

Crookshank Series of the Year' Near—

Brooklyn Increases Lead Over St. Louis

By LUNDQUIST
 What do you call a "no doubt" series of the year? The Cardinals and the St. Louis Browns are trying to win the "fifth series of the year" by getting some rare long-distance hitting licks in a 7-3 victory over Cincinnati. Without a home run since July 21 they got two, one from Dixie Walker and a three-run inside-the-park blast by Pete Reiser to hand Bucky Walters his first defeat after six straight victories. Hank Behrman saved the victory for Starter Hal Gregg with four innings of scoreless relief pitching.

CLIMBER

Combination of an always-popular House of David club and Bill Greene's all-local Cascade League brought to Eugene last Saturday night the largest crowd in local history—and the first time Civic had been pack-jammed to overflowing. Fact of the matter is, the estimated 6000 (including those behind the bars and sitting on the roofs of adjacent buildings) largest outdoor athletic gathering in Eugene outlasted the football game.

Many baseball fans were probably inconvenienced by lack of seating facilities, they were warned that it would be "first come, first served," and should the fact that the Cascade League insisted in the game with the Israelites that regular admission prices prevail, argument of the barnstorming club demanded that prices be between $1.50 and $1 minimum and that all children not less than 50 cents. Those prices would probably get some fans away, but the stands would still have been full. As it was, at regular league prices of 75 cents adults and children, the Davis collected some $1300 at their game and the Eugene school board took something like $800 and the Cascade League clubs split a $900 pot.

An All-Star team is not as strong as a regular league team. Bill Greene's aggregation that beat the Davids 7-3 played really well. It was a fine exhibition to show some of the brand of baseball played in the local semi-pro circuit. Walker, the 18-year-old Hills Creek pitcher who has been $1000 bonus to sign with the Brooklyn Dodgers, pitched a game and limited the dangerous lumberjacks to three hits, three runs and three errors. Walker worked so well that it was a shame not to allow him to go the route. All the Stars were charged with two errors, their defensive superb and a credit to local baseball.

Local baseball is not confined to the Cascade League, however. Barney Koch has a "sweet" little ball club representing Eugene American Legion post and should be a definite factor in the state championship when the Eugene Juniors play this coming weekend. As a whole, the Eugene players are polite and able to play the game. The Eugene players have been playing for the past 15 years—and that includes several fine teams the state finals by the late Frank Fassett. . . . It seems a lot more local fans have not taken the opportunity of watching.

Giustina promises to make a definite bid for the Cascade pennant during the second-half race and Manager Ed Long-established Reds have strengthened greatly by the addition of Archie Hayes, southpaw from Albany, to the mound. It is rumored that the Woodmen Lumber Company of Cottage Grove is anxious to field a team in the local league next year. It is considered building a good ballpark at Cottage Grove. It has been done the league could probably expand to six teams and give the players enough competition in number of contests and not give local fans too much baseball. Eugene fans getting as much, and as good baseball as Salem fans.

Die Adams Leads Cascade Slugging

Adams, ex-Portland, was crushing for the Millers, has now played the Miller games and has won the Cascade League leadership. The slugging has collected eight hits in four at bat for a lousy .421.

Slugging outfielder Bill Adams, is second in the 400 mark with Dick Wright, Hills Creek, who slugged his slump and hit third place with .378.

Line was George Walker, Adams, Miller, Hal LaRoy, and Red Miller, Snellstrom. Adams has 333 averages. Miller of the Billies with 333. Snellstrom of the Billies with 333. Snellstrom of the Billies with 333. Snellstrom of the Billies with 333.

Kane's Lavish Hole-in-One Contest Ends

Kane, Wash.—(P)—This year's contest to the zany of the famed athletic round was a success. The contest was held today at the tables first hole-in-one.

Under the lights Monday night, Pres Joe Albi shot more than $17,500 in an automobile and victrola.
