

Georgia Tech Best on Defense

Brown Takes Top Spot In Batting Down Passes

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—By holding Auburn to a net gain of 65 yards last Saturday, unbeaten Georgia Tech became the defensive standout among the nation's collegiate gridiron powers, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau announced Thursday.

The Yellowjackets, who yielded 69 yards through the air but threw Auburn for a loss of four yards on the ground, moved up from third place in the bureau's defensive ranking as North Carolina State dropped from first to fourth while losing to North Carolina.

With four victories in as many starts, Georgia Tech leads the country in defense against rushing as well as in total defense. South Carolina second.

Vanderbilt, Tulane, Washington and Lee and Auburn have hurled a total of 213 plays against the rambling Wreck, which has yielded a total of 169 yards on 135 running plays and 321 yards of 78 serials. That's an average yield of 42.3 yards per game on the ground and an overall average of 122.5.

South Carolina moved from fifth to second in total defense and North Carolina came from far back to take over the third spot. With Georgia Tech moving from fourth to first in rushing defense, Cornell stepped up a notch to second, replacing Penn State which slumped to sixth. Cornell's record, showing an average yield of 52.5 yards per game to four opponents on the ground, will be severely tested Saturday against Army, whose offensive record on the ground is tops.

Northwestern lost its place as the best defender against forward passes while being bumped from the undefeated ranks by Michigan. Brown took over the lead.

Brown has yielded an average of 32.3 aerial yards to four foes. The yardage allowed per game serves as the basis of ranking in this department.

The last major uncrossed goal line disappeared Saturday when Duke defeated Maryland.

New Pass Leader

Furman, with Paul Stombaugh kicking at a record pace, leads all the teams in the punting department. Stombaugh average is 45.4 yards on 36 punts.

The race for pass-catching honors among the grid stars of the nation, a wide open affair this season, finds a new man out in front today for the fourth time in as many weeks.

He is Johnny O'Quinn of Wake Forest, who caught five forward passes for 117 yards and one touchdown against Duquesne last Saturday.

That ran his total to 20 catches in five games. He replaced Tennessee's Jim Powell, who was shut out by Alabama.

Not only does O'Quinn top the nation in the number of passes caught, the figure on which the NCAB bases the standings in that department, but he also leads in total gains on forward with 254 yards.

The leading scorer among the pass-grabbers, however, is Hal Paul of Miami University. Although he has caught only eight passes, four of them have been for touchdowns.

Garden Puts Money Behind Jacobs' Boys

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The millions of the Madison Square Garden corporation are riding on Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting Club in its boxing war with the Tournament of Champions.

"Full support to the limit of the Garden's resources—which are considerable," was promised the 20th by Ned Irish, the Garden's executive vice-president.

The board of directors of the Garden Corporation lists some of the most important business men in America. Among the more prominent are Bernard Gimbel, Walter P. Chrysler, Jr., James Norris, Floyd B. Odium, John D. Hertz and Sidney J. Weinberg.

"The Garden has no intention of returning to the promotion field in boxing," said Irish. "We feel it is in competent hands. We could not improve in any form whatsoever."

Thursday night the rival Tournament of Champions opens its indoor season with a Tippy Larkin-Charley Fusari 10-rounder at the Jersey City Armory. Welter Champ Ray Robinson has said he'll meet the winner.

Chicago Senior ND Handy Man on Grid

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Marty Wendell, Chicago senior who handles the right guard assignment for Notre Dame, is a handy man to have around a football team. His experience on the gridiron includes play at halfback, quarterback, fullback; center and guard. He cavorted at half and quarter in high school, and he already has won three letters at Notre Dame — at full, center and guard.

HIGHCLIMBER

By DICK STRITE

Rose Bowl hysteria on behalf of the Oregon Webfoots is increasing, despite extremely close triumphs over Stanford, Idaho and USC, and California's high-ranking position in the nation after straight victories over Santa Clara, Navy, St. Mary's, Wisconsin, and last week's 42-0 shutout over an Oregon State aggregation that is considered anything but a weakling.

Oregon fans, for some reason, have been given to believe that if the Webfoots go through the remainder of their Pacific Coast Conference schedule without a defeat—which they should—and California does the same, Oregon will automatically get the bowl bid.

