MONROE—Plans for Christmas are already coming in here from women's organizations and churches.

The first pre-Christmas date is Dec. 14. This falls on the second Tuesday, and on this day Monroe's Home Extension Unit are inviting the community women to a Christmas party with Helene DeWitt in her home in her Beauty Shop, 2 p.m.

You are asked to bring a child's gift, suitable in range from the small child to the upper teen-age group, with enough Christmas paper and ribbon or tape to wrap it.

Gifts are for the Children's Farm Home, and will be wrapped.

and boxed as part of the afternoon entertainment.

Preceding the gift wrapping for the Farm Home, Mrs. Hazel Johnson, Monroe HEU chairman, will give several interesting and diversified demonstrations on "Gift Wrapping," individual and group, both for children and adults. Mrs. Johnson says the aim is to give ideas in gift wrapping which we can use in our own home Christmas and gift giving. Her suggestions will also be worked into the wrapping of the Farm Home Gifts.

All community women are urged to attend this meeting. The larger the turnout, the larger will be the Monroe HEU gift box for the Farm Home children.

Refreshments will be served by Lois Lemon and Muriel Koch.
