

Cuddling, Baby Talk Helps Infant Health

MILWAUKEE — (U.P.) — Babies should have plenty of cuddling and "baby talk" to be healthier and happier, a specialist said here. Dr. Benjamin Spock, member of the Mayo clinic and author of a book on baby care, told a meeting of the American Pediatric Academy that the trend was away from "rigidity" in child training. He said it doesn't spoil a baby to cuddle him and feed him when he's hungry instead of on a fixed schedule. "Cuddling is as essential as vitamins and calories," Spock said. "Emotionally upset babies become depressed and fretful."

Educator Tells of Experience While Making Survey in Korea

An educator's view of Korea was given the Eugene Rotary Club Tuesday noon by Dr. William Hayes, professor of education at Santa Barbara College. Dr. Hayes was sent to Korea in February as a consultant for the secretary of war to determine the educational policies of that country.

In giving his impressions of the country Dr. Hayes pointed out a need for a Western religion in addition to more education, so that the people of the country will learn more Samaritanism and responsibility. He described Korea as a poor country, with all modern improvements placed there by the Japanese during their 36 years of occupancy of the country to exploit its resources. "Japan did nothing for Korea that did not enhance the Japanese sovereignty," the speaker pointed out.

Division Korea is made poorer by division, Dr. Hayes believes. He pointed out that American controls the south half, which is an agricultural area of 20 million population, and Russia the north half, an industrial area of about eight million people.

If the two parts could be brought together, economic soundness could result, he believes. The country, which has a long history and ancient civilization, has always been a pawn in the international situation, Dr. Hayes said.

Don't Know Why Currently the Koreans do not know why the United States is there, or why it stays. However, the country has become a key point in the cold war with Russia. Sent over to set up a fiscal system of education for the new Korean government, Dr. Hayes found that all schools, public and private, are financed by tuition fees and supported to some extent by parent charges and by government subsidy.

Teachers are poor, and often take money from the parents of the children on threat of flunking them out of school. A tax on prostitution also helps support the school system.

He believes that the United States should not try so hard to superimpose our system of government on countries we occupy, but should evaluate the system as it is in the light of what the people can do and what they want and need.

Shade Shelters Devised For Growing Cattle

EL CENTRO, Cal.—(U.P.)—Imperial Valley cattle raisers have been benefited by experiments conducted by two animal husbandrymen in devising shade shelters that make livestock more comfortable during summer months.

Four types of shelters were built at the Meloland experiment station by N. R. Ittner, University of California, and C. F. Kelly, United States Department of Agriculture. The experts found that shelters with aluminum and hay roofs gave the greatest protection to the growing fat cattle used in the experiment. Wooden slat roofs, filled with hay, were found to be advantageous by permitting sun to filter through and tended to discourage flies.

Riot Leaders Draw Death

SAN FRANCISCO—(U.P.)—Miran "Tex" Thompson and Sam Shockley, life-term convicts who survived the bloody riots at Alcatraz prison in 1946, Tuesday were sentenced to be executed in the lethal gas chamber at San Quentin on Sept. 24 for their part in the abortive escape attempt. Judge Louis E. Goodman pronounced sentence. It was the first time a federal court in this district has given the death penalty. Thompson, a Texas-Oklahoma robber and murderer, smiled when he heard he would not die for three more months. He had expected to be executed next Friday since the U.S. supreme court refused to review his conviction. Goodman said he was giving the two prisoners the maximum time allowed by law in order that their attorneys could appeal directly to President Truman.

A jury convicted the two men on a charge of murder on a government reservation after a two-day riot in which two guards and three convicts were slain.
