

Turkeys Plentiful This Christmas

By WALTER WARREN
SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The Pacific coast, as well as the whole nation, will have turkey in an abundance never seen before this Christmas but many housewives will have trouble getting small turkeys.

The turkey crop hit record size this year in California, several other states, and for the nation. Both civilian and military supplies are plentiful.

Stocks have gone into storage in the last few weeks at an unprecedented rate. Along the Pacific coast the flow into freezers has been more than seven times as great as a year ago.

Coast freezer stocks totaled more than 13½ million pounds on Dec. 1—more than four times last year's hoard. Most of that belongs to the fighting men. It will be shipped for variation of meat diet during early 1945. Heavy shipments have lately been made to Hawaii.

The industry, in recent years trying to build up turkey as a regular year-round meat, instead of just a holiday treat, seems to have sold the idea to the armed forces, whether intentionally or not.

There will be big supplies through the first half of 1945, as laying hens are marketed. That is why housewives will have little luck getting 12-15 pound turkeys for Christmas. Growers who got 30 cents apiece for turkey eggs during the hatching season this year are keeping hens for another try at that lucrative market. The holdout of turkey hens points a prospective finger toward another big turkey-growing season in 1945. Turkey prices to consumers are about at ceiling prices here—51 cents a pound. The office of price administration has told wholesalers they can sell to consumers as low as 48.3 cents a pound, beginning tomorrow, Dec. 21. That permission revokes a previous order against wholesalers going into the retail market.

President's Christmas Message Sent Scouts

In his annual Christmas message to the Boy Scouts of America, President Roosevelt calls the "self forgetful service" of the Boy Scouts "the perennial reward of scouting."

President Roosevelt, honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, has been active in scouting for more than 20 years. The greetings are being sent to the nation's 1,787,011 scouts, air scouts, cubs and their leaders, according to K. A. Wells, scout executive of the Oregon Trail council.

The message, written from the White House, reads: "To the Boy Scouts of America: Sincerest Christmas greetings! May the new year bring to each of them that joy and satisfaction of self-forgetful service which is the perennial reward of scouting. Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Canadian Hero Home For Christmas

MONTREAL—(BUP)—Private Ernie "Smoky" Smith, the "one man army," is winging his way home for Christmas.

The New Westminster hero almost single-handedly routed an enemy force of tanks, heavy guns and 30 infantrymen to hold the vital Savoie bridgehead in Italy and win the Victoria cross.

Smith, first Canadian buck private in this war to win the empire's highest award for valor on a battlefield, was handed the coveted decoration by King George at a private investiture in London on Monday. He told reporters later that the investiture lasted only a few minutes, but to him "it seemed like hours."

Sunday School Students Get Candy Priorities

PORTLAND—(AP)—Kiddies who have attended Portland Sunday Schools faithfully will be awarded with hard-to-get Christmas sweets.

Most of a 30,000-pound earload of holiday candy due this week has already been reserved for church festivities, a large wholesale house reported today. The supply, imported from Cuba, will be ordinary hard mixes often used as after-dinner or bridge-party treats.

Scientists Coming To Campus For Talks

Dr. G. W. Bendie of the Stanford university faculty and Rev. James B. Macelwane, seismologist and professor of geophysics at St. Louis university, St. Louis, Mo., have been scheduled to speak on the University of Oregon campus during winter term.

The speakers are brought to the campus under the sponsorship of Sigma Xi, national science honorary. A lecture fund, for the purpose of bringing to Eugene prominent scientists who will lecture on subjects in which they are specialists, was created in November, 1944, by Sigma Xi. As announced by Dr. J. M. McGee, president of the honorary, a total of $63 has been contributed to the fund by faculty members and townspeople.

Dr. Bendie is slated to speak here Jan. 23. Father Macelwane will lecture March 23. His topic has been announced as "The Interior of the Earth."

NEW kind of ASPIRIN tablet doesn't upset stomach

When you need quick relief from pain, do you hesitate to take aspirin because it leaves you with an upset stomach? If so, this new medical discovery, SUPERIN, is "just what the doctor ordered" for you.

Superin is aspirin plus—contains the same pure, safe aspirin you have long known—but developed by doctors in a special way for those upset by aspirin in its ordinary form.

This new kind of aspirin tablet dissolves more quickly, lets the aspirin get right at the job of relieving pain, reduces the acidity of ordinary aspirin, and does not irritate or upset stomach—even after repeat doses.

Tear this out to remind you to get Superin today, so you can have it on hand when headaches, colds, etc., strike. See how quickly it relieves pain—how fine you feel after taking. At your druggist's, 15¢ and 39¢.

Ambassador Fears Germans In Spain

LONDON—(AP)—Lord Templewood said today in his first speech since his retirement as British ambassador to Madrid that Spain was "morally occupied" by the Germans for most of the past five years.

Templewood, the former Sir Samuel Hoare, made his maiden speech in the house of lords after his return from Spain last week. He said that while he was in Spain, Nazi Gestapo agents watched every move he made, living in a house next door to his residence and looking over the wall at him.

Templewood told the house that German influence pervaded many important sections of Spanish life, adding:

"Although Spain was not militarily occupied in those early years of the war, Spain was morally occupied."

Templewood said the Gestapo was "constantly trying to suborn my domestic staff" and continued: "I saw the Gestapo taking photographs when a riot was stirred up for the purpose of breaking windows of the British embassy."

"I saw again what was more sinister. From time to time the Gestapo would seize some man or woman in Spanish territory and take them over the frontier to their death or torture in Germany or one of the occupied countries."

"I had the conviction that this German influence—this terrible

German peril—was leaving behind it corruption, bitter hatreds, an dvendettas, and was steadily undermining all the moral standards of life in which it instilled its poison."
