Mail service can be mighty quick, Roy Jenkins of 3007 Highway 99 S., reports. He got a letter Friday mailed one day out at sea Aug. 22 by his friend Arthur Sorensen, 196 Sixth Ave. W., who is enroute to Sweden with his wife. A plane picked up the letter written aboard the Gripsholm and in four days it reached Eugene.

I SAW — on Lincoln St. a small whirlwind pick up three pieces of shiplath which had been nailed into a ten-foot form. The whirlwind lifted the form about six feet in the air. — J. T.

Ray McInnis, Eugene labor leader, was in Portland Saturday while the Oregon State Federation of Labor prepared to name political candidates and issues which the state's labor unions will support this fall. McInnis is a member of the federation's executive board.

Enlistees who signed with the Navy recruiting service in Eugene during the past week include the following: Walter Younger, Jr., Lowell; Irvin Mad-dux, 2585 Evening Drive, Spring-field; Roland Prindel, Mapleton, and Roscoe Baptiste, Cheshire.

Mrs. J. L. Eisensohn, who for 25 years has managed a small hotel at 1165 Pearl, has leased her property to Oregon Colony, Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. The fraternity will take over the property Sept. 1.

Henry D. Fehly, photographer of 850 Eleventh Ave. E., attended the 57th annual convention of the Photographers' Assn. of America in Chicago last week.

Benjamin W. Rutledge, 48, em-ployed at Dorena Construction Co., was in fair condition Satur-day afternoon after suffering chest and hip injuries in an ac-cident at Dorena. He was brought to the hospital by a company ambulance.

The 11 a.m. service at Central Presbyterian Church will be broadcast over Station KUGN, it was announced Saturday. Dr. Henry Marcotte's sermon title will be "What Is Christianity?"

Eugene firemen answered a call about 4:45 p.m. Saturday to ex-tinguish a blaze near the SP right-of-way in Glenwood. The fire, in grass and old timbers, did no damage, firemen said.

The public will be welcome to attend a Progressive Party picnic Sunday at 5:30 p.m. at Skinner Butte Cottage. The supper will be potluck. On the program are games, music and speakers. The party will furnish free coffee and punch.

Frederick A. Cuthbert, profes-sor of landscape in the Univer-sity of Oregon, is attending a symposium on housing research at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. C. D. Parkinson, ear, nose and throat specialist, will open offices Monday at 88 Tenth Ave. E. He took medical training from 1935-39 at the Louisiana State Medical Center and served intern-ship from 1939-41, at the LDS Hospital in Salt Lake and later owned and operated Cordova General Hospital at Cordova, Alaska. Dr. Parkinson received his ear, nose and throat training from 1944-48 at Iowa State Univer-sity Hospital at Iowa City. He is a member of the American Board of Otolaryngology.

Pete Provo, 75, was in the county jail Saturday serving out a $50 fine imposed by the Flo-rence justice court for stream pol-lution. Provo was arrested after the health department investigat-ed reported violations of the sani-tary code involving sewage dis-posal in a stream.

I SAW: The other night, as one of a group of Junior Cham-ber of Commerce members, one of the most appalling, one of the most nauseating things I've seen in my life—the Eugene city jail. In a damp, unlighted, windowless dungeon scarcely large enough for a dozen men to stand in, human beings were lying on the ground like ani-mals. E. R. H., Jr.
