

Lane Overcutting Cited by Hall; Plea Made for Sustained Yield

A strong plea for a working sustained yield lumber production in Lane County was made Tuesday noon by Dr. J. A. Hall, director of the Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station at Portland in a talk before the Eugene Rotary Club.

Columbia County, where production in 1925 was 519,000,000 board feet, and in 1945 was less than 77,000,000 board feet.

Sergeant-at-Arms Short in Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker Martin (R-Mass) announced Tuesday that a final audit of the accounts of Kenneth Romney, former sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, shows a shortage of $125,563.73.

Martin said the audit, made by Lindsay C. Warren, comptroller general, will be turned over to the attorney general "for possible recovery and whatever action he deems necessary."

Meanwhile, he said, the cashier's office which has been closed since the audit started early this month, will be reopened Thursday morning and withdrawals will be limited to 75 per cent of individual deposits.

The sergeant-at-arms operates a banking office for house members and their staffs.

Electric Range Prize In 'Dimes' Contest

A $250 electric range super deluxe model, will be given away by the March of Dimes committee to the person in Eugene who gives the best answer in 20 words or less to the question "Why I Contributed to the March of Dimes," according to Ray Foster and Bill Loud, co-chairmen of the drive.

The range has been donated by the Appliance Center and the contest is being sponsored by Radio Station KORE, Foster said. Cards will be mailed to all Eugene homes. The contest closes on Feb. 7, and all cards must be postmarked on or before midnight of that date. They should be addressed to KORE Broadcasting Station, South Willamette, Eugene.

Winner of the stove will be announced over KORE on Feb. 14.

Still Urgently Needed! KEEP TURNING IN USED FATS

They're needed today, more than ever before.

Dr. Hall pointed out that even if Eugene can still claim to be the lumber capital of the world, Lane County lumber interests are now overcutting by 25 per cent.

"Eugene may be the lumber capital of the world now," Dr. Hall declared, "but I have hunted deer in the streets of dead cities that once claimed that honor. Will the same thing happen here?"

When the decision was made to build the wood alcohol plant in Lane County, the move followed a survey of the entire United States to determine which county could stay at a high level of timber production. Lane County was chosen and the plant established.

The site was chosen not because of the timber supply, Dr. Hall said, but because of the huge backlog of federal owned timber stands which would assure a continued supply of wood to the plant. Timber that could be cut only on a sustained yield basis showed survey men that the plant would continue to produce.

Access Roads Needed
The main need now in the county is access roads so that stands of ripe timber can be harvested, Dr. Hall said. He emphasized that allowable cuts would be made as soon as possible, but that allowable cuts can grow or shrink, depending on the utilization of forest products.

National forest lands assure the people, to whom they belong, of a sustained flow of timber, Dr. Hall said. Forest lands are important also as water shed regulators, and do much to keep valleys from threat of bad floods.

Dr. Hall also emphasized that control of volume cut is important, so that as old growth is taken out, second growth is able to replace it. A balance between cutting of old timber and growth of new must be acquired, he declared.

Other legislation is expected, including the program to increase the amounts of loans to veterans and to set up the state as a lending agency to serve areas in which there are no regular lending facilities for extension of federal GI loans.

At the recent meeting of the Girl Scouts plans were made for the Court of Review Jan. 30, a week previous to the Court of Honor Feb. 6, at which time a potluck supper will be a part of the program for the evening. Mrs. L. E. Zinkler, troop leader, is taking moving pictures, when the weather permits, of the girls at work at their various projects.

Mrs. Catherine Pelger of Salem, associate grand matron of the Eastern Star, made her official visit to the Creswell chapter Thursday evening, and conducted a school of instruction. An official visit of the grand worthy matron is scheduled for early spring.

Mrs. H. L. Stott has received word of the death of her father, G. F. Jackson, on Thursday, Jan. 16, at Iansworth, Nebraska, at the age of 90 years. He, with Mrs. Jackson, visited here the winter of 1940-41. Kenneth Pratt of Creswell is a nephew.

Morse Painton has sold his residence property on South Second Street to E. J. Greenwood of the Red and White store. He plans to return to serve in the army and will be stationed at Fort Stevens. His family will accompany him there to make their home.

Word comes that Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Traxler have reached Detroit, purchased a car, and have gone to Florida to visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. Soper, uncle and aunt of Mrs. Traxler and former Creswell residents. They will also call on Miss Elizabeth Tryon and Miss Genevieve Thompson, also former Creswellites who now live there.

Elmira Meetings
ELMIRA—H.E.C. meets Wednesday at the garage hall, all day, to work on quilts. Potluck lunch at noon.

The high school board meeting was held Wednesday evening, Jan. 15. The board voted to put two more kitchen units in the Home Economics department immediately to bring it up to state standards for H.E. They have applied to the state for Smith-Hughes Vocational Home Economics by which the government will pay half of the H.E.C. teacher's salary.

They have ordered, and are waiting delivery of two Westinghouse electric ranges and one nine foot refrigerator. Westinghouse has made an agreement to furnish this electrical equipment at half the retail price and replace it each year for five years with Alaska. There is no distinction as to size of school. Choice depends entirely on musical ability of the applicant. Myron Blackwell will give selected students special training and will accompany them to Seattle.

Personal
Mr. and Mrs. Dave Stoddard arrived in Elmira Friday evening, Jan. 17 from Hamilton Field, Cal. where Stoddard has been stationed. He will receive his discharge from the Army Jan. 25 and they will reside in Elmira.

