

And Everybody's Happy
SEATTLE—(AP)—Nine-year-old Gloria Guenther went walking in her sleep and woke up on a concrete sidewalk after falling three floors.

Gloria cried for a while but went back to bed. In the morning a King County hospital the examining doctor found her only injury to be a few small cuts on her right toes.

Monroe Auto Crash Damages Two Cars
MONROE — Two late model automobiles were badly damaged in three-way collision Friday at 12:45 p.m. on Highway 99W just north of the Monroe high school. None of the occupants of the cars were injured.

Mrs. Joe Schwindt, Monroe, was driving one of the automobiles. The other drivers were not identified but the license plates of the second car indicated that it was from Pennsylvania and those of the third vehicle were Oregon issued.

Witnesses reported that all three cars were travelling north. Mrs. Schwindt's car was reported struck from behind when she started to turn off the highway. The third car then struck the two already involved. Of the three, the Monroe woman's vehicle was said least damaged.

Ladies Take Over Civic Reins In Virginia Town on Sept. 1

CLINTWOOD, Va.—(AP)—The ladies take over Clintwood next Sept. 1 and, come good or bad, the men should keep their peace. Most of them voted for it.

This town of 2200 has never before had a woman in its government. But on June 8, it went feminine in a big way and voted women into all six of its elective offices.

Although none of the present government sought reelection, there were five men on the ticket—one for mayor and four for council. All were badly beaten.

Here is the lineup of Virginia's first all-female town government:

Mayor — Mrs. Minnie Miller, widow of a lumberman and mother of two sons. She won by a vote of 284 to 99.

Lull Observed In Cold War

BY RELMAN MORIN
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Something very like a lull has fallen over the battlefields of the "cold war." But —

Lenin taught the Communists, in the early days of the movement, that pursuing a policy was somewhat like climbing a mountain. He said they would encounter obstacles, and often have to change direction.

Prediction
He predicted the necessity to turn and twist, and even to go downhill before finding a new path and resuming the climb.

The important thing, said Lenin, was to keep the objective in sight.

The front is relatively quiet in Europe today.

Nobody is stopping trains or diving on transport airplanes over Berlin. No new government is under pressure. No new names have been added to the Soviet list of "war mongers." Nobody has been assassinated for quite awhile now.

And as you read the transcript of Radio Moscow broadcast, you are struck by the comparative absence of vitriol and vinegar, and sulphuric comment. This silence is almost disquieting.

But it does not mean that the Russians have called off the dogs. It means simply that they have encountered the obstacle on the mountain. And for the moment, they appear to be turning back on the path. In reality, they are merely looking for the new path, the next opportunity.