This conception is false. During the past year Orlando John Hollis, Oregon's faculty representative to the conference, moved through the conference a piece of legislation that, all things being equal, would give Oregon an advantage over every conference school with the exception of Montana and Idaho—that in case of a tie in selecting the conference representative to the Rose Bowl, the school having played at Pasadena the least recent would get the bid.

Here's the score on that account: USC played in the 1948 classic, UCLA in 1947, OSC in 1942, Stanford in 1941, California in 1938, Washington in 1937, Washington State in 1931, Oregon in 1920—Idaho and Montana have never played in the New Year's Day "Tournament of Roses" skirmish.

Although there are six "Northern Division" members to four in the south (all ten conference members vote), there is no indication the other five northern schools would band together to put Oregon in the Rose Bowl over California—in case the Webfoots and Golden Bears finish the season in a tie for conference honors. In past years the schools in the north have not necessarily banded with Oregon in legislative matters. Idaho, Montana and WSC can be counted on to cast an Oregon vote—which would mean four against six.

Washington, the "big boy" of the north, has never been a bosom pal of Oregon. . . . and OSC has already indicated that California is the top team on the coast and considering anyone else for the Rose Bowl would be rather silly.

So, you see, the only way Oregon can gain a Rose Bowl bid is to demonstrate its right to represent the conference—by posting impressive victories over WSC, Washington, UCLA and OSC, and beating St. Mary's by a larger score than did California. The Webfoots cannot count on some other conference school doing the job for 'em—by knocking over California.

Right now we would say Oregon has NOT displayed championship caliber of play, with the possible exception of the Michigan game, which was lost 14-0. There has been a decided lack of sustained top performance during the entirety of any one contest. We feel that Oregon is capable of demonstrating its right to be classed as a champ, however.

Dean Hollis reports that while a hurried vote following the final conference games is not so urgent—with the agreement with the Big-Nine—Commissioner Victor Schmidt still continues to furnish each faculty representative with code words for each school prior to the finales, with instructions to rate the ten members in order at the close of the season and wire his office accordingly.

Faculty representatives are free to vote as they please, but it appears likely the majority will first consult either the head coach or the director of athletics before balloting. Hollis, for example, says that he has never failed to cast a vote that did not conform with the final conference percentage standings, and there is no reason to believe that other faculty representatives follow any other method.

Hollis, points out, however, that it has been repeatedly said in conference circles that there is never a recognized "conference champion," but that the vote is made only to select a conference representative to play in the Rose Bowl.

For our money, we'd just as soon have the faculty representatives do the rating. . . . Last week Oregon ranked 36th on Williamson's sheet and USC 40th. . . . The 8-7 Oregon victory kept USC in the same position and advanced Oregon one notch—to 35th in the nation. . . . California is fourth. . . . The Bears accomplished a feat at Berkeley last week—being the first team to stop OSC's optional run-pass offensive without a score since Stanford played a 0-0 tie with the Beavers in the 1946 season. . . . Jim Alken would probably like to know how Pappy Waldorf did it.

St. Mary's and Elmira will both be seeking their second victories of the campaign here Friday night when they meet in a Tri-County League clash at Civic Stadium.

The Saints have lost four well-played games and knocked over Toledo so far this season. Elmira defeated Lowell in the opener. However, the Falcons have scored in every game, and figure to add a few touchdowns to their total Friday.

Also on Friday night's schedule for Lane county fans will be the Springfield-Bend Big-Six League clash at Springfield.

Coach John Young's Millers got battered up a little at Salem, and a couple of the first-line boys may be out of suit against Bend. The Lava Bear's prowess is well known to local fans who saw them knock over Eugene here earlier in the season.

Meanwhile, Hank Kuchera is preparing his Axemen for their first "out-of-town" game of the season at Albany Friday. Albany has an undefeated team, and will virtually assure itself of the Big Six crown if it can get by the Axemen.

Eugene came out of the Corvallis game in top condition, and will have Cece Hodges back to share the fullback duties with Don Siegmund and Jerry Alken.