REBEKAHS AT WALTERVILLE
WALTERVILLE—Welcome Rebekah Lodge met Thursday evening with all new officers. This term officers were installed 100 per cent at the joint installation in Eugene Tuesday evening.

French Assembly Affirms Leaders

PARIS (AP)—France's National Assembly confirmed Paul Ramadier, Socialist, by a vote of 577 to 10 Tuesday night as premier in the first government of the fourth French Republic.

Radical-Socialist Leader Edouard Herriot, 74, was elected president of the assembly.

Herriot, who was unopposed, headed the old chamber of deputies from 1936-1942. He is in his 42nd year as mayor of Lyon, France's third largest city.

A protege of Aristide Briand, Herriot was three times premier of France before the war. He succeeds Vincent Auriol, recently elected president of the republic.

Before the voting began, the legislature heard a message read from Auriol calling upon France to "maintain and develop her alliances" and to insist upon "just reparations and a full security" from Germany.

Truck Dimensions Subject of Measure

SALEM (AP)—The bill to make permanent the increased length and weight limits for trucks operating on state highways was introduced in the House Tuesday by a dozen representatives and Senators.

The increased limits were permitted during the war as an emergency measure.

Rep. Burt K. Snyder, Lakeview, chairman of the House Highways Committee, said he didn't believe there would be much of a fight against the bill. He said eastern Oregon livestock men would strongly support it, as well as other shippers who use trucks to transport their products to market.

Bills Introduced On Vets' Affairs

SALEM (AP)—Five bills dealing with veterans were introduced Tuesday by the Senate Military Affairs Committee. They are based on proposals by the State Department of Veterans' Affairs.

One measure would establish a records division with the director of veterans affairs, with the duty of keeping all records pertaining to war veterans except those records of the military department which pertain to the National Guard.

Another measure gives the director of veterans affairs all duties heretofore given the State Land Board and the former World War Veterans State Aid Commission, and thus wraps up all veterans affairs from both world wars in the same department.

One measure calls for the advisory committee on veterans affairs to meet at least once in three months, and permitting it to meet any place in the state.

Other legislation is expected, including the program to increase the amounts of loans to veterans and to set up the state as a lending agency to serve areas in which there are no regular lending facilities for extension of federal GI loans.

Local 'Dimes' Program Wins Seattle Support

Ten little dimes marched a long way.

Eugene's March of Dimes committee expects to "tap" the Eugene area, naturally, but Bill Loud and Ray Foster, co-chairmen of the drive to raise funds for the fight against infantile paralysis, were surprised and pleased to receive a dollar in the mail this week from Abe Cohen, 1632 24th Ave, Seattle, together with a note saying he had heard the two-hour March of Dimes broadcast on Jan. 18 and wanted to contribute his 10 dimes.

Intelligent Action New Cited by Dr. Newburn

PORTLAND (AP)—Men must learn to act more intelligently if the world is to develop, Dr. Harry K. Newburn, University of Oregon president, told the Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Speaking at a luncheon in honor of Miles S. Woodworth, local fireman who was chosen Portland's junior first citizen of 1946, the university president declared that the future depends upon "the improbability of individual man."

Hunting License Offset Proposed in Lane Bill

SALEM (AP)—Lane County's three state representatives introduced a bill Tuesday to permit agents of the State Game Commission, such as sporting goods houses, to keep 25 cents for each hunting and fishing license they sell.

They now receive no fee. The proposed fee would be added to the cost of the license.

GM HIKES PRICES

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors dealers Tuesday revealed price increases on convertibles and station wagons, ranging from $17 for a spare tire to $193, in Pontiac, Buick, Oldsmobile and Cadillac divisions.

Creswell 'Marches Toward Dimes' Goal

CRESWELL—Calvin C. Taylor of the H. N. Traxler real estate substituted for Traxler, who is on a trip east, in placing boxes in the stores for the March of Dimes project. Boxes totaling 17 have also been placed in the schools and in other places about the district. Contribution slips were also received through the mail.

"New Era" Starts
Creswell is to have a weekly newspaper, the Creswell New Era, beginning next month. Ival Wilson, local resident, is the publisher. Two complimentary issues have already been circulated and two more will be printed this month. Wilson, now employed in Eugene, has had several years of printing experience here and in South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Cope have taken over the management of the Chicken Shack at the south city limits, and will be open Monday, Jan. 20. The new proprietors have lived in Creswell the past two years. Cope is employed at a mill here and until recently Mrs. Cope has been employed at the Kosy Korner Cafe.

Additional members to be honored at the birthday table Thursday night at the meeting of Creswell Grange are Mrs. S. J. Godard, E. L. Reynolds, Floyd Roydon, C. Collum, Mrs. J. L. Callentine and Mrs. H. N. Traxler.

Since those residents of the community who have had access to the dumping grounds west of town have abused their privileges the city council has had to hire a bulldozer for two days to put the place under control again and has now fenced the property and locked it up. Anyone desiring to place rubbish there must from this date secure a key from the police committee of the council.

This place has been made use of by many rural residents whereas the town of Creswell leased the ground and taxed the citizens through the water board for the rent of it. Not only tin cans and other rubbish that can not be burned has been hauled there but dead animals and filth which is strictly against all rules of health and decency. Cooperation of all citizens is requested by the council.
