Yearbook Gives Statistics On The Church in American Life

NEW YORK, July 23 — More Americans—better than one out of every two—are church members than at any time in history, according to the Yearbook of American Churches, published by the Federal Council of Churches this week.

Pointing out that 150 years ago only one person in fifteen was a church member, Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, general secretary of the Council, observed that the annual rate of increase while behind earlier decades, is running slightly ahead of the country's population.

The most recent estimate of the nation's population is placed at 148,000,000. The Yearbook's compilation of church membership based on latest figures from all sources is approximately 76,000,000.

"On the surface at least, the United States appears to be a religious country," states Dr. Cavert.

In round numbers there are 45,000,000 Protestants; 25,000,000 Roman Catholics; 5,000,000 Jews and 1,000,000 Eastern Orthodox.

He acknowledges that a wide discrepancy exists between church-membership and church-going in America. He points out that recent surveys of typical communities indicate that on any Sunday, except Easter, only 30 per cent of those on church rolls attend a service.

"Any thoughtful observer," he comments, "would detect a disturbing discrepancy between the size of churches and their influence on American life."

The 76,000,000 church members are split among more than 250 separate and independent church bodies listed in the Yearbook—a fragmentation peculiar to the United States.

The number of diverse denominations, Dr. Cavert says, is not as serious as it looks. Ninety-seven per cent of all church members are found on the rolls of the 50 largest denominations and eight denominational families embrace 80 per cent of all Protestants. These eight groups are Baptist, Methodist, Lutheran, Presbyterian and Reformed, Disciples, Episcopal, Congregational and the Evangelical United Brethren.

The great diversity in religion in the United States, Dr. Cavert points out, springs primarily from two factors:

The great diversity of the population and the emphasis on religious liberty.

"The various emigrations from the old world to the new brought religious traditions with them. All of the divisions found in all of the countries of Europe were domesticated in a single nation. Religious fecundity also was encouraged by the fact that this country had no established church, no political pressure was exerted upon religious conformity and all the churches could expect equal treatment from the national government."

The merger of three bodies to form the Methodist Church, the union of the Evangelical and the United Brethren and the recently approved union of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church are among the most noteworthy of 14 unions in the past 40 years, Dr. Cavert points out.

The 1949 Yearbook is the 19th biennial issue edited under the auspices of the Federal Council of Churches. It was edited by George F. Ketcham and is published by the Sowers Printing Company of Lebanon, Pa. It is a compendium of general information and statistics concerning the churches in America.

"The CHURCHES OF CHRIST salute you"

IS THERE A HELL?

Although the preaching of hell is not a popular subject, it is, nevertheless, a Bible doctrine. Some disrespect the word of God and hence deny that there is a hell. Some proclaim merely a social gospel, and others delight in saying: "God is too good to send folks to hell." Do not be deceived. Just as certain as there is a heaven, there is also a hell. Hell is a reality!

MATTHEW 10:28

"And be not afraid of them that kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell."

II THESSALONIANS 1:7-9

"And to you that are afflicted rest with us, at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven with the angels of His power in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them that know not God, and to them that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus: who shall suffer punishment, even eternal destruction from the face of the Lord and from the glory of His might."

The following Churches of Christ in this community welcome you to attend all of their services
