C.B.I. Round-Up Needles Globe-Trotting Congressmen

By JACK V. FOX

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (AP) — The C.B.I. Roundup, newspaper of the lonely American soldiers fighting the war in the isolated jungles of China, Burma and India, has gently but sharply needled junketing congressmen who omitted that front from their itinerary. The Jan. 4 edition which has just reached here revealed.

Staff Writer T-1 Dyolf Retlaw wrote its sarcastic lament under the heading: "It's a rough war for us G. I.'s." And he had a special word for "beauteous Rep. Clare Boothe Luce" who made a special trip to the Italian front despite "the exquisite torture of an earache." He suggested post war re-trials.

Dyolf Retlaw is Floyd Walker spelled backward. Floyd (Bucky) Walker is editor of the Roundup.
"We wonder whether the junketing congressmen have ever thought of their postwar futures?" he asked. "True, there will be the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and similar organizations. But what of the 1950 pressure group—a vast, powerful vocal bloc of ex-servicemen (to be known as the 'legion of them that never got called upon')—a force dedicated to removing from office, by orderly processes, of course, all legislators who gave them the brush-off. There may be a day of reckoning."

Less bitter than its recent attack upon movie stars who shun the discomforts of China, Burma and India or cut their visits short when they discover just how uncomfortable they are, the Roundup's comments on junketing congressmen was nevertheless sharp.

"None have knocked at our humble doors," he said, "and the round-up has now sadly surrendered the last flickering hope that they might."

"Mind you, this is not a complaint that the I-B and C theaters have been ignored. Indeed, we can picture the globe-trotting legislators fretting because they couldn't drop into our neck of the war for a spot of tea."

"But after all, their time is strictly rationed. From various authoritative sources, including our old friend, the Swedish traveler, we learn that the halls of congress are bulging with new bills of more varieties than claim-

Paratroop Landing Across Rhine Seen

By EDWARD H. HIGGS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Speculation that Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's allied airborne army may soon be called upon again to leap-frog the Rhine developed today as allied ground forces drove closer to the river in the Cologne sector.

The task of establishing bridgeheads across this mighty barrier, preparatory to a sweep into the heart of Germany, will be one of the greatest confronting allied commanders once their troops have crashed through the Siegfried line on a broad front.

A logical solution to the problem, in the opinion of military observers, would be to throw the American-British-Polish air fighters over the river to seize crossings for infantry and armored forces.

It is considered unlikely, however, that the signal for the take-off of the paratroopers will be given until powerful ground forces reach a position from which they can advance quickly to a junction with them.

Once before, at Arnhem in Holland, the airborne soldiers hurled the Rhine only to be forced back when supporting troops were unable to come up quickly enough to anchor the bridgehead they had won. This mistake in timing probably will not be repeated.

The Germans, of course, are aware of the threat of allied aerial landings and probably have taken measures to thwart them. In fact, one of the greatest problems in such an operation will be the location of an area suitable for the landings. Most of the logical areas behind the Rhine, military experts say, probably are studded with stakes, wires and other obstacles.

Free Movies Planned

A March of Time film of New England will be featured this week on the program of free movies sponsored by the educational activities board of the University of Oregon. Other featured short movies will be "The Flight of the Dragon," a colored movie of a bombing mission; "People of Canada" and "A Letter from Ireland" a pictorial report on the American soldiers stationed in Ireland.

These shows are brought to the university weekly for the benefit of students and interested faculty members and townspeople, it is pointed out by Horace W. Robinson, manager of the educational activities board. The film include some educational subjects and some purely entertaining.

Two continuous showings will be given Wednesday night, starting at 7:30 p.m. in 207 Chapman hall on the campus.

THE WHOLE HERD CHEERS WHEN IT HEARS "FARM-TESTED" IS BACK!

Instead of cheering bovines, we could have pictured a group of dairymen throwing their milk-making machines up into the air. Because it's good news from any point of view that Larro Dairy Feed is back with all its prewar quality. During the emergency, Larro Feeds were maintained at the highest nutrient level possible under wartime conditions. But now, with ingredient restrictions lifted, Larro Feeds are restored to their full quality standard. Look for the "Farm-tested" label!

Quality of feed is very important in order to help each cow do her best. Larro "Farm-tested" Dairy Feed is made only from sound ingredients of high quality. Larro is designed to supply the milk-making nutrients high producing cows must have. Larro Feeds have the full approval of Larro Research and the feed is made under the scrutiny of General Mills Products Control.
