Standard High

From the preliminary talent meeting of the Eugene Civic Music association, held Wednesday evening, to discuss suitability of artists available, and results of the first half of the week's campaign, the executive committee Thursday expressed belief that this year's series of concerts would equal, if not surpass, those presented as the Greater Artists series of former years.

Former series have had a minimum of five concerts. It is hoped to surpass this both in number and in class of talent. Memberships are being reported daily at the drive headquarters in the lobby of the Osburn hotel, where many individuals, especially those from other parts of Lane county who desire to attend the concerts, are calling to purchase memberships. It is stated that arrangements may be made at concert time to accommodate legitimate house-guests visiting in the home of members, but that they must be from without the limits of this area, all of Lane county.

Consideration also will be given to members of the armed forces who are home on furlough at the time of the concerts, who are members of families who possess memberships in the association. It will be possible to obtain special admittance tickets for those on furlough, it is reported.

A rush for memberships is anticipated Friday and Saturday, last two days of the week-long drive. Those who conveniently can do so are asked to obtain their memberships today, to avoid the rush of closing days.

Adult memberships, which entitle holders to attend all concerts of the series, which will be held at McArthur court, sell for $5, with an additional $1 tax, making a total of $6. Student memberships sell at $3, and as formerly, university students will find their membership included in the general ASUO fee.

Admittance to concerts will be by membership only, no single admissions to be sold with the exceptions noted above, house-guests or members of the family on furlough from armed service.

armored column speeding up from the Nijmegen area and the airborne force at Arnhem 10 miles to the north will clear the way for a further swing around the Siegfried line, which ends at Kieve, 18 miles southeast of Arnhem.

A German military spokesman quoted by the Berlin radio reported a "narrow passage of communications" between the Nijmegen and Arnhem groups, indicating that advanced elements had made a junction. He said the passage was under heavy gunfire and virtually useless as a supply route.

Only a few narrow cauls between Nijmegen and Arnhem barred the way to the broad German plains sweeping eastward 200 miles beyond the Dutch border to Berlin, and it appeared that the Germans had left little in the immediate area to halt the American and British thrust.

The Germans, faced with the possible loss of 100,000 men pinned against the Dutch coast west of Nijmegen as well as a direct invasion blow toward Berlin, were throwing every available man, gun, and tank into the battle.

An especially enlarged membership card in the 50,001 Dewey clubs of Oregon was handed up to Dewey by Robert M. Fischer, Jr., Lane county chairman for the Dewey clubs. After signing the card, Dewey commented: "There, it is not only official—it

Toastmasters Will Have New Officers

Eugene Toastmasters will have a new set of officers next month. Dr. Richard E. Walstrom, elected Tuesday night at a meeting in the Eugene hotel, will take charge at the meeting Oct. 3. He succeeds R. Grant Crakes, who becomes deputy governor.

Elmer Gustafson will become vice president. Merv Dahl was reelected secretary and treasurer and C. E. McLean was named sergeant-at-arms. Fred Brenne was chairman of the nominating committee. Dr. Walstrom moves up from vice president to his new post. Carroll Adams has served as sergeant-at-arms during the past six-months term.

At Tuesday's session M. S. Barker was toastmaster. Speakers were Hubert Moore, Ross Hall, Robert Christner, and Jud Compton. Ed Thurston served as general critic, assisted by Dr. Walstrom, Gustafson, James Rodman Jr., and Brenne.

is it one can't put the finger on in the way of doubt?

The visitation in the train car brought the conclusion to this individual that the lack of warmth, or rather spontaneity, detected in the Portland appearance probably is due to modesty bordering almost on timidity, on the part of the New York governor. And some will say that sounds queer, considering Dewey as the former racket-busting district attorney and now governor of the Empire state, and considering the very calm and deliberate manner in which he spoke at Portland.

Anyway, we just suspect he is shy of putting on any too animated dramatic show.

Dewey has a beautiful speaking voice and his delivery is very nearly perfect except for a little more spontaneity—well, maybe, we just thought there should have been a little more unbending, a little more emoting in the Portland talk (and that was a poor example to use for any criticism, since, after all, Dewey and his party had been through some very severely grueling and nerve-jolting experiences just preceding his appearance on the Portland platform.)

And, then maybe, when the campaign really warms up Dewey becomes warmer, too.

Mrs. Dewey is very attractive, one of those persons who radiates charm and personality—and she likewise has what it takes to be calm under all circumstances. She received a head injury in the Castle Rock wreck, one that caused a headache for hours, but she smilingly went through the rest of the evening's program in Portland, Tuesday (including that awful ordeal of handshaking for nearly two hours as a mob filed by), and Wednesday was on the train, appearing refreshed and ready to meet a new day's experiences.

Still the country girl who was really thrilled with the train ride, this person couldn't help but entertain a fleeting supposition: "If Gov. Dewey is elected, then I can say, oh yes, I have met the president. I rode on a special train with him, and visited with him for a minute or two." Oh well, all republicans have a right to their dreams.

Press representatives greeted newcomers getting on at Portland with the wise-crack: "Don't you realize what might happen to you, joining this crowd?"

The press group received the brunt of the train wreck damage, and several on the train Wednesday had bruises and scratches on their faces and heads.

One correspondent pointed out to us has recently returned from the European war fronts, unscratched, and in the Tuesday mishap received a brutal crack on the nose.

At the ice arena in Portland Tuesday night, the press section resembled a boxing arena just through with a battle royal more than it did a press row—some heads being swatched in bandages, adhesive tape being here and there over face and heads, and one or two limping from leg injuries.

Westbrook Pegler, noted columnist, put on a very special show as he staggered into the Multnomah hotel, Tuesday afternoon, after thumbing a ride on a truck from Castle Rock. "—, what a trip!" he moaned. When someone called out, "what do you think of the wild west?" Pegler shot back, "give me New York!"

Service Award Is Given Mrs. Jackson

Mrs. Joseph H. Jackson, chairman of the Lane county Red Cross chapter's surgical dressings department, Wednesday evening received the Zonta club award given to a woman who has been outstanding in community service.

This was the first award given out by the club, which will give a similar recognition four times during the year, honoring women of Eugene and Lane county deemed worthy of honor because of community service. A brief case, with her name in gold lettering on it, was presented Mrs. Jackson, with a proper note telling of the honor. Mrs. C. A. Huntington made the presentation.

Mrs. Jackson has been head of the surgical dressings department at the Red Cross for the past four years, and in that time total of dressings have been made for this department will be over 1,000,000 for the months of 1944. In recognition of her service, credit to the more than 100 women of Eugene and Lane county who have assisted her out the dressings.
