

Man's Labor Gram Endorsed Hillman

YORK, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Sid Hillman, chairman of the CIO action committee, sent a message last night endorsing the program and his efforts to effect a settlement in the nation-wide steel strike. The CIO's "fullest support" of the firm stand you have in favor of wage increases to protect American workers from a drastic decline in living standards and to maintain the purchasing power essential to a healthy economy.

Mr. Hillman also said the CIO is particularly appreciative of the constructive and efficient effect of a settlement in the controversy, and added: "The refusal of the steel company to accept our eminently reasonable proposal fully indicates that they are placing their own selfish interests of the national welfare."

His Sergeant Must Have Been A Martinet Deluxe

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 22.—(AP)—Tom Thomas, 36, was wondering today if he should sleep with his parachute on. Thomas, a discharged paratrooper, said he dreamed that his sergeant had given him an order to "jump" and he leaped from his second story bedroom window. He plunged 30 feet to the bottom of an airshaft, but escaped injury. His landlady tossed him blankets to keep warm until the fire department arrived to rescue him.

Nazis Organized Pillage Of Europe

NUERNBERG, Jan. 22.—(AP)—French Prosecutor Henri Delpech charged at the Nazi war crimes trials today that the German high command sent pillaging teams into occupied countries of western Europe as soon as the battle situation permitted to seize and ship raw materials to the Reich.

Delpech said the teams were known as "economic detachments" and were made up of reserve officers who in civilian life were importers, engineers and wholesalers.

It was announced that Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson and Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, commander of the third army, would visit Nuernberg Wednesday and probably would attend the trials.

Delpech quoted secret instructions issued to economic detachments "in May 1940: 'The mission is to detect rapidly and completely in its sector raw materials needed for war, to note exactly their quantities and to prepare them for shipment.' The detachment was told to mark and guard machinery."

He charged the Germans closed Belgian factories with various excuses "in their malicious desire to get machines for removal to Germany."

On the human side, Delpech said, a German forced labor policy in Belgium resulted in dehumanization and impoverishment. He said the German experts will fully failed to recognize elementary needs of the population.
