Pestered Cow Operates Her Own Fly Swatter

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. —(U.P.)— Albert C. Blevins, gentleman farmer, got out his adding machine, figured out how much it costs for Mabel, his cow, to switch the flies off her back and then invented himself an invention.

As a result, Mabel practically is free from flies. She operates a mechanized cow swatter.

Blevins' invention consists of a pad, saturated with an insecticide, which he glues on each flank of the cow. As she swishes her tail, it lands on the pad, picking up the insecticide. The next round of the tail puts the pest into a nose dive.

Under watchful eyes of armed MPs and curious citizens, boxes of new Deutsche marks are loaded onto an Army truck for delivery to bank offices in Frankfurt, Germany. The new money was set up by the three Western Allies to replace the superinflated Reichmark, used since 1923, and now virtually worthless. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Werner Christmann.)

EVERYBODY LIKES FRESH BERRY JAM

Save Sugar and Berries, Get More Glasses This Way

6 Cups Ground Berries (Any Variety)
8½ Cups Sugar
1 Package M.C.P. Jam and Jelly Pectin

Wash, stem and grind 3 quarts fully ripe berries, or crush completely one layer at a time so that each berry is reduced to pulp. Measure exactly 6 level cups crushed berries (add water to fill out last cup, if necessary) into a large kettle. (For Strawberry Jam and Black Raspberry Jam add ¼-cup lemon juice to each 6 cups crushed berries). Add the M.C.P. Pectin, stir well, and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. NOW, add the sugar (which has been previously measured), mix well and bring to a full rolling boil. BOIL EXACTLY 4 MINUTES. Remove from fire, let boil subside, stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars, allowing ½-inch space for sealing with fresh paraffin.

NOTE: If you cannot get paraffin, use the following "hot seal" method: Pour hot jam into pint or quart Mason jars to the brim; screw lids on tightly (use 2-piece lids) and invert jars on lids until jam begins to set. This sterilizes lids. Then shake jars well and set upright. This keeps fruit evenly distributed.

Junction City News

Churches Unite for Relief Plan Using Contributions from Farm

Believing the most extensive plans of the government toward helping Europe onto its feet are not enough, churches across the nation have banded together to aid through a Christian Rural Overseas Program.

CROP'S Oregon director is Rev. M. G. Blickenstaff, Portland, who told a recent assemblage of ministers in Salem that the program is sponsored by Church World Service, Lutheran, World Relief and Catholic Rural Life and accepts gifts "in kind" from American farmers and distributes them to the needy overseas.

Figures

Statistics from a report of commodities handled during April by CROPS' headquarters in Chicago, showed a total receipt of 38,726,273 pounds of produce.

Collection of products for this particular part of the program (dairy and poultry products) will be made during the last week of July, Blickenstaff, whose Portland address is 215 S.E. Ninth Ave., stated.

Distribution overseas is handled through church agencies. Most of the agencies have been set up for some time, and no discrimination is made because of creed or nationality.

Through this program America's farm folks are urged to make contributions in kind from their fields, granaries and livestock pens. Especially needed are whole grains, soy beans, dried fruits, dried and canned meats, nuts, raw wool and cotton.

Contributions may be made through local churches.

WOMEN WANT PEACE

NEW YORK —(UP)— Women all over the world fear war and are trying to promote understanding among nations so that peace can be maintained, Mrs. Ambrose N. Diehl said on her return from a four-month global trip. Mrs. Diehl, president of the National Council of Women of the United States, said she found that the women in India exerted more influence in their country's affairs than the women of any other country she visited.
