Hemlines Battle Waged by Stylists At Fashion Shows

By Barbara Bundschu
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Macy's and Gimbel's split today on the coming length of a skirt, but either way you look at it, there'll be no revolution in Herald Square or the average wardrobe.

Thirteen inches from the floor, guessed Macy Stylist Marjorie Schlesinger, will be about right for the rest of the year.

Fourteen inches, said Gimbel's Terry Mayer.

The man conducting the game for the fashion group said Macy's won by 3-10's of an inch. He got his answer by polling three dress-makers and averaging them out at 13 5-16's.

But none of the people in the hem business would advise the American woman to re-mark her hems with a hair-splitter. A larger sampling of designer opinion shows them lining up strong on both sides of the 13-14 inch mark—and leaving it up to the customer.

The 14-inchers are few but potent, led off by prize-winning Hattie Carnegie and headline-hitting Christian Dior.

The 12-to-13 inchers have numbers on their side, a lot of good big names. They've both got arguments.

Fur Designer Esther Dorothy figures it's a good thing if skirts come to the calf because then "if the stocking twists, it is above the calf and out of sight."

Pauline Trigere, who plugs for 13 1/2 to 14-inch hemlines, says she wouldn't raise those either, particularly in winter, "when we're cold."

Jo Copeland sticks to her 11 1/2 to 13 inch figure because it has "a very sane elegance."

Nettie Rosenstein advises American women: "Judge with your eye on the mirror, not by a news column."

Board Asks Rail Employe Return

ST. LOUIS—(U.P.)—A presidential fact-finding board Monday asked operating employes of the Wabash Railroad, on strike since last Tuesday, to return to work pending study of the dispute of the board.

The three-man board opened the hearing at 10 a. m. in the federal building to hear the issues involved but Joseph A. McClain, Jr., Wabash counsel, said that under the Railway Labor Act the strikers should go back to their jobs.

Chief Justice R. J. McDonough of the Utah Supreme Court, presiding over the board, said he and the other two members of the panel agreed with McClain.

McDonough then called a short recess to give both the Wabash and the four striking brotherhoods time to study the advisability and means of getting the 3500 strikers back on the job. Union representatives said they would consider the request.

HISS TRIAL ADJOURNED
NEW YORK — (AP) — Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind Monday adjourned until April 11 the trial of Alger Hiss, former State Department official indicted for perjury by a spy-probing grand jury.

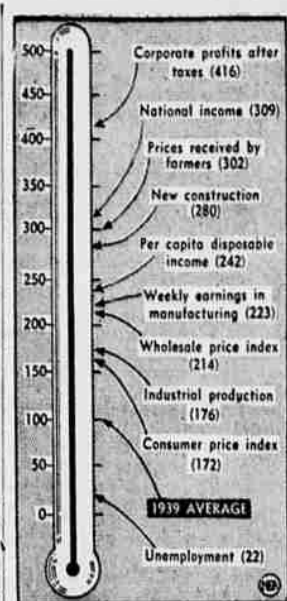

Chart above shows the percentage of increase in 1948 of leading economic factors over the 1939 average, which is considered as 100 per cent. The only major decrease was unemployment, according to the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

U S Steel Plants Face Rail Strike
PITTSBURGH —(U.P.)— U. S. Steel Corp. plants in the Pittsburgh district Monday faced a threatened strike of 2000 union railroad employes over working rules.

Conductors, brakemen and switch-tenders of the U. S. Steel subsidiary voted overwhelmingly in favor of the walkout as negotiations between the railroad and officials of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen reached a stalemate.

OEA Confab Opens
PORTLAND—(U.P.)—Three thousand educators are expected here Thursday through Friday for the annual Oregon Education Assn. convention.

Nationally prominent educators from Maryland, California, New York, Chicago, Tennessee and Texas are to speak at the sessions planned for various city schools.

Cecil W. Posey, association executive secretary, said Frank B. Bennett, superintendent of the Salem Public Schools, will address the general assembly.

Clark F. Bartholomy
Clark F. Bartholomy, 41, Drain, died Saturday as the result of an accident. He was born March 15, 1908 at Drain, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartholomy, pioneer settlers. He lived there all his life, and at the time of his death was engaged in the sawmill business with his brother, Oliver.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Cora Bartholomy, Drain; his widow June; a daughter, Myron Fay; a son, David Lester; three brothers and a sister, Homer D. Bartholomy, Portland, Oliver C. of Drain, Milton W. of Independence, and Mrs. Thelma Sundberg, Roseburg.

Services will be announced from Stearns Mortuary in Oakland, Ore.

WIFE STILL 'CRITICAL'
Mrs. June Bartholomy, 38, Drain, who was injured in the same train-car accident that killed her husband Saturday morning, was reported still in critical condition at Sacred Heart Hospital Monday. Clark F. Bartholomy died soon after he was admitted to the hospital.
