

'Meet the Husband,' Help Creswell's Relief Projects

CRESWELL—"Meet the Husband" is the intriguing title of a three act farce comedy to be given by the Little Theater at the Grange Hall Thursday and Friday, Jan. 29-30. The play itself however is even more intriguing than the title for it fairly sparkles with unusual situations, surprises, twists and clever dialogues.

It is a psychological fact that most people enjoy laughing at other's troubles. In "Meet the Husband" the principal characters encounter enough predicaments to last most people all their lives.

The cast consists of "Gregory Sargent, a struggling young lawyer," Darrel Stott; "Lily Benson his secretary," Mrs. LaVern Good; Eva Humphries, a much needed client," Mrs. G. H. Mawson; "Franklyn Carruthers, Gregory's fraternity brother," LaVern Good; "Caroline Stanton, engaged to Franklyn," Mrs. William Barnett; "June Caskey, a frivolous young nurse," Mrs. Philip Holt; "Fania Petroff, an unexpected arrival," Mrs. Norman Skaggs; "Carter Carruthers, Franklyn's father," Harry Brown.

The proceeds will be divided between civic and relief projects. The Lane county chapter of Red Cross should receive much commendation for the immediate response in caring for the Lyle Dent family who lost their home and all of their household furnishings, clothes etc., by fire Tuesday afternoon.
