Coal Embargo Ires Canadians

OTTAWA — (AP) — An embargo on shipments of United States coal into Canada over Canadian National Railway Lines was scheduled to go into effect at midnight Wednesday and official quarters here, perturbed about the situation, foresaw the possibility of a Canadian embargo on shipments of newspaper to the United States as a countermove.

Canadian Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier was expected to make a statement Wednesday on the Washington action ordered by the Office of Defense Transportation which said Canadian National Railways had failed to speed return of coal cars in sufficient numbers to the United States. The Canadian Pacific Railway is not affected by the embargo.

Meanwhile, a high government official here saw the "threat" of a Canadian embargo on shipments of newspaper into the U. S. in a statement issued Tuesday at Montreal by R. C. Vaughan, president of the C.N.R. Vaughan said the U. S. embargo had been made "arbitrarily and without a careful weighing of factors involved," charged U. S. lines with failure to return C.N.R. box cars to Canada and hoped this would not result "in our inability to provide all the cars needed for paper loading to the United States."

The official said that while Vaughan's statement could be interpreted as a "threat," the C.N.R. had not communicated it as such to Washington authorities so far as was known.

Small Businessmen Told of Priority Right

Steps by which small businessmen may once again buy government surplus goods on a priority basis as the result of a new law reinstating that privilege were outlined Wednesday by C. T. Mudge, regional director of War Assets Administration in Portland.

"Many small businessmen may not be aware that legislation passed in the closing days of the last Congress has restored their ability to buy surplus on a priority position through Reconstruction Finance Corp.," Mudge said. "The law extended the life of RFC and restored its priority privilege through which small business may buy."

To qualify, an application for certification must be made out with RFC, 444 Pittock Block, Portland. Information regarding availability of wanted surplus, open credit and other matters may be obtained through the WAA customer service center.

A small business is defined by law as one that employs less than 500 people, is not dominant in its particular field and is not affiliated with any organization that is dominant in its field.

Bandsmen Set Park Concert

Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf," a musical description of the adventures of young Peter, who wanders in the woods in defiance of his grandfather's instructions but succeeds in capturing the wolf, will be the featured number on the program of the Eugene Municipal Band Thursday at 8 p.m. in the park blocks.

Robert D. Horn of the University of Oregon faculty and The Very Little Theatre will be narrator. The program will also include two favorite Goldman arrangements of nursery tunes, several marches, and the ever-popular Overture to William Tell.

PIGEONS MISS THEIR FRIEND
CHICAGO — (AP) — When pigeons kept fluttering about an open window of a west side rooming house, neighbors called the police. In a corner of the room they found the body of 70-year-old Sam Stanley, who used to feed the pigeons daily.
