

Grandmother, Grandson Wed Sweethearts In Ceremony

MILFORD, N.H.—(U.P.)—A 73-year-old grandmother and her 19-year-old grandson married their sweethearts in a double wedding ceremony this week.

While an overflow crowd of happy townsfolk filled the old gray Baptist Church, Mrs. Lillian H. Brown, who has six children, 12 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren, became the bride of Charles H. Colby, 73.

Simultaneously, her grandson, Arthur A. Hendrickson, Jr., a high school basketball and baseball star who graduated only a few weeks ago, wed 16-year-old Ruth Clark—a junior at Milford High.

After the ceremony, Colby and his buxom bride shook hands with the village elders. Standing stiffly erect and holding his new wife's hand gallantly, the contractor said:

Found Love
"Gents, I've found my love. She was worth waiting for."
At the same time, Hendrickson and his bride were surrounded by a squealing throng of bobby soxers. They bore it casually—easier than their elders. The youth commented:

"Gosh, you'd think you people never saw a wedding before."
Then the brides got together to compare their wedding rings and engage in a bit of woman-talk from which the men-folk were banned. Mrs. Colby's crisply waved gray hair and blue crepe dress drew enthusiastic praise from Mrs. Hendrickson. Vice versa for the young bride's white satin gown.

Future Plans
Mrs. Hendrickson said she'd finish school since Arthur planned to enlist in the Air Corps because he is subject to the draft.

Mrs. Colby figured she and her spouse would remain in Milford and not take an upstate honeymoon like the young couple.

"We'll just relax and enjoy ourselves for a spell and then Charles will have to get back to work. He's a contractor, you know, and there's a lot of building to do and his conscience won't let him loaf."

Two Hangars Burned In Million Dollar Fire
TETERBORO, N.J.—(U.P.)—Two airplane hangars and 50 planes valued at nearly $1,000,000 were destroyed early Monday in a fire at the Teterboro Air Field.

The fire was discovered shortly after 10:30 p.m. Sunday and was brought under control two hours later. A night watchman who tried vainly to put out the blaze was injured slightly when the gas tank of one plane exploded.

Dog or No Apartment

TULSA, Okla.—(U.P.)—A Tulsa couple are so fond of their tiny Pekingese dog, Ming Toy, that they're willing to give up their apartment rather than their pet.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Haynes received an eviction notice claiming that Ming Toy is a nuisance. But they say they'll live in the rear of the cleaning shop where Haynes works rather than give up the dog.

Ming Toy was born in China and was brought to Tulsa by a bomber pilot who gave him to the Haynes. The couple keeps the tiny dog sleeping in a baby bassinnet.

Bells From All Over In Priest's Collection

NEWPORT, R. I.—(U.P.)—Collecting bells from all over the world is the hobby of the Rev. Edward A. Higney, 80, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Father Higney began his collection some 25 years ago with the 50-cent purchase of a small hand bell in Gibraltar. He added another in Paris and after he had bought a third one in Quebec, word circulated that he was a bell collector.

Since then he hasn't paid for a single chime and has received more than 300 bells as gifts from friends, relatives and strangers throughout the world.
