

TWO SECTIONS—22 PAGES

West Resource Debate Rages

Dewey Pledges Development Of Resources

Candidate Prepares Second Major Speech

ENROUTE TO DENVER WITH DEWEY—(AP)—Western water and land development was pledged Tuesday by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in answer to President Truman's charge that the Republicans plan "sabotage of the West."

Following Mr. Truman in Denver, the Republican presidential nominee prepared in his second major speech of the campaign there tonight to talk about "our land as the basic resource of our country's material strength."

The quotes were those of Paul Lockwood, the New York governor's secretary, who told reporters: "The governor will discuss the need to conserve our natural resources and to develop our country for the future. He will pledge an administration that understands our land and water problems and that will keep our country strong as it works earnestly for peace in the world."

Republicans were visibly disappointed that rain "spoiled their plans for an open air meeting in Des Moines Monday night when the Republican nominee called in his first formal speech of the campaign for "a foreign policy based on the belief that we can have peace."

But a howling, whistling crowd estimated at 8000 persons gave Dewey a rousing send-off in the jammed Drake University Field House.

After his speech, the governor drove in an open car around the Drake stadium where an overflow of several thousand persons listened to his talk over a public address system.

Dewey's move into Colorado emphasized his support of William F. Nicholson, GOP nominee for the Senate, who is opposing Senator Edwin C. Johnson, Democrat. His Doctrine

While Mr. Truman blamed the Republicans in his Denver speech for high prices, Dewey contented himself in Des Moines with setting forth a doctrine of his own for the next administration he hopes to head.

In his own words, it was: "Foreign Policy—"I pledge to you a foreign policy based upon the firm belief that we can have peace. That policy will be made effective by men and women who really understand the nature of the threat to peace and who have the vigor, the knowledge and the experience required to wage peace successfully."

Felby photo. Willshire Engraving DR. IRVIN R. FOX

Irvin R. Fox Dies at Home

Dr. Irvin R. Fox, prominent Eugene physician who has practiced in this area since 1922, died suddenly Tuesday morning at his home at 1955 University St.

Described by a spokesman of the Lane County Medical Society as "one of the men who has done the most toward the project of making Eugene a medical center for southwestern Oregon," Dr. Fox was one of the most active local physicians in his profession.

He is survived by his widow, Edyl Frasch Fox, whom he married in Eugene Feb. 2, 1917; three children, Mrs. R. E. Lewman, in Japan; Charles Fox, Eugene; and Don Fox, now interning at Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland; and five grandchildren.

Dr. Fox was born in Oregon City Jan. 25, 1891, educated in Portland public schools, and was graduated from the University of Oregon Medical School in 1921. He interned at Emanuel Hospital in Portland, and entered the practice of internal medicine in Eugene in 1922. His offices were in the Miner Building. Dr. Fox was active in his practice until his sudden death.

A member of the staff of Sacred Heart Hospital, he served for a time as chief-of-staff, and was a member of the State Board of Medical Examiners from 1937 to 1947. He was active in the Chamber of Commerce, serving on the health committee, and also held membership in the American Medical Assn., Oregon State Medical Assn., Central Willamette and Lane County Medical Societies, Northwest Society of Internal Medicine, Portland Academy of Medicine, American Heart Assn. and American Diabetic Assn. He was a fellow in the American College of Physicians and the American College of Chest Physicians, and held membership in Phi Delta Theta social fraternity and Nu Sigma Nu.

Services will be announced from Simon Mortuary in Eugene.

NEARLY 80 HEAD of 4-H Club-raised fat stock will go on the auction block Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Lane County Fair in the grandstand arena. Allene Wheeler, daughter of County Commissioner Allen Wheeler, has her lamb fattened and ready to go. Lane County youngsters have spent lots of time and effort fattening lambs, hogs and steers for the fourth annual sale, and hoping for good prices. Eugene Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the sale.

Warren Heads Into President's Home Grounds

Present Leadership Called 'Shambles'

EN ROUTE WITH WARREN TO ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—Gov. Earl Warren invaded President Truman's home state of Missouri Tuesday amid indications that the Warren campaign axe was about to swing with increased vigor on Democratic Party leadership.

A whooping audience in Tulsa, Okla., Monday night heard the Republican vice-presidential candidate take his first full-fledged swipe at the President. Lambast Talking at Tulsa Coliseum, the Californian lambasted Mr. Truman, as he campaigned from Colorado into Utah Tuesday, accused Republican chairmen of the House and Senate appropriations committees of being ignorant about the problems of the West.

Mr. Truman, after criticizing the Republicans for reducing appropriations for reclamation projects at the last session, picked out as his particular target the Republican chairmen of the House and Senate appropriations committees, Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, and Rep. John Taber of New York.

How Far? "What do they know about the West?" he shouted. "I doubt that either one of them has ever been west of the Appalachian Mountains."

"If the senator was out here on a jaunt of something, he probably didn't know what he was looking at."

The President appeared rested and refreshed after one of his longest spells of speechmaking and public appearances since leaving the White House in his 18-car special train last Friday.

In his brief platform appearance at Grand Junction, he delivered his 27th speech of the arduous campaign tour to date.

