Creswell Gets Busy On Town's Tennis Court

CRESWELL — The Creswell playground project is not a dead issue as some have been prone to believe since some materials for the proposed tennis court have been on hand for some time and very little progress made. However, the weather has not been suitable for outside work and the "laborers were few." Cash donations of $95 have been made from organizations of the town. This week to this fund and other contributions made and real work is in sight for the completion of the tennis court in the city plaza. The Little Theater Club announces that a crew of men will be on hand Sunday, June 29 to lay the concrete. A potluck dinner will be served in the city hall at 2 p. m. and any one interested in this project is cordially invited to help.
