OUR CITIZENS IN SERVICE

CAPT. NOMBALAIS

News of the promotion of their son, Frank Beauchamp Nombalais, from first lieutenant to captain in the air corps ferrying command, came to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nombalais of 2052 Potter street on their son's 28th birthday, making it a very happy occasion.

Capt. Nombalais is again overseas, for most of the past year, and is based in Italy. He has written that he sees the Isle of Capri almost daily, and that he recently landed on what once was Mussolini's private field. He also wrote of a harrowing experience, when he was caught at night in a storm, had to fly by instruments only for five hours and 40 minutes, then landed with but five minutes' gas supply to spare.
 Since going overseas this time, he has been in India, Egypt, Aden and Italy. Previously, he served overseas in Greenland, Iceland and England.

LT. CARLSON WOUNDED

Carlson, whose wife, Mrs. Yvonne Carlson, makes her home in Eugene with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Carlson, is in a hospital in England since being wounded in action June 19, in France. He is in infantry.

Resolution On News Freedom Pushed

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee has set up a five-member subcommittee to put the finishing touches on a resolution calling for an unfettered international exchange of independent news as a means of promoting world peace.

The subcommittee, headed by Senate Majority Leader Barkley, (Ky.), also includes Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa), Thomas (D-Utah), White (R-Me), and Vandenberg (R-Mich).

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) prepared to submit the final result to the senate as soon as the committeemen agree on wording and Sen. Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, said he knows of no opposition to prompt action, possibly this week.

Connally and Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), and Rep. Fulbright (D-Ark.), in the house, have their own versions of how best to put congress on record, but their goals are similar.

Secretary of State Hull, replying to an Associated Press query as to his thoughts on the subject of international news freedom, said in a statement Monday:

"The whole question of freedom of information has been under study in the department of state for some time. I have consistently supported the cause of freedom of news and I would support any practical measure to give international recognition to this principle."

It has been learned.

Simpson was taken into the army in 1943 and was stationed at Camp Adair, leaving from there for overseas. He was a student at Eugene high school before going into the army.

A brother, Cadet Hugh G. Simpson is stationed at Carlisle, N. M.

MAJOR BLYTHE PRODUCER

Word recently was received here from Major Harvey Blythe, now of the 70th Division, SSO, at Camp Leonard Wood, Mo., that he now is producing shows for the entertainment of the camp personnel. The first of these undertakings was a magical revue entitled "Rock 'N' Rhythm" staged earlier this month in the camp theater. Says Major Blythe about the production; "This is really a hit."

Before being transferred, Major Blythe was stationed for several years on the University of Oregon campus as a supply officer and was given his commission as a captain in 1941.