After reviewing reclamation, power and preservation of the soil as the "life blood of the West," the President told of this region's "rolling advancement" after the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was first elected.

Wants Big Vote Then he appealed for support of the Democratic ticket next Nov. 2. He cautioned that two-thirds of the people of the United States failed to vote in 1946, in which year the "do-nothing 80th Congress came into being."

Mr. Truman cited the reduced appropriations for western developments brought about by that Congress and asserted the cuts were made "with malice aforethought."

Can't Afford It The Grand Junction audience, the ranks of which were swelled by school children recessed for the occasion, was told that it "can't afford to have a Republican congress and president during the next four years."

Throughout the President's series of eight speeches in Colorado, he urged his audiences to "study the record" and then decide for themselves who should be elected.

The President's major speech Tuesday will be at the huge tabernacle in Salt Lake City at 8 p.m.

AT HIS DESK in Paris' Palais de Chaillot, United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie (left) found the UN in turmoil over the assassination of Palestine mediator Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden. Lie arrived by plane from Norway to place the critical Palestine question before the full membership of the United Nations. With Lie is Andrew Cordier (right) assistant secretary general. The Eiffel Tower is visible in the background.

'I Call You to Peace . . .'

United Nations Gathers Again

PARIS—(UP)—The United Nations, faced with a complete breakdown between the East and the West over Germany, opened its third General Assembly Tuesday on the grim keynote of fear of war.

The temporary assembly president, Juan Bramuglia of Argentina, opened the assembly in the theater of the ultramodern, flag bedecked Palais de Chaillot overlooking the Seine.

Before the leaders of both sides of a cold war which appeared to have reached the showdown stage, Bramuglia said: "We are confronted with a threat of new and dreadful human conflict."

Even as he spoke, the foreign ministers of the western powers, meeting without Russia represented, were weighing the Berlin crisis and apparently preparing to turn it over to the UN.

Bramuglia appealed to all nations to shun force and to abandon all thoughts of resorting to war, even in the cause of re-establishing peace. Obviously with the Berlin crisis in mind, he said: "War as the final point in a phase of disagreement cannot be either the goal of hope or the goal of despair. Influence must be directed in all countries away from the stimulation of warlike energies."

Then he concluded solemnly: "I call upon you to reflect. I call you to peace."

Fifty-eight members of the UN gathered for the opening ceremonies.

Tuesday's assembly session was devoted to opening speeches. Scheduled to follow were organization and elections which would enable the general or steering committee of the assembly to meet soon, possibly Tuesday night.

On the program when finally approved will be some of the world's most critical problems—the Balkans, atomic energy, the former Italian colonies, disarmament, and armed forces for the UN.

But they will fade into the background if the West's foreign ministers decide formally to put the Berlin case on the agenda, either of the assembly or the security council.

Russia will fight long and hard for the thesis that the problems of Germany are problems which fall only within the jurisdiction of the big four.

Morse to Go East Friday

Sen. Wayne L. Morse will leave directly for Washington, D. C. Friday morning, from Ontario, Ore., his office in Eugene announcing Tuesday.

The senator speaks in Klamath Falls Tuesday, Lakeview on Wednesday and Burns and Ontario on Thursday.

His speaking tour on behalf of the Republican ticket will start Oct. 3 with a speech in Chicago. From Oct. 5-12 he will be in Kentucky, from Oct. 13-23 in Massachusetts and later in Ohio and Missouri.

TWO LONG YEARS ST. LOUIS—(UP)—Benson Ford, vice-president of the Ford Motor Co., said Monday night that it will be two years before the auto industry can catch up with its backlog of orders.

Reds Deny Right To Debate Berlin Crisis in Session

Big Four Occupying Powers Must Agree

BERLIN—(AP)—German Communists said Tuesday the United Nations General Assembly has no authority to debate the Berlin crisis.

Obviously mirroring Moscow's views, the Communists said the blockade and allied German problems can be settled only by the four occupying powers—the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

Neues Deutschland, official newspaper of the Soviet-sponsored and Communist-controlled Socialist Unity Party, discussed reported American plans to bring the Berlin issue before the U.N. in Paris.

"Uphold Peace" "The chief problem of our times—the German question—can only be settled by the great powers which are occupying our country," Neues Deutschland said. "It is the task of the United Nations to uphold peace and security among nations. But to construct a peace for Germany is the task only of the Foreign Minister's Council. So it was decided at Potsdam."

The Russian-controlled Berlin press claimed that bringing the Berlin question before the U.N. would result in the "torpedoing" of the prolonged big four conferences in Moscow on East-West differences.

The Russians also charged that Germans are being groomed for the role of mercenary soldiers in a future war against the Soviet Union.

"Criminal Policy" Taegliche Rundschau, official publication of the Soviet military administration, said the "criminal policy" supported by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, "will provoke a new war."

In this war, the paper said, western Germans "will play the role of mercenaries."

Not Interested "The future welfare of the German people does not interest these war mongers as it did not interest the Hitler clique, which allowed millions of Germans to die," Taegliche Rundschau said.

