Religious Movie At Mapleton Soon

MAPLETON—Secrets of nature will be revealed in an interesting religio-scientific film to be shown by J. Ray Swanson, Moody Bible Institute representative, at the Mapleton Evangelical United Brethren Church, Wednesday, Feb. 23, at 7:30 p.m.
In the first sequence of "The God of Creation," space and its galaxies of stars are explored through the telescopes of Mt. Wilson Observatory. Then the wonders of the everyday world are colorfully portrayed. Plants grow and buds blossom in a few seconds by the time-compressing photo technique.
For the third part of his film, Dr. Moon permits the audience to examine the minute perfection of the microscopic world.

INGRAM ISLAND REPORT

INGRAM ISLAND—School attendance was small here last week because of chicken pox and measles. Barney Elder, James McCann, and Bruce McCann have chicken pox. Dorothy Haffner has been quite ill with measles. Jole Fawver was absent all last week with a bad cold. Little Marvin Morse is also ill with chicken pox.
School visitors last week were: the county school superintendent, Mrs. Helen Baker on Wednesday; and on Thursday Clifford George, chairman of the Monroe grade school board of directors, and the new Monroe grade school principal, Lawrence Brent.

Personals

Harold Lister left recently on a business trip to Bakersfield, Calif.
Mrs. Edmund Crowson underwent an operation this past Thursday for appendicitis.
Visiting here recently at the Herman Morse home were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schaffer and his mother, of Portland. Schaffer and his mother returned to Portland, but Mrs. Schaffer remained for a longer visit.

Winter Colder, Animals Bolde

By Margaret Benston
WESTFIR—Folks at Westfir are getting uneasy; the animals are getting "out of hand" in the forests which surround the town since the cold weather. Bears, coyotes and bobcats have been seen cougar tracks abound; there is some talk that the animals may be in league to descend on the place some fine day and run the humans clear out of town.

Overt acts of the more daring animals:

At the Leo Lawson home, one morning last week, Mrs. Lawson discovered a jar of jam had been eaten. She took the matter up with the Head of the House, who steadfastly denied the crime, attributing the guilt to "some rat."
The Lawsons set a trap.
Later that evening, Mrs. Lawson being alone in the house, she heard a noise in the pantry. Rifle in hand, she investigated.
She pointed the rifle at the noise, and gave it the works.
The criminal turned out to be: A skunk.

The experience of the Lawsons however is overshadowed by the prolonged struggle with the malevolent animal insurrection, in which the Howard Wessner family is now engaged.

The beavers have got 'em.

The gnawsome little animals have destroyed fence after fence, as fast as the Wessners can build fences. They have eaten all the chickens' winter kale out of the garden, and felled a big tree in the chicken yard with evident intent to smash the chicken house.

Thereafter they went next door to the Harry Anthony home where they did eat or cause to be eaten each and every one of the strawberry plants belonging and appertaining to the said Harry Anthony family, and they did thereafter sneak up to the window of the Anthony bedroom, at the hour of 3 a.m. and did then and there cut down a tree. Furthermore they stood their ground boldly and refused to desist even when shoes and alarm clocks were thrown, and retreated sullenly under cloak of darkness only when Mr. Anthony got up and attacked them with a double-bitted axe.

VIDA—Not only Westfir, but VIDA has been alerted to the possibility of an animal uprising. Roy Benston of VIDA recently reported seeing his two dogs, two cats, and a wild skunk all snoozing together in the sun, in his back yard. Fears are therefore being entertained that the domestic animals may join the incipient conspiracy, and it is hoped that the idea does not spread to such sizeable animals of the rugged McKenzie country as cows, horses, deer, cougars, bears, and elk.

Benston had another unnerving experience the other day while feeding the birds in his back yard; a China pheasant marched right up to his feet and attempted to unlace his shoes.

FRANKLIN—In this community residents are watchfully waiting. It is felt that in a locality where a set of deerhorns can be found some 50 feet up in a fir tree, most anything can happen.

Editor's note: This looks like an opportunity for a dog to bite a man and make news.

GARDEN CLUB

WESTFIR—The election of two officers and the selection of a date for another public card party were the main items of business before the recent meeting of the Westfir Garden Club.
Mrs. Marion Kilbreath, who expects to move from this community soon, tendered her resignation as president. Mrs. M. L. Hendricks, vice president, will assume that office and Mrs. E. J. Cole was named to succeed Mrs. Hendricks. Mrs. Ernest Correa was elected to fill out Mrs. Ralph Hinkle's term as treasurer. The latter resigned at the December meeting, but the vacancy was not filled at that time because of the small attendance at the meeting.
Saturday evening, Feb. 19, the date selected for the club's second public card party.

Mrs. W. D. Holst, ways and means chairman, will again head the committee making arrangements.

Mrs. John Hough, secretary, made a detailed report of the district Garden Club meeting held in Junction City. The local group was complimented by the state officers in attendance on the progress made since its organization last fall. The club has three new members, bringing the total to 23. The members voted to order two gardening magazines for the club's library.

Creswell Meetings

CRESWELL—Lions Club meets at the Civic Club house Monday evening Feb. 14 with the Camas Swale Club serving the dinner.
The postponed meeting of the Camas Swale Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Ted Fering Tuesday, Feb. 15 with Mrs. R. F. Scott assisting.

Veterans of Foreign Wars meets at the Odd Fellows Hall Tuesday evening, Feb. 15. The Auxiliary will join with the VFW in an oyster-feed preceding the meeting.

The Cub Scouts will hold a pack meeting at the Grange hall Tuesday evening, Feb. 15. All parents and friends are invited.

Mrs. Loren Westrope will entertain the FL Club at her home Tuesday evening, Feb. 15.
Odd Fellows meet Feb. 16 at 8 p.m.
Womens Society for Christian Service of the Methodist Church meets for a covered dish dinner at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 16 at the annex. Mrs. L. A. Whitney will lead the lesson and Mrs. C. I. Kent will be in charge of devotions and her topic will be "Hawaii and its people."
Presbyterian Ladies Aid meets with Mrs. Conan Olson Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 16 with Mrs. William Thomson assisting. Mrs. M. P. Hoover will be in charge of devotions and the roll call word will be "honor."
Rebekahs met Wednesday evening and planned an evening of games to be held in March with their families, and the Odd Fellows and their families as guests.
The district convention was announced for March 10 in Junction City with the Creswell lodge presenting the memorial service.
It was voted to ask each member to contribute one dollar toward the linoleum fund. The linoleum will be purchased and laid on the floor of the hall kitchen as soon as the weather is warm enough to assure a smooth job.

Mrs. Arthur Mogstad and Mrs. Etta Hockett will serve refreshments at the Feb. 23 meeting.

HAPPY HOURS CLUB
BAILEY HILL—Happy Hours Club of Bailey Hill meets with Mrs. C. W. Anderson, Stewart Road, Thursday, Feb. 17, at 1:30 p.m. Members doing stencil painting are to bring their materials and others their needle work. All members are to bring gift suggestions. Members may bring guests.

WIN AWARDS
ELMIRA—A "Court of Honor" was held for Elmira Boy Scouts Monday evening at the Grange hall.
Bob Buehler and Alvin Shields were given Class two awards and Roy and Leland Tucker and Keth Phillips received Tenderfoot awards.
Louis Spink and Emmet Belcher Jr. are hauling hay to Coos Bay. They started on their second trip Tuesday evening, taking five tons, and have calls for two more loads.
