Floral Hat Show Proves To Be Fun

Mrs. Gordon Murdock, guest speaker at the meeting of the Newcomers Group of Eugene Garden Club, at the clubhouse Friday afternoon, was awarded first prize in the display of floral hats, which were made and modeled by the women attending. Her hat was hand woven of supple stems of myrtle, and trimmed with three large red peonies, and small white flowers. It was tied together with dried grasses—no thread being used.

Second prize was given to Mrs. Neil Banks for her pill-box hat covered with fern and trimmed with long waving leaves and blossoms of variegated iris. Mrs. Jay C. Rice was awarded third prize for a large hat completely covered with pink roses. Many other interesting hats were shown. Mrs. C. W. Butcher, showed one made of pine needles and catkins. Mrs. Nadine Newman, chairman in charge of the contest, wore an artistic creation, pancake-like in shape, and covered with royal blue bachelor buttons, centered with Cecile Brunner roses. Mrs. L. M. Watson, club president, wore a turban covered with rhubarb leaves, trimmed with an artichoke leaf, simulating an ostrich plume, bunch of radishes and chive blossoms. The judges, Mrs. Everett Eggleston, Mrs. Jerry Towne and Mrs. Bernard Lyons, found their work difficult.

Mrs. F. L. Travis retired from chairmanship of the group, and Mrs. Towne was elected to take her place for next year. Mrs. Murdock gave a humorous talk about the pieces of old glassware which she brought and told how she had found each one. A talk about birds in local gardens was led by Mrs. Travis with interesting side lights by Ben Pruitt. Mrs. Otho R. Lessel was chairman of the tea committee, and was assisted by Mrs. A. W. Herman, Mrs. Dale Dick and Mrs. D. W. Stewart. Pouring were Mrs. Murdock and Mrs. Pice.

Appreciation of the work of a committee who cleaned the clubhouse and grounds was expressed. Members were, Mrs. Newman, Mrs. John Kalkoven, Mrs. Dick, Mrs. Elizabeth Romane, Mrs. C. McHenry, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Lessel, Mrs. R. D. Busey and Mrs. J. Stedman.

EVANGELINE MORGAN GIVEN SPECIAL AWARD

A special award of a blue ribbon was given to Evangeline Morgan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Morgan, for her arrangement entered in the rose show of last Friday afternoon. It was in the form of a miniature rose garden with paths, a pool, with a live gold fish, rose trellis, and arch with a hanging basket of tiny roses, and rockery. This was omitted from the first report. Other awards for arrangements of roses were given to Mrs. Nadine Newman, first prize, Mrs. Jack E. Brindle, second and Mrs. Everett Eggleston, third. Arrangements made by Mrs. L. M. Watson, were displayed, but not entered in the competition.

Excellent Programs Offered At Weekend Convention

Qualities of leadership were outlined and discussed by Miss Ethel Johnstone of San Francisco, national representative to the convention of the Oregon Business and Professional Women's Club, in her address to nearly five hundred women at the formal convention banquet Saturday evening, at the Eugene Hotel. One of the most worth-while services of the B&PW Club is development of leadership among business women, she stated, and stressed the importance of each club remembering this fact. It is fatal to allow one group to carry on all activities year after year, for while they may do outstanding work, it is better that others should have benefit of the experience and training of club tasks.

A leader must have faith, she said, and the ability to make decisions; must be willing to make research before judgment; must appreciate wisdom of older members, be willing to seek advice; must have interest and enthusiasm to inspire others; and most of all, she must "find out what the club wants, and give the members more of it, find out what they do not like, and give them less of it."

Leaders within the club go on to service in the community and the state, she stated.

The university was taken as inspiration for the decorative theme of the banquet, green and yellow colors being used on the table. Yellow Dutch iris, golden privet and greens formed the floral arrangements, and menu cards were in form of tasseled black mortarboard caps.

