

Eugene's Bid for State Hoop Tournament Site Discussed

By DICK STRITE
The Eugene Active Club, through the support and cooperation of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce, has offered the best facilities in the state as a site for future state championship basketball tournaments to the Oregon High School Activities Assn. board of control.

The proposal was made to the board at Salem during the state hoop playoffs last week, by Bob Cross, former Washington State College court star and president of the Active Club here. It was learned at that time that Salem had a proposal to provide more adequate facilities than the obsolete Willamette University gym, and that Astoria was making a bid in the interest of its USO pavilion.

Helping Hand Given Veteran By Red Cross

A story from the files of the Lane County chapter of the Red Cross:
A veteran, after serving in the armed forces for 25 months, and with a ten per cent disability, entered the University of Oregon shortly after his discharge under the servicemen's readjustment act.
He had rented an apartment for himself and his wife for $35 a month, and had incurred medical bills for treatments for his sick wife. GI benefits had been approved but he was informed that his check for education and maintenance would not arrive for two weeks. The veteran was falling in his class work because of nervous strain, and from lack of proper diet.
After all necessary verifications were made, the American Red Cross budgeted the needs of this couple and a grant for emergency maintenance was given. These Red Cross funds made it possible for the veteran to remain in school, improve his work through proper diet, and to see his wife's health improve also.

Vetch Field Inspections Made in Lane County

Willamette vetch field inspections are under way with H. E. Finnell, from Farm Crops Department of Oregon State College, making the inspections, County Agent O. S. Fletcher announced Wednesday.

On Tuesday and Wednesday Finnell and Dan W. Young, assistant county agent, made inspections of Willamette vetch in the Cottage Grove, Creswell, Mohawk, Elmira, and Bailey Hill communities.

On Thursday and Friday inspections will be made in the Junction City area.

MADRAS—(AP)—W. H. Hall, for 14 years mechanical foreman of the McMinnville Telephone-Register, has purchased the weekly Madras Pioneer from Mrs. May B. Johnson.
Editor of Jefferson County's only newspaper will be Joe D. Thomson, mid-Columbia newspaperman, Hall announced. Hall has been connected with the Pioneer in recent years.

gym at OSC, the committee has offered the following proposal—that the tournament be staged here until equally adequate facilities can be provided at some other community in the state.

There was one local faction proposing that if the board of control accepts the local offer, the tourney could be held here until OSC builds its planned hoop pavilion. At that time OSC would be allowed to hold the event for an equal number of years to the number of years staged here, and thereafter it would be alternated between the two state schools.

Actually the local committee is interested only in seeing that the prep hoopsters of the state have the best facilities available for the playing of their annual classic.

Salem Proposal
It was rumored here that the Salem proposal for remodeling the state fairgrounds horse show arena has a catch. Although Salem residents are reported to be willing to underwrite the $60,000 necessary for the job, they will expect the OHSAA to repay them at the rate of $5000 per year—in addition to a substantial rental fee payable to the state fair board.

It was understood from a reliable source that the only hurdle to clear moving of the tournament to Eugene is the inevitable protest from Oregon State College.

Eugene, with four major hotels and several smaller hotels and a great number of motels and rooming houses, has the housing facilities to care for state tournament participants and spectators alike. There would also be accommodations at fraternity and sorority houses and dormitories on the University of Oregon campus.

British Expect Trouble When German Food Shortage Eases

By TOM REEDY
HANOVER—(AP)—A senior military government officer says authorities expect trouble from young, militant Germans in about a year or two—when they are well fed.
This high-place officer not to be quoted by name, told a reporter this is not a possibility but a decided probability.
"The werewolves are dead now," he said in an interview. "That is because the German is busy trying to find food. But it will not always be that way."
"When Germany is better organized, when enough food is available so that a man doesn't have to spend all his time on that one problem, it will be different."

Brazilian Train Wreck Kills 200, Injures 300

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 21—(AP)—Dispatches said today approximately 200 persons were killed and 300 injured in a train wreck Tuesday near Aracaju, capital of the Brazilian coastal state of Sergipe. A locomotive and several cars of the train were reported derailed. The train operated between the cities of Aracaju and Capela.

The engineer, fleeing from enraged passengers who wished to lynch him, went to the police station in the village of Laranjeiras, dispatches said.
All the hospitals in Aracaju, 975 miles northeast of Rio De Janeiro, were said to be completely full and more victims were arriving. Relatives of the passengers waited in the station at Aracaju all night and crowded telephone and telegraph stations to obtain news.

OPA Increases Softwood Shingle Ceiling Price

SEATTLE—(AP)—An increase of 30 cents per square in ceiling prices for mill sales of western softwood shingles in all standard grades, expected to alleviate the serious shingle shortage by permitting several large mills to resume operations, became effective today, the OPA district office said.

Loggers have not been cutting cedar trees for shingles because of the low margin of profit, officials of the Red Cedar Shingle Industry, Inc., said.

Today's action increases ceilings on No. 1 western softwood shingles, 16 inches long, to $5 per square. A square covers 100 square feet of roof.
