

Break, Enter Cases Listed

A series of break and enter cases were reported to city police over the weekend, but the amount of property lost was not appreciable. Officers found on investigation a Kodak camera was taken from the Gerald Huff residence at 1340 Hill and a bedroom cedar chest was forced open by an intruder. Huff called police upon returning Sunday from a trip to the coast. The Broadway Market, at Broadway and Olive, Saturday reported a broken glass in a side door, apparently done by someone attempting to break in. The store, however, was not entered. In another Saturday burglary, the residence of Florence Farmer, 222 Jefferson, was entered and a box of tools was taken. The would-be burglar failed to find any money, however, and did not disturb other valuables. Bill Ramey, 640 Filmore, reported entry of his quonset building Sunday. A check proved that nothing had been taken except cancelled checks of the Ramey and Phillips Construction Co. These later were found hidden in the rear of the building.

Famous Art Show Sought

The possibility that 100 German paintings, seized by the Allies during World War II will be given a week's showing in Portland next January was expressed here Monday by Sen. Wayne Morse, of the Senate Committee on Armed Services. Morse had received a telegram from Undersecretary of the Army William H. Draper, Jr., advising him that the National Gallery of Art director had been asked to change the scheduled tour of the pictures in order to permit a showing in the Pacific Northwest. The captured masterpieces will be shown in Los Angeles and San Francisco this winter, and were originally intended to return to Germany after January showings in St. Louis, Pittsburgh, and Toledo. A Portland showing would delay the return of the art works for about one month, Morse reported, but would give gallery-goers in the Pacific Northwest an opportunity to see pictures that previously have not been available for viewing in this country.

Earthquake Strikes Southern Italy

FOGGIA, Italy. —(AP)—Earthquakes of a few seconds duration set 30,000 residents into the streets shortly after 1 a. m. Monday. No casualties or heavy damage were reported here. But at Ortona, 15 miles south, 70 houses were reported heavily damaged. The Italian Red Cross rushed medical aid and tents to the earthquake area.