Cottage Grove will be host to Roseburg Friday night in a game that always has a lot of prestige involved. Bob Dusenberry's boys are undefeated so far this season, and they intend to stay that way. The Grovers are expected to be in nearly "top-condition" following their 38-6 victory over Elmira last week.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Manager Leo Duracher of the New York Giants owed $14 on a speeding ticket. "The Lip" was cited Wednesday for allegedly driving 54 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone. He said he was hurrying home from a golf game to his wife, Actress Lorraine Day, and promised to send $14 bail.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Every time California's Jensen took the ball he made 11.2 yards, and he is sure to be accounted for in the Pacific Coast in rushing.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Two of the University of Nevada's football stars may be flying to Tulsa just for the ride.

Backfield Aces Sherman Howard and Alva Tabor may have to sit on the bench Saturday when their teammates play against Tulsa University because the state of Oklahoma has a law against colored players appearing on athletic fields against white players.

Nevada Coach Joe Sheeketski said Tulsa University officials had reminded him of the law. He said there was no definite commitment made as to the policy to be followed and that he plans to "meet the situation when and if it arises."

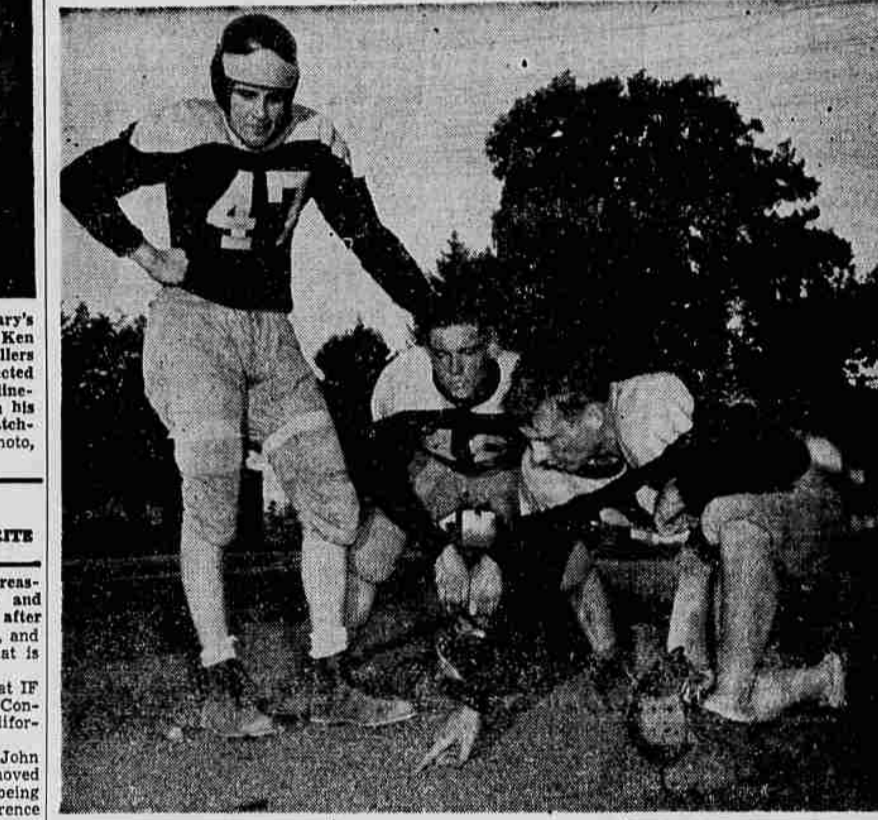

"I want to make it plain right now," said Sheeketski, "that Nevada is not making any rash statements about this issue. I realize that Tulsa must obey the laws of its state and I say unqualifiedly that if we learn in Tulsa that Howard and Tabor can't play, that will end the matter."

"Even though it takes away 10 or 15 per cent of my team's playing efficiency, I'm not going to argue the point. If my boys can play, I'll be happy. If they can't they'll sit on the bench beside me and help dope out ways to beat Tulsa."

Howard is Nevada's first string fullback and Tabor handles the Wolfpack's T-system plays when Quarterback Stan Heath is out of the game.

Betting odds for Saturday's game favor the aerial-minded Nevadans by 20 points over winless Tulsa, loser of four games this season.

Once again, Kenny Warren is expected to carry the ground load, while Bobby Newburn will do the pitching for the Tiders when they decide to take to the air.
