

Women Voters Told Oregon Should Buy Camp Hospital

By JEAN WORTH

The question of whether or not the state of Oregon should acquire for one dollar a $7,500,000 installation of fireproof, equipped hospital buildings at Camp White, eight miles northeast of Medford on the Crater Lake Highway, was fully discussed Monday night at a meeting of the League of Women Voters of Eugene, under the well-informed direction of Mrs. V. N. Freeman.

Mrs. Freeman, League convention delegate who has been through the installation at Camp White, gave Eugene members a report on her findings and a summary of the reports and statements of the state investigating committee, the governors' investigating committee and all the available arguments both for and against acquiring the camp.

She told League members of the State Board of Control's refusal to act, now that it is authorized to purchase the camp, and added that "the freeze placed upon Camp White by the WAA, pending the state of Oregon's decision on acquiring the camp, will expire on July 1, after which the WAA will open bids for tearing down the installation."

She pointed out that although the State League Board had voted to advocate the state's purchase of Camp White, "we did not include any provision for telling the state what it should use the installation for."

"According to the report, the 2417-bed installation is ideally suited to the care of bed patients. Mental wards heated runways. Ramps connect the first and second floors, making wheelchair ambulation practical.

Surgery Plant

One large surgery exists there now, plus x-ray buildings, six operating rooms, dark room for development of x-ray pictures, 12 x-ray machines, 12 rooms equipped for dental work, four mess rooms and kitchens, several refrigeration rooms and equipment, specially screened sun porches on the wards and a large central heating plant which is now fitted to burn coal but could be converted to oil at small cost.

A complete sewage disposal plant on the grounds is adequate to serve Camp White, the entire city of Medford and the city of Eagle Point as well.

All Fireproof

All ward buildings are fireproof, with ADA water sprinkler systems in the ceilings.

The "enthusiastic, glowing report" which was brought back to the state legislature by the committee of three representatives, two senators, Superintendent of the State Mental Hospital Dr. John C. Evans and Supervisor of State Institutions William C. Ryan, caused the Senate and House to pass Senate Bill 361, authorizing the board of control to purchase the installation for $1. Governor signed.

The governor signed this bill into law.

Then the governor sent to Camp White a committee of his own, made up mostly of representatives of the various departments.

Mrs. Freeman told League members that this second report recommended that the state not buy the installation "because of the excessive cost of putting it into operation again."

Compares Costs

Mrs. Freeman compared the price of $1500 per bed at Camp White, using the figure given by the governor's committee and including "such padding as landscaping," with the $15,000-per-bed cost of building a new installation.

When the House and Senate decided to pass another bill making it mandatory for the board of control to buy Camp White, the governor vetoed the bill and the legislature could not muster the two-thirds majority to override the veto.

Mrs. Freeman reported that Lane County Senators Angus Gibson and Truman Chase voted to uphold the governor's veto.

Salary Proposal Awaits Meeting

Dr. A. Tricolo, city-county health officer, said Tuesday that the county court had deferred his recommendation to increase county public health nurses' salaries until the taxpayers' meeting June 28.

Dr. Tricolo and Dr. R. H. Wilcox, state director for county health units, made the recommendation that the county take the salary of a fourth (unavailable) nurse now provided for in the budget, and use the money to bring the three nurses now on duty up to the state minimum salary scale.

The county court said the matter could be taken up on a motion at the budget meeting but could not be acted upon before the meeting.
