"White Christmas" Theme Keys Holiday Flowers

DESIGNERS in the nation's flower shops urge more individuality in floral gifts for the home, according to Alyn Wayne, official FTD stylist, who designed this Christmas preview. At top—this all-white Christmas centerpiece is dazzling by day and spectacular by night. Equally suitable for the buffet, regal candles rise from clusters of mums and pompons, amid silvered pine cones and snow-laden evergreen. Below—for the story telling touch in a Christmas mantel or buffet arrangement, Mr. Wayne suggests a modernized cathedral angel amid snowy balsam, white pine cones and sparkling red ornaments. Inset—inside story on Christmas door swags is more and more custom-design. Example here, for an apartment door knocker, is snow-laden balsam with a beaming Santa to greet the visitor with outstretched arms.

Science Finds New Wood Use

MINNEAPOLIS — New uses for wood were described this week by C. A. Gillett of Washington, D. C., chief forester of the American Forest Products Industries Assn. in a talk at the national meeting of the Society of American Foresters.

Among the latest, he listed a new flooring composition made from powdered tree bark, wrapping paper made from bark and recovery of sugar free lignin, which is mixed with concrete to bring about quicker setting.

A. K. Dexter of Canton, Miss., International Paper Co., southern division director, said experiments with lime sludge and organic matter from pulp mill waste water have shown they make excellent fertilizer for corn and potatoes.

To avoid chipping of enamel in enamelware pans, let them cool down before pouring cold water over them.

Seed Growers Warn of Phoney

PORTLAND —(AP)—The Oregon Seed Growers' League, after warning the public of misleading "lawn grass seed" labels, turned Friday to election of officers.

J. C. Moore, Oregon State College assistant marketing specialist, issued the warning on the labels. He said some firms were selling rye grass seed for lawn seed. Rye grass seed is unsuitable for lawns, he added, urging the public to inspect labels closely.
