Minnesota Doctors' Decision To Advertise Declared 'Bribe'
WASHINGTON — (P) — A decision by Minnesota doctors to advertise in the newspapers stirred up a hot dispute this week between the physicians and backers of President Truman's health insurance program.
The Committee for the Nation's Health, a private organization supporting the President's program, called the action "an open bribe to the press of the state" in the battle against health insurance.
Quick Denial
The doctors promptly denied that. So did a spokesman for Minnesota publishers.
The flare-up was touched off by a statement issued here by the committee for the Nation's Health, which is headed by Dr. Channing Frothingham of Boston.
"In its fight against national health insurance and the other measures of the Truman health program," the statement said, "the American Medical Association's $3,500,000 lobby is throwing overboard one of the essential standards of strict professional integrity which has been observed at a tradition through the years to protect patients from quacks and commercialism." The committee added:
Declared "Bribe"
"The wording of the resolution (passed by the doctors) made it clear that the sacrifice of medical ethics was being offered as an open bribe to the press of the state."
In Minneapolis, R. R. Rosell, executive secretary of the Minnesota State Medical Assn., denied that, adding:
"If we wanted to deliver a message to the public, we couldn't expect the newspapers to carry it except on an advertising basis."
Allan McIntosh, president of the Minnesota Editorial Assn. and publisher of the Luvaine (Minn.) Weekly Star Herald, said:
Termed "Absurd"
"The whole thing is so absurd it's hardly worth commenting on. There is no deal as far as Minnesota editors are concerned. We haven't solicited the doctors in Rock County for advertising and I doubt whether doctors in other counties have been approached by newspapers."

Quartets Plan Parade Oct. 8
The most unique display of harmony talent ever presented in Eugene has been scheduled for October 8 under sponsorship of the Eugene Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America, Inc.
Frank Graham, general chairman of the event and a member of the two-year-old Eugene society said that plans are going ahead for the quartet parade since authorization was received from the society's international headquarters in Detroit.
Preliminary queries show that at least 12, and possibly 16 of the most accomplished barber shop quartets in the northwest will be on hand for the public parade. Woodrow Wilson Junior High School has been secured for the one-night event.
Tickets will go on sale Monday at the Appliance Center, or may be obtained from any of the 48 members of the local society.
Among outstanding quartets which already promised to be on hand are the Barbary Coasters of San Francisco, and quartets from Port Angeles, Tacoma, Mt. Rainier, Portland, Newberg and Klamath Falls.
The parade will be invitational. Art Campbell, president of the local chapter, reported. Other local committee heads are E. C. Murphy, R. U. Bronson and R. E. Hillyer.
Currently the Eugene society has three full-fledged quartets, which have been much in demand at various civic and organization events.