The Berlin city government, forced by riots two weeks ago to withdraw to Berlin's western sectors, charged that the Soviets had snuffed out democratic government in the Soviet sector.

Firemen Plan For Joint Aid

The Lane County Firemen's Assn. Monday night resolved discussions of several months into action and initiated a plan to start area-wide discussions of general disaster preparedness.

With almost 80 fire chiefs and firemen attending, the group voted to promote mutual aid fire protection agreements among all cities and fire protection districts in this section.

Noting that Marion county already has in effect a plan to coordinate all public safety agencies, medical organizations and relief groups, the firemen then appointed a four-man committee to arrange for a general meeting of public officials and organizational leaders to discuss the development of a similar plan in Lane County.

Ray Hicks, assistant chief of the Eugene fire department and president of the association, Tuesday announced that members of the action committee are Marvin Hendrickson, Bethel; Harry Melson, Springfield; Adolph Danielson, Junction City, and E. L. Surfus, chief of the Eugene department.

Hicks explained the firemen do not expect to direct the formulation of the disaster plan. "We know that the Red Cross has a fine disaster organization already standing in readiness," Hicks said. "But we believe that we can help to promote a more general preparedness against all kinds of disaster—in all parts of the county."

"We felt that someone had to take the lead, and that's what we are doing in suggesting the area disaster-plan meeting," Hicks said.

Members of the firemen's association, meeting at the Danebo station, heard a discussion of disaster problems Monday night presented by several members of the state fire marshal's office: Jack Hayes, state disaster coordinator; John Pickett, vocational instructor, and M. G. Gilson, deputy fire marshal.

Baseball . . .

NATIONAL Chicago 600 000 200-2 9 2 New York 000 000 000-2 4 1 Lade & Walker; Jansen & Yvars.

Brooklyn 003 000 030-11 18 1 Pittsburgh 120 100 110-12 18 0 Palleca, Casey (7), Erskine (9), Behrman (9) and Campanella; Lombardi, Higbe (7), Singleton (8), Main (9) and Klutts, Fitz Gerald (8).

St. Louis 200 001 000-3 9 2 Boston 140 005 010-11 14 0 Mungler, Wilks (2); Johnson (6), Hears (1) & Baker; Bain & Masl.

Delightful Confusion

Opening of Fair Set for 7 a. m.

Everything was in a state of delightful confusion at the Lane County fairgrounds Tuesday as workers raced through the crisp fall sunshine to get their displays ready for the 7 a. m. opening of the annual Lane County Fair.

The really enthusiastic fairgoers may arrive as early as 7 a. m. In observance of "Eugene Day" at the Lane County Fair, most retail stores in the city will be closed Thursday afternoon, William Lush, vice-chairman of the Chamber of Commerce retail merchants' division reported Tuesday.

A recommendation that the businesses suspend operations at 1 p.m. has been sent to all retailers by the Chamber of Commerce, Lush said, and the retail merchants' division is urging all citizens to attend the fair.

m., but fair officials hazarded a guess that operations will not get fully underway until about 9 a.m., with judging to begin soon after. Deadline for the acceptance of some perishable goods will be 9 to 10 a.m., they said.

Crowds Expected However, the music, the food and the displays will be ready to entertain and amuse what are expected to be the biggest fair crowds in history, and the Browning Brothers Carnival will swing into high gear at noon.

Big event Wednesday night is the fourth annual 4-H Club fat stock sale, sponsored by the Eugene Kiwanis Club. All Kiwanians will attend and the public is invited. Any individual or firm may bid.

Sale at 8 The sale will begin at 8 p.m. in the middle of the grandstand area, with 23 lambs, 18 steers and 33 hogs going on the auction block presided over by Kenneth Danstrom, Creswell. Danstrom has donated his service all four years of the sales.

The animals will be graded Wednesday morning, and judged, by Kenneth Minnick, aided by Bill McBroom.

The animals have been grown and fattened for the sale by the 4-H Club members of the county, and the Kiwanis Club said the youngsters are not out for spectacular prices. They want a good price, as they have worked hard to raise the stock.

Any person interested in locker meat may bid, and one of the two packing plants will take the stock out to the plant free of charge and process it for them. Business concerns desiring to bid may do so, pay the bid price, and

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

Hollis Elected Chamber Head

Orlando John Hollis became president of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the organization's annual meeting, and in accepting the office expressed a conviction that the chamber should further develop its leadership in civic affairs as well as in the business field.

Referring to the organization's original charter, the dean of the University of Oregon school of law noted the Eugene chamber was formed by "friends of the community" with the express purpose of developing the welfare of Eugene and its environs.

In this thought, Hollis anticipated remarks made later by Senator Wayne L. Morse, principal speaker at the Eugene Hotel banquet meeting.

"I speak only as a taxpayer and a neighbor," the senator told the chamber members and many of their wives, "but Eugene is not the fine place to build a home . . . to raise children that it was a few years ago. You had better do something about it."

72-13 Vote In the chamber's election of new officers, Hollis received a 72-13 ballot victory over John Gallagher, insurance dealer who was nominated from the floor by Clarence J. Brown, realtor. Brown pointed out that Gallagher was president of the chamber when he entered military service. He urged his re-

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)