THREE POINT LANDING!
The thousands of American airplane mechanics could, no doubt, pilot a used car deal to a perfect three-point landing . . . satisfactory to everyone concerned. These boys know motors—they work with them all day long and they've learned the difference between a true song of a healthy motor and the whine of one just "tuned up." Everyone can't be an authority on motors, but every shopper can judge his dealer so carefully that he'll get a good car——safeguarded by the dealer's reputation.
