satisfied with what we can get," Samuel Levering, a Virginian who represents the United World Federalists, argued with Culbertson in an hour and a half committee hearing over slow vs. rapid achievement of world federation.

Culbertson declared that he had been a federalist for 35 years and wanted to attain world federation gradually. Levering demanded immediate action.

"War Man's Own Creation"

The opening session Friday had heard Dr. W. K. Kim, of Korea. Kim declared that "war is man's own creation, not an act of God," and it is man's duty to find a remedy for war.

Kim warned against the United States withdrawing from Korea until a truly representative government has been established to keep the peace.

No 'Magnet Line' Policy

Hubert H. Humphrey, young and aggressive mayor of Minneapolis who is chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action, told the afternoon session that to be true to its heritage, America must not adopt a defensive philosophy—a "Magnet Line" foreign policy. "Mere dollars," said Humphrey, "will not solve the problem of peace." He declared that the world needs ideas of the kind the conference was bringing out.

At the next session, Elisha Ben-Horin, Zionist leader, and an Arab, Omar Azuni, debated the Palestine issue. Both agreed that the United States and the United Nations had "bungled" in Palestine and that the survival of the United Nations was threatened by such bungling.

In an evening radio debate, Culbertson, Levering, Streit, and James Avery Joyce, British delegate, discussed the several plans to bring about a world government or to strengthen the UN, which manifestly is not a world government.

Further Discussion Scheduled

Saturday afternoon, further discussions were scheduled to start from areas of agreement reached earlier among the proponents of the several peace plans.

The conference is sponsored by the Grinnell College department of international relations.

School to Start In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD — This city's first summer school program will get underway at 8:30 a. m. Monday.

Classes will meet from 8:30 to 12 noon Monday through Friday until July 23. Guy Lee, assistant school superintendent, said Saturday that 51 persons have completed registration and "several" more have indicated that they will enroll.

Schools Set

Grades 1 to 4 will meet in Brattain School. Miss Elsie Anderson will teach the first two grades and Miss June Felder will handle third and fourth graders.

Grades 5 to 8 will meet in Lincoln school. Mrs. Margaret Ellis will teach fifth-graders and Mrs. Fern Mundell will instruct Grades 6, 7 and 8.

Reason Told

The summer classes have been arranged to cater especially to those pupils who have missed school because of illness or other reasons and are not intended for promotion to higher grades.

Only academic subjects will be taught and stress will be on English, arithmetic, reading and social studies.

Springfield Postmen To Extend Service

SPRINGFIELD — This city's postoffice is in the process of extending the service provided by mounted city postal routes east of the city limits as far as Grandview Drive, according to Acting Postmaster Sid Ward.

However, Ward pointed out, residents north and south of Highway 28 between Garden Lane and Grandview Drive must apply for house numbers before the new service can be started.

This is accomplished, Ward said, by phoning the Central Lane Planning council offices in the city hall (phone 1141) and asking for a correct house number by giving description and location of property.

Ward said, "If people cooperate, we hope to get the new service started by the first week in July."

Hauler Wins Sums From Lumber Firm

A circuit court jury Saturday morning awarded George H. Clark, hauling contractor, $14,369.16 in combined damages after two and a half days of the trial in which Clark sought $15,406.16 from the Giustina Bros. Lumber Co.

Action was brought as a result of the logging accident of Aug. 6, 1947, when a spar tree broke at the V14a operations of the Giustina company and wrecked two trucks, killing Denton Sheeks, the driver of one, and inflicting minor injuries on two other men who were nearby.

Clark claimed the logging company was negligent in the rigging of the spar tree in such a manner that the tree broke.

The jury in the case included Ben Russell, foreman; and Mrs. A. H. King, Emmet Withrow, Ethan V. Calloway, Mrs. L. A. Wood, Bertena Bounds, Grace Metz, Chester Vincent, Mrs. O. M. Willard, William Forrester, Alan H. Tyson and Mrs. L. A. Harris.

Cherry Flies Coming Now

Entomologists of Oregon State College have announced that cherry fruit flies are emerging and that it is now time to apply the first spray or dust for their control. All varieties of cherries, also transplanted trees and fence rows, should be sprayed or dusted.

However, if filberts are interplanted with cherries, the lead arsenate sulphur dust combination should not be used, says County Agent O. S. Fletcher. Sulphur may cause severe burns to filbert foliage.

Don't Delay

"I suggest that control measures be applied without delay and very thoroughly," Fletcher said Saturday. "All growers will need to spray or dust, even though they may have a light cherry crop this year, so as to start protection of next year's crop."

Lane County Horticultural Agent R. F. Thom, emphasized that unlike other insect pests of cherries, the control of the cherry fruit fly must be complete.

Use Care

"There is no maggot tolerance and whole packs are subject to condemnation if the cherries are even slightly infested," explained Thom. "No grower who expects to sell his crop can afford to do less