Presidents Attend

Mrs. Glenn S. Pirtle, Eugene president, welcomed guests, and introduced presidents of other service clubs who were guests, including Mrs. Wilbert L. Davis of Eugene Zonta Club; Miss Thelma Schaefer, Eugene Quota Club; Mrs. Glenn Smeed, Jaycee-ettes; Mrs. Harold Shearer and Mrs. William Wheeler, Beta Sigma Phi chapters. Dr. Leslie Kent, who was honored by Zonta Club as woman of the year, and who is the first woman in the United States to be elected president of a state medical society, was a special guest.

Mrs. Pirtle introduced Mrs. Harold B. Jensen, retiring state president of business women, who introduced the speaker, Miss Johnstone.

Soloist at the banquet was Dorothy French, contralto, whose accompaniments were played by Marjorie Scobert Wilson. Musical number were also given by the Salem B&PW Club.

Paris View Given

At the International luncheon Saturday noon, Miss Anne Avery of Portland, who attended the meeting at Paris last year of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women of the World, gave a vivid account of women who represented their countries. She attended as a guest of the Norwegian delegation, having been visiting relatives in that country. She was dressed in Norwegian costume and explained its significance. Her talk was regarded as one of the high-lights of the convention program, as expressed by many.

Dr. Edna Landros, who with Mrs. Jensen was a delegate to the UNESCO meeting in San Francisco, told of the activities of this group. Its program is to make use of the facilities of education to carry a peace program to the world, she said.

Miss Eunice Courtright, state international relations chairman, presented a citation to the Roseburg club, which Mrs. Edna Helgeson accepted, as having contributed the largest sum of money for use in the Chinese scholarship program.

Margaret Zimmerman sang "Star Spangled Banner" to open the luncheon program, Mrs. Charles Wilford playing her accompaniment. She also sang "God Bless America," to close the meeting. Dr. Landros led the flag salute. Dr. Allie Smith, and Dr. Landros were co-chairmen of the luncheon. Mrs. Max Burris and Miss Dolores Rose were chairmen of the banquet. Miss Genevieve Hallis, convention chairman, and Miss Barbara Smith, her assistant, were presented to the group at each gathering.

DELEGATES TO ATTEND ROSEBURG CONVENTION

Mrs. Ivan Parke, commander of the auxiliary to the Disabled Veterans, will leave Wednesday to attend the state convention at Roseburg, June 10 to 12 inclusive. With her will go Mrs. John Kalahoven, state executive committeewoman, and the following delegates, Mrs. Elmer Cleek, Mrs. Otto Benda, Mrs. John Barnes, Mrs. William Coleman and MrMs. Edith Whipps.

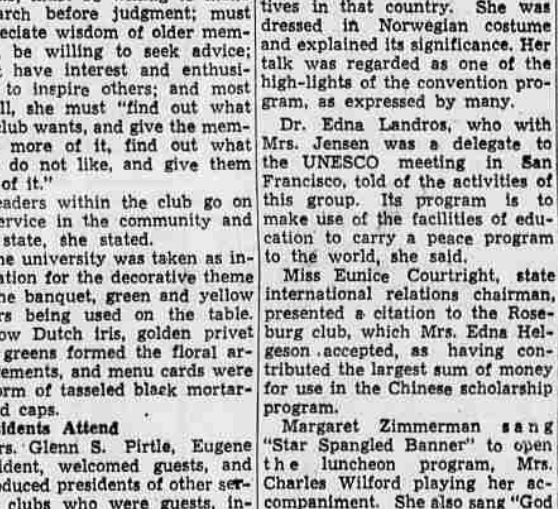
It's better sailing for party-line neighbors when they all follow these easy pointers. "Makes neighbors into friends," says Sailor Sam. "I always do my party-line navigation by these easy rules. Good rules, I say."



party-line pointers

- Space your calls instead of making a whole series of them...and talk only as long as necessary.
- If yours is an emergency call and the line is in use, explain the circumstances to the person using the line.
- If you are calling from a dial telephone, always make certain the line is clear before you dial.
- When the children use the telephone, ask them to be considerate, too.
- Replace the receiver properly when you finish your call.
