

Rehearsal Monday For Choral Club

First rehearsal for the spring term of Eugene Women's Choral club will be held Monday evening at eight o'clock at Fellowship hall of Central Presbyterian church. No meetings have been held since the winter concert in December.

A meeting of the executive board was held recently at the home of Miss Maude Denmore, chairman, to plan for the spring concert, which will be held early in May. New music will be distributed at the Monday session. Glenn Griffith will direct the club and Miss Helen Luvas will serve as its accompanist, as in the first part of the year.

New members are not being accepted at the present, registration standing at approximately 85, nearly one-third above the average. Any woman interested in eventual affiliation with the group may leave her name with Miss Denmore, for consideration when an opening shall occur.

Oregon law school), and Herbert R. DeWart of Gold Beach.

Besides Marsh, other officers of the state bar group attending were F. M. Sercombe, secretary; and the following members of the board of governors: Judge Crawford of Portland, A. N. Orcutt of Roseburg, W. H. Masters of Portland, J. B. Bedingfield, Coos Bay; Bryan Goodenough, Salem; Hugh L. Barzee, Portland; John B. Ebbinger, Klamath Falls; Donald R. Husband, Eugene.

With Judge Skipworth at the banquet were Mrs. Skipworth, their eldest son, Harold Skipworth; and their daughter, Mrs. R. C. Wallinger of Portland.

Several lawyers from Albany, Cottage Grove, and other nearby cities also were in attendance. Special music included solos by Hal Young, Eugene tenor.

The 30th anniversary of Judge Skipworth taking his oath of office to the circuit court bench was Thursday, Jan. 4, but the banquet was held Saturday evening as an easier date for out-of-town guests to attend.

School Gets $750 From Lumber Firm

Gift of $750 from the Giustina Brothers Lumber company, Eugene, to the McKenzie River school near Blue River, the money to be used for playground equipment and general improvements for recreational facilities, is announced by the school officials.

The school board has expressed appreciation, especially since the district this year could not include these needed funds for playground equipment in the school budget. The Giustina Brothers Lumber company logging interests are in the vicinity of the school district.

Noti Girl's Article

Betty Ann Petersen, 14-year-old 4-H club member of Noti, has the distinction of having an article written by her printed in the National Club News, a magazine published in the east. "Many Learn to Swim" is the title of her article and in it she tells of the Lane county club summer camp, held June 24 to July 21 last year.

Each leader whose story is published in the periodical receives a set of beautiful flags, the American flag and a 4-H club flag. E. A. Danielson, county club leader, will tell about this article and about clothing clubs and the material that can be used in his weekly radio talk over KORE Monday morning at 6:45 o'clock.

Saturday to hammer Chici and Haha in the Bonin group. Jima Isles Shelled

The Pacific fleet unleashed its greatest display of surface and air power in three years of war to hurl great salvos of shellfire into Jima while reports from the fleet revealed that carrier units had reached the China coast for the first time in the Pacific war.

Enemy broadcasts reporting the presence of strong convoys off Luzon frankly admitted the possibility of landings on the large island, but MacArthur's communique merely reported destructive strikes at important railroad lines running south from Manila. One locomotive and 100 freight cars were destroyed and three key railroad bridges were wiped out or wrecked in the damaging attacks.

Nimitz also reported the occupation of the tiny atoll island of Fais (Tromelin), 950 miles east of the Philippines. Slight resistance was met in taking the small Carolinas island.

The communique said 111 Japanese planes were destroyed and 220 damaged, with 25 ships sunk and 58 damaged by third fleet units. The high toll of ships and aircraft, taken largely around Formosa—vital staging point to the Philippines—indicated that the fast carrier forces might have smashed a major enemy concentration, possibly assembling for a counter-offensive against MacArthur's forces.

The U. S. navy and marine airmen swept the China coast from Foochow to Hong Kong and could have landed at U. S. 14th airforce army bases in China, dispatches from the fleet said.

George W. Robbins

George W. Robbins, 82, of Coburg, died Friday at a local hospital. He was born July 27, 1862, at Winston Salem, N. C. His father, a tobacco planter and union army veteran, sold his ruined plantation and moved his family to a homestead in the Indiana forest. Robbins was reared on the frontier home, and was married in 1886 to Mary Fleece, who died before him.

