County Helps Family Home

County Judge Clinton Hurd Wednesday handed the Clifford Owens family $50 from the county emergency fund and started them on their way to Missouri.

Judge Hurd took interest in the family last week when he learned that the three children were sleeping in the family car while the parents, unemployed, and without housing, were sleeping on the ground near the Ferry St. Bridge site.

Wednesday morning, his desk covered with maps, Judge Hurd helped Owens outline his route, figured out a tentative budget, and wished them godspeed on their pilgrimage back to Missouri, where Owens figured he would stand a better chance to find a job.

Said Owens, "I'm afraid Oregon is not the promised land."

School Children Exams Required

Parents of children entering the first grades of School District No. 4 have been reminded by Dr. Madeline Marr, school health head, that physical examinations required by Oregon School law must be given to their children before school opens, Sept. 12.

A special week has been set aside by school health authorities for these exams. Children can be examined at any time before school opening by private physicians, but free examinations will be given to children entering the first grade of district 4, from July 25 through noon, July 30.

Persons living in the district who desire school authorities to conduct the examinations may make appointments by calling school offices, Eugene 4-4229.

Dr. Marr reported Wednesday that only a few persons have made these appointments to date, and warned that unless more exams are scheduled soon, children will meet enrollment conflicts when school begins in September. Certificates of required health examinations must be presented at time of registration.

Officers Cool Too—New Uniforms Arrive

SPRINGFIELD — City police were cool and comfortable Tuesday—and it wasn't just because the temperature had dipped into the 70's.

Officers and patrolmen were sporting new lightweight shirts, steel gray in color with dark blue shoulder tabs. Chief of Police Clell Pryor said the shirts had been ordered by the city to replace old worn-out shirts.

wheat ranch in Sherman County, Ore. He built his home at 1264 Villard in 1924, and lived in Eugene continuously since 1928.

He had been playing his musical bells before civic groups for about eight years, his son said Wednesday, but before that he had already established a reputation locally with his chimes.

Besides his two children, he is survived by four grandchildren and one sister, Aurelia DeMoss of Eugene.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church, Spencer Butte I.O.O.F. Lodge No. 9, Eugene Lions Club, Willakenzie Grange, Wisconsin Club, Sons of Union Veterans, Iowa Club, Rebekah Lodge, University of Oregon Alumni Assn., and the Springfield Pioneer Club.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the First Baptist Church, with Dr. Vance H. Webster officiating. Veatch Hollingsworth England Mortuary will have charge of funeral arrangements and burial at Westlawn Memorial Cemetery.

Cars Damaged At Overpass

An accident involving two cars at the Willamette Park overhead crossing on Highway 99 South was reported by state police Wednesday.

A car owned by Clinton E. Dilbeck, Rt. 1, Cottage Grove, was sideswiped by a car traveling south and operated by Eugene M. Graves, Yakima, Wash. The accident occurred at 7 p.m.

Graves did not stop after the accident, but continued on and was apprehended by state police at Cottage Grove. He was cited for reckless driving after a complaint was signed by Dilbeck.

Graves was evidently not too agreeable at a hearing before Judge John Wells, justice of the peace at Cottage Grove, for he was placed in contempt of court and committed to the Lane County jail.

Construction Underway On New River Span

Construction was underway Wednesday on the new half-million dollar bridge which will link the new highway with Eugene's fast growing suburbs across the Willamette river.

Contractors crews are moving earth and setting up a derrick in the initial stages of construction.

Meanwhile, the county is still negotiating with property owners for right of way for the approach on the north side of the river. The bridge is being financed by the county with money already on hand from a special levy voted by the people.

Math Twisting Picks Cherries

Glenn Owen, Rt. 1, Cottage Grove, has combined skillful cherry-picking with a bit of mathematics to top all previous champions.

In a letter to the Onion Editor Owen relates that in a clocked five minutes he picked 23 pounds of cherries. Projecting that figure, Owen finds his rate for one hour would be 276 pounds. That rate sustained for eight hours would total 2208 pounds of cherries, he reports.

Owen has been duly entered in the Onion Editor's record book as present title-holder in the five-minute cherry-picking spurts.

At to the eight-hour record, the book still stands.

Mr. Owen will probably agree that cherries, still on the tree, are sort of like trout, still in the stream. You have to have them in the bag before you can count them.

More Heat Due In Midwest

CHICAGO — (AP) — More hot weather is in prospect Wednesday for wide areas from the Rockies into the Southeastern states.

Temperatures of above 100 are forecast for parts of Oklahoma and in the 90's for most of the Southwest. The mercury touched 103 at Wichita, Kans., Tuesday and was in the 90's over much of the Great Plains and Eastern Rockies. Highs of 100 were general in Northern Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Chadron, Neb., and Fort Smith, Ark., each reported readings of 100.

Band Concerts Planned Again

Joint sponsorship plans of the Active Club and the musicians' local, it appeared that Eugene would be without a public band concert series this summer. The municipal band ceased to exist at the end of June after the city budget committee cut the municipal band appropriation for the new fiscal year from $2400 to $425.

This was done through discontinuance of all payment for bandsmen's services and members of the organization chose to disband rather than play without any reimbursement for their expenses and talents.

Selection of the Eugene band to play again at the state fair came as a result of competition in which two fulltime professional Portland bands were entered. As it did last year, the fair contract award marks the band directed by Stehn as the outstanding organization of its kind in the entire state.

Burglary Reported In East Side House

J. S. Moriarty, 162 Taylor St., reported a burglary at his home Tuesday evening.

The thief entered a window by removing a screen and once inside proceeded to pull the phone from the wall. A portable radio was stolen, but nothing else of value was in the house since it is new and has not yet been furnished.

Conscience Clear—If Check Clears

A 25-year-old troubled conscience finally got the upper hand of its owner.

The University of Oregon business office received in Tuesday's mail, a $10 check from a former student, a coed who attended the university during the early 20's. The check, the writer indicated, was to pay for a blanket and some knives and forks she had lifted from the campus dormitory during her student days.

The wrong, she said, has been on her mind since, and she wanted it rectified.
