The machine first was put to work in 1898 in Rochester, N. Y. Mechanical voting then was introduced in a few other cities in New York and in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Iowa.

The idea of using a machine instead of a pencil spread gradually from coast to coast. Now machines are used in all polling places in New York and Rhode Island. They are used in half or more of the precincts in Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Florida and Washington, and to a lesser extent in 13 other states.

The voter closes the curtain, looks at the ballot on the machine, pulls down levers next to the names of the candidates he likes. He opens the curtains and his votes are recorded automatically. It takes only a minute or so.

The machines also add up the votes for each candidate. The totals are there for polls officials to read off when the voting ends. Thus counting votes becomes a matter of minutes instead of hours. The result is a much faster flow of returns to tabulating centers, newsrooms and the public.

Japs' Release Pressed by Mac

TOKYO — (U.P.) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur Monday put new pressure on the Russians to get them to send home Japanese whom they have been holding since the end of the war.

In a letter to Lt. Gen. Kuzma N. Derevyanko, Soviet member of the Allied Council of Japan, MacArthur offered to furnish ice breakers and other special facilities to speed the repatriation of Japanese prisoners of war from Soviet held areas during the coming winter months.

Occupation authorities estimated that more than 470,000 Japanese were in Russian areas, of which at least 365,000 were believed to be in Siberia.

Repatriation was suspended by Soviet authorities from December, 1947 to May, 1948 because of "difficult climatic and icing conditions."

The Soviets last year declined an offer similar to the one MacArthur made Monday.

In his letter the American occupation commander repeated the charge that the Soviets had failed for 16 consecutive months to release the monthly quota of 50,000 Japanese established by an agreement signed in December, 1946 between the Russians and the American occupation.

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Six teenage boys were cleared in court of a series of bubble gum thefts. Just because they were standing on the corner chewing gum was no reason for police to assume they had stolen it, the magistrate ruled.

Daily Rolls From Brand New Press

PASCO, Wash.—(AP)—The rapidly-growing Tri-City area, sparked by expansion of the atomic energy plant at Hanford, Monday added another local industry to its list of major expansions.

The tri-city Herald, 11-month-old daily newspaper, published its first edition in its new $100,000 plant in Kennewick using a 24-page-rotary press.

Since changing over from a weekly Nov. 13, 1947, circulation has increased about 400 per cent. Advertising volume has increased similarly.

In planning for their expansion the publishers considered that from the standpoint of postal receipts and bank debits the Tri-City area is now the fourth largest urban market in the state.

Looking forward to completion of the Columbia Basin project, McNary dam, the Kennewick irrigation project and the Snake River dams, the Herald management is preparing to serve an even larger population than is now in the area.

The newspaper is published by the Scott Publishing Co., Ins.

R. F. Philip and Glen C. Lee are publishers and Hugh A. Scott is editor. All are World War II veterans.

After Ten Years, Lost Library Comes Back

PASADENA, Calif. —(AP)— A book, missing from the Pasadena City Library for 10 years, has been returned.

It was found, appropriately enough, in Thieves' Market, Hong Kong, China.

The American Consul-General in Hong Kong, Arthur A. Simpson, discovered the book, a volume from an encyclopedia set, while browsing in the Thieves' Market Book Mart. He noted the Pasadena City College sticker and stamp marks and prepaid its shipment home.

Portlanders Die in Plane

ST. HELENS —(AP)—Two Portland men were killed Saturday when their light plane crashed into a hill between Scappoose and Vernonia during heavy fog and low clouds.

Columbia County Coroner Ben Coleman said Frank Henry Fay, 36, and Wilson Albert Maisel, 30, were thrown clear of the wreckage. They were enroute to the Hillsboro airport on a flight from Toledo, Wash.

Fay, the pilot, was a manufacturer of radio equipment and owned the plane. Maisel was an instrument technician and with Fay had been inspecting installation of electrical equipment at Castle Rock, Wash.

The plane crashed about 4:45 p. m. but the wreckage was not located until late Saturday night after the crash was heard by a resident of Pisgah.

Ask the woman who owns one

By tradition, she's entitled to the last word. So Packard has built it for her!

She might not care whether what's under the bonnet is a "free-breathing" straight eight, or a turbo jet.

But when she praises delightful responsiveness, and the soothing smoothness of Packard power . . . we like it! (What man ever put so dainty a shoe against an accelerator pedal and got such results?)

She might not care whether Packard's superior roadability and handling ease are achieved by advanced engineering, or by happy little gremlins.

But when she tells us that her Packard has the restful riding ease of a limousine, and the finger-tip handling of a tiny tot's stroller . . . we beam!

And when it comes to styling, and tailoring, and convenience features, she's always been the No. 1 authority—and New York's Fashion Academy confirms her good judgment in preferring Packard.

Come in—learn all the reasons why the most enthusiastic "man who owns one" is often a woman!

Packard