Surviving him are a daughter, Mrs. R. L. Stoneberg of Eugene; two sons, Lt. U. G. Robbins of Chula Vista, Calif., and George Robbins of Longview, Wash.; a brother and a sister, 13 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Mr. Robbins was a member of the Christian church at Coburg. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Poole-Larsen mortuary, with interment at the family plot in the Coburg cemetery.

Idella Lusina Barker

Idella Lusina Barker of Junction City died Saturday in a local hospital. She was 77 years old and a native of Grenada, Minn., where she was born April 21, 1867. On Jan. 6, 1886, she married Alfred Charles Barker.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Eugenia Lovering of Springfield; five sons: William of Helena, Mont., Harry, Roy, Dave, and Rolla of Junction City; two brothers, L. D. and Otto Parker, and three sisters, Ida, Nettie, and Dora all of Grenada, Minn.; 12 grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren. A daughter preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held in Junction City Tuesday, Jan. 9, at 2 p.m. at the Miller-Sherman funeral home. Rev. Roger Carstensen of the Christian church in Junction City will officiate. Interment will be in the Junction City IOOF cemetery.

retary for the Gleemen and always the prime mover in the Gleemen associate membership drive, assisted by A. C. Stockstad, has mailed out invitations to all former associate members to join again this year.

Invitation is extended also to any and all others interested, this associate membership assuring continuance of the Gleemen as a community, non-profit organization.

"Don't wait for a letter or special invitation. Call us or come on in. Memberships are the same price as in former years, $5, including tax, and including the same privileges as before, two reserved tickets to each home concert," states Miller.

The associate membership drive is the only means by which the Gleemen can keep going as an organization, proceeds from all concerts going to some special project, this time to the Boy Scouts summer camp program.

The Gleemen hope that the proceeds of the concert will be sufficient to complete a fund started several years ago by the singers for the purpose of building a specific structure at the camp—a camp health center, or hospital, to be identified as the fruition of a Gleemen project.

The Feb. 16 concert will be the first one for nearly 20 new Gleemen singers who have affiliated with the chorus for the first time this season.

Kraut Takes Over Also, this will be the first concert under the direction of Dean Theodore Kraut, who took over as conductor following the departure of John Stark Evans, who conducted the chorus for many years.

Miss Rogndahl, immediately following the appearance with the Gleemen, is scheduled to sing at a command performance in New York City for Crown Princess Martha of Norway as the only singer in an all-celebrity Norwegian relief benefit program. Miss Rogndahl's appearance there is contingent upon the ability of the sponsors to arrange air travel for her to get there, otherwise too much time would be taken from her studies at the university where she is a senior music major and voice student of Sigurd Nilssen.

Enemy In Italy Faces Entrapment

ROME, Jan. 6—(AP)—Enemy troops in the Adriatic coastal sector of Italy, compressed by a swift Canadian drive into a pocket between Alfonsine, the Adriatic sea and the Valli di Comacchio, tonight faced entrapment and loss of their entire position in the eastern Po valley.

Eighty army Canadians, eliminating several weeks of tough slugging, cleared the whole southern shore of the shallow Comacchio lake, engulfed the town of Sant'Alberto, and to the southward swept the Germans from the east bank of the Senio river between Faenza and the Valli di Comacchio. Enemy troops in the area have been "routed," an allied headquarters spokesman said.

Fanning out to the east and west of the Comacchio lake, the Canadians pursued the fleeing German remnants, said to number about 60,000 men, as they sought to escape capture or annihilation. Five hundred prisoners were caught up as allied troops obliterated the enemy position on the Senio's east bank, recently termed by headquarters as "a substantial pocket of enemy resistance."

VFW Elects Noble Junior Vice Commander

At the regular meeting of the Post 293, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held Friday night, the past commanders filled the various offices and conducted the meeting. Seventeen new members were elected to membership, nine being present for initiation. Nominations and election to fill the vacant office of junior vice-commander were held at this meeting. Dr. Harold Noble was elected by a majority, there being two other contestants for the office.

Dr. Noble, instructor of history at the University of Oregon, served with the U. S. marine corps in the south seas area. He is the first veteran of World War II to hold office in the local post. The past-commanders officiating at this meeting were, W. K. Striker, chairman, George Tannehill, George Jenkins, Ross Beeson, Major W. G. White, John Quiner and Clinton Chezum. Entertainment and refreshments followed the business meeting.

To avoid overdoing sage flavor, poultry seasonings made of several different herbs are recommended.
