

Performance of Congressmen So Far in '47 Summarized

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Here is the boxscore on Congress as it heads into its seventh and final month of this session:

Passed: The Taft-Hartley labor bill, partial-to-total pay suit ban, $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid bill, $50,000,000 foreign relief bill, United States participation in the International Refugee Organization, two-term presidential limitation, modified rent control, legislation to put House speaker in line for presidency after vice president.

Pending and likely to pass: Government support prices for wool without restrictions on imports, continuation of export controls over materials in short supply, limited authority for the state department's foreign information program, permission for veterans to cash terminal leave bonds, unification of the army and navy, increase in minimum wages.

Killed by veto: $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction and a measure giving the president power to impose new tariffs or quota restrictions on foreign wool.

Likely to be shelved: Long range housing plan, national health insurance, arms standardization for the western hemisphere, admission of 400,000 of Europe's war refugees, St. Lawrence waterway, increased on-the-job training pay for veterans, universal military service.

The Republican-dominated Congress rolls into the final months of the session next week with most of its work done but some of President Truman's major domestic proposals slated for the pigeon-hole.

The calendar remains crowded. But, aside from a big batch of appropriation bills awaiting final passage, the Republican high command has ticketed only a few major measures for passage.

Only one of the dozen bills which give the government departments and agencies their funds for the new fiscal year starting Tuesday has been passed finally and sent to the President. But the bureau will be authorized to continue on their present appropriations until the new funds are provided.
