Personal News of Creswell Families

CRESWELL — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lawton, Sr., and Mrs. Raymond Lawton, Jr., and baby daughter all of Southern California, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Parsons. Lawton, Sr. is a son of Mrs. Parsons and Lawton, Jr. is a grandson. The baby is the first great-grandchild of Mrs. Parsons.

Miss Shirley Harrold, who teaches remedial classes in the Roseburg schools, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Harrold.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bruce have returned from several days with Mrs. Bruce's uncle, Claude Renau, at Oregon City.

Harold and Allen Black of Oregon State College spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Black.

Robert C. Smith of Portland visited over the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith.

Miss Genevieve Thompson is undergoing treatment at a Salem hospital and is getting along quite well.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kerr and sons, Marvin, Vernon, and Keith have returned from Eastern Oregon with five deer. Other lucky Creswell hunters who have returned are Bill Boyless and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dersham.

Monroe Personals

MONROE — First to report here on successful deer hunting is O. R. Oakes of Oakes Grocery here in town. Oakes returned from a hunting trip last week with a five-point buck. He reports "deer aren't plentiful in Eastern Oregon." Mrs. Oakes and their daughter, Janith, were with him on the hunting trip.

O. R. Oakes reports further that the evening they returned here from hunting a beer bottle was thrown from a passing car and broke one of their big store windows.

Ralph Hull and his brother-in-law, Chester Oakes, have gone to Canada on a hunting trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorsuch spent one day last week fishing at Waldport. Mrs. Gorsuch made a fine catch. Gorsuch caught a 30-pound salmon. Mr. and Mrs. W. N. "Bill" Carpenter were also successful at fishing last week and returned with a fine catch of salmon.

Elmer Kester is repainting their house on the outside now. They just finished with redecorating the interior.

Mrs. Lily Halstead is finishing up the outside of her new house in town here at this time with asbestos siding. Everybody is remarking about how nice it looks. Mel Jeppson of Monroe is doing the work.

Mrs. Glenn Witham is leaving Friday of this week for Tule Lake to spend a week there with her baby nephew. Hal Hal's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Halstead. Halstead won his ranch there in a government drawing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Korouah are planning to leave Monroe the latter part of this week to spend the winter in southern California: Los Angeles vicinity.

Word from Steve Naylor says that he will be back in Monroe this week from a visit in California.

P. S. — Your Eugene Register-Guard news box here at Monroe is in Hundley's Market. It held a fine run of RG news items Monday of this week.

The RG news box is for everybody.

Your correspondent, Mrs. Myrtle Stone, appreciates this help. Lyle and Helen Hundley are very cooperative with news work.

Ed Lauderbaugh Lucky At Danebo Again In Pinnacle Club Session

DANEBO — Well, it has happened again! Pinnacle Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bolinger Saturday night and the first hand of the evening was 1500 trump! Ed Lauderbaugh was the lucky holder of this unusual combination. We should say unusual to most people as it has been a very short time since he had it on another occasion.

First prize was won by Carolyn Ingram and second was won by Lauderbaugh.

Good Crowds Attend Noti Community Fair

NOTI — A good-sized crowd attended the community fair last Friday at the church annex, to view the exhibits of vegetables, fruits and flowers and some handwork.

Some real Route F pumpkins, cucumbers, carrots and beets, and a very tall hill of corn did not detract from the remainder of the exhibits which were very good.

The antiques included two 100-year-old Paisley shawls, a doll, quilt, silver spoon, a Bible, several dishes, vases and a coin all 100 years or more old.

The dahlia display, shown by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fox, and the tuberos begonias belonging to Mrs. C. D. Mathews were a show in themselves. Noble Wheeler and Harvey Horn judged the exhibits.

Sale from produce sold, and the supper fund, cleared nearly $40 for the building fund for the church.

Six new pupils entered school this week: Sharon Seiver in first grade; James Seiver in second; Dianna Lusby in fourth, and Jimmy Lusby, Elaine Burlan and Colleen Seiver in the fifth grade.

Mrs. Nella Goodwin, Portland, who has been a visitor at the T. H. Horn home the past week, returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennie Garner and children, and Mrs. C. D. Mathews are at Florence this week for the salmon fishing.

Most of the hunting stories we've heard from returning hunters are about "the ones that got away." However, Keller Inman and Henry Gates, gone only one night to Eastern Oregon, both got a deer. Several parties are going back for a second try.

Quicksand is small, smooth, loose, wet sand into which objects sink easily.

At Danebo

DANEBO — At last the Danebo School is really opened. Buses are really hauling the children to and from school. We hope that soon they will be scheduled to go every place they are needed as they are now too far away for several families of children to use them. The children are double-shifting at present because the new rooms are not completed.

Wednesday, Oct. 20, 2-7 p.m., there will be a special election to vote additional money for the purpose of building and equipping our new high school.

In order to bring about a better understanding of the building program and also to obtain suggestions, a special meeting will be held at Danebo School Thursday, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m. Your attendance will be appreciated.

150 at "Booster Nite"

Approximately 150 attended the Booster night program of the Grange Friday evening. Miss Bertha J. Beck, state Grange secretary, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Howe and Van Groubeck, charter members, were honored with corsages as were Mrs. David Francis, Mrs. Groubeck and Mrs. C. I. Kent, who have been members for 25 years or more. Miss Beck, who has been a member for 45 years was also honored.

Now George'll Have to Go Hunting Again

PLEASANT HILL — Because George Boldus got a deer late in the afternoon, and didn't have a light with him, and it was raining and foggy, so he stayed out all night, the folks of Pleasant Hill had an exciting night, Sunday.

He had planned to be home by 5 p.m. and when he did not arrive by 8, family and friends began hunting for him. Participating in the hunt were state police, George's father, Tom Bennett, and his logging crew, and other friends and neighbors. Just as the "human hunters" were getting an organized search under way at day-break, the lost "deer-hunter" showed up with his deer.

P.S. — Everybody's eating venison.

Willamette ABC

TRENT — Upper Willamette A.B.C. Study Club meets Friday afternoon at the Clair Williams home with Mrs. Myrl Williams and Mrs. Margaret Irvin in charge.

The district meeting of the Three Rivers Girl Scout Council was held Monday in the Tinker Club house, with the Pleasant Hill leaders and committee women as hostesses.
