World Council Plans Speaker

James Avery Joyce, London barrister and world federation spokesman, is scheduled to speak Wednesday, 8 p.m., in the Woodrow Wilson Jr. High auditorium, at 650 Twelfth Ave. W., Chairman Ray Siegenthaler of the Eugene Council on World Affairs announced Monday.

Avery Joyce will speak on the movement which is gaining support both in the United States and in Western Europe to form a federation of nations that would provide world government and world citizenship instead of the present loosely organized machinery of the United Nations.

He will explain the movement in a public meeting sponsored by the local group.

Next month, as part of its educational program, the council is sponsoring a McArthur Court forum over the network facilities of "America's Town Meeting."

Band Concert Season to Open

The annual summer concert season of the Eugene Municipal Band will open Thursday at 8 p.m. in the park blocks opposite the courthouse. The band of 36 players will perform each Thursday until the latter part of August under the sponsorships of the Bureau of Parks and Recreation.

The first concert of the season will be directed by Arthur S. Haynes of Vancouver, Wash., a former chief warrant officer in the Army. A native of Wales, Haynes received his musical training in England and after coming to the United States served as leader of the famous Seventh Infantry Band at Vancouver Barracks for many years. His last post before retirement was at the air base at Salt Lake City.

Haynes is well known in the northwest for his Army band work and as director of the Al Kader Temple Band of Portland and as a band critic, coach and adjudicator. He is a visiting instructor in music at the University of Oregon summer session.

Later concerts of the municipal band will be directed by John H. Stehn, permanent conductor.
