

ON A MERCY MISSION THAT ENDED IN DEATH for the driver and attendant, this ambulance hit at 11:51 a.m. Tuesday by the Southern Pacific's northbound Oregonian near Jasper. Driver Ed Button, 38, 1364 Lincoln St., and attendant Alfred Averill, 30, 1939 Seventeenth Ave. E. were going to the Hills Creek Lumber Co. to pick up William Brown, injured while at work. Button was thrown out of the ambulance which was carried 174 feet by the train. He died instantly, eye-witnesses said. The ambulance was on the way to the hospital in Eugene. Engineer J. E. Walsh, piloting the lead engine of the train, saw the ambulance and was going to stop, then attempted to beat it. Eyewitnesses reported the ambulance was going between 35 and 40 miles per hour when it was hit. (Howard of Springfield photo, Willshire engraving.)

Meat, Livestock Ceilings Restored

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman's three-man price decontrol board Tuesday night ordered price ceilings restored on livestock, meat, soybeans and cottonseed products. Dairy products and most other commodities must remain free of price control.

At the same time, the board directed immediate resumption of the meat production subsidy program to absorb part of the meat production costs which consumers have been paying since the expiration of the old price control law on June 30. OPA will reveal on or before Friday whether retail ceiling price will be 19 per cent of the average family budget and soybean and cottonseed products are to be rolled back to their June 30 levels.

Labor Decries Board's Action

WASHINGTON (UP)—Organized labor Wednesday deplored the Price Decontrol Board's failure to restore ceilings on milk, meat and most grains.

An immediate assault on the government's wage stabilization program appeared imminent.

The CIO termed a board decision to control meat but leave dairy products untouched "a disservice." It said the board should be urged to reconsider its decision.

Sept. 9, 'Recontrol' Date

WASHINGTON (UP)—New retail price ceilings on all meats will become effective Sept. 9, OPA Administrator Paul Porter announced Wednesday.

Porter reiterated at a news conference that these ceilings will be "at or near" June 30 maximum prices.

He said OPA and the Agricultural Department are working out the ceilings to be reinvoiced, as ordered by the Price Decontrol Board.

Polio Outbreak 'Nearing Peak'

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U.S. Public Health Service said Wednesday there are indications that the nation's current major outbreak of infantile paralysis is "approaching the peak."

The number of new cases still is rising, with the latest cumulative figures for the year totalling 8849, compared with 6262 for a comparable period in 1944, second worst polio year in Health Service records.

Exhibit Shows Lane's Pride

Students Prepare Display of Products For September Fairs

THIS QUARTER-SCALE MODEL of a plywood plant, made from engineers' drawings by students at Eugene Vocational School, will be on display at the state fair in Salem and at the Lane County Fair next month. The model represents a combination of both the Springfield and Eugene plywood plants. (Vocational School photo, Willshire engraving.)

Exhibit Shows Lane's Pride

said Arthur Clough, creative design instructor.

In addition to preparing models and diagrams for the exhibit, it is necessary this year to develop lighting effects, backdrop, and other exhibiting equipment. This equipment, valued at about $400, was left at the Pacific International Stock Show headquarters in Portland in 1941, but was lost during the war. The exhibit will be shown at the Stock Show in October.

Primarily the exhibit will feature models of wood and wood products, including quarter-scale models of the alcohol plant at Springfield, a sawmill and a plywood plant, all made from engineers' drawings.
