

Swimmers Fill Men's Pool

An unprecedented turnout of Springfield children for Red Cross swim classes has resulted in the use of the University of Oregon men's pool all day, the local Red Cross chapter said this week.

About 250 Springfield children are taking classes mornings and afternoons. In the evening a class of more than 30 adults and young people working on junior and senior life saving badges uses the pool.

Fern Ridge Lake also is furnishing swimming space for enormous classes, the chapter said. School buses are being used to transport the children, since so many registered.

Beginning Monday, a large class will be taught at the Oakridge-Westfir area by Stan Wellborn and Rusty Margo. Both classes will be in the afternoon. Residents of the communities have handled details of the program, arranged for registration, and put a cage in the river for use of beginner's classes.

Ex-Bond Director Dies in Portland

PORTLAND (AP)—Kenneth G. Martin, Oregon savings bond director and former head of the Oregon Blind Trades School, died at his home Wednesday at the age of 54.

Eugene-born, Martin was reared in Salem and once, as a Salem High athlete, established a state high school record for the mile run. He had been in business here many years.

Martin headed Oregon's war bond campaigns in 1944 and 1945.

LABORER SOUGHT

The civil service commission has announced an examination for appointment to the position of custodial laborer at Eugene Post-office. Entrance salary for the position is $2150 a year. The work would be mostly inside. Detailed information and application blanks are available from Postmaster Ethan Newman.

Gallant old 'Nevada' Still Afloat After Tests

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—The battleship Nevada, radioactive survivor of atom bomb tests, still was afloat Thursday after being used as a target in three days of secret-weapon tests.

Pacific Fleet headquarters said the latest weapons had damaged the gallant warship only superficially. The announcement said the Nevada was settling slightly, indicating she was taking some water, but that no list had yet developed.

If the Nevada is still afloat Friday, the battleship Iowa and three cruisers will train their big guns on her.
